Bride Is Tar Heel Native:

Miss Vidi James, Authur Johnson Say "I Do's" In Solemn New York Rites

BY PETE MOEDEN
NEW YORK — Charming Miss Vidi James and Authur Johnson of this city were united last month during a simple ceremony which took place in New York City amid an atmosphere of elegance, dignity and solemnity.

Terminating a story-book style, a romantic courtship, which on occasions, over the past three years, led the happy couple to the nation's major cities along the Eastern Seaboard, where they played in society circles, the newlyweds, confidentially informed this writer, that "we are settling down now and plan to make some wise investments."

The bride was radiant as she stepped lively down the aisle in a beautiful ankle-length gown of ice-blue imported chantilly lace with fitted bodice, sabrina neckline and pearls and iridescent.

On her head the bride wore a queen's crown of seed pearls that held a finger-tip veil of fine silk tulle. Her corsage was decorated with white orchids and stephanotis. The groom, standing ramrod erect, was a picture of distinction as he appeared in appropriate wedding attire.

Reception "Out Of This World" — Upwards of two hundred guests attended the wedding reception, which in its own right as the writer Keats would describe, was "a thing of beauty." The reception was held in New York's Club La Chose, on Sunday evening, February 19th, between the hours of 6:00 P.M. and 10:00 P.M. Guests hailed from Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, Washington, Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Detroit and California.

The bride is a native of Fayetteville, N. C., where she attended public schools. She was graduated from Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C., and plans to do graduate work in this city next fall.

The groom is a native of Miami, Florida where he attended public schools, was graduated from North Carolina A&T College of Greensboro, and is presently working out of the Supreme Headquarters of The Allied Powers in Europe (SHAPE), where he is Education Director in the Public Relations Department.

Fayetteville Sets Founders' Day Celebration For Apr. 20

FAYETTEVILLE — The annual Founders' Day Celebration at the Fayetteville State Teachers College is set for Sunday, April 20, according to Dr. Rudolph Jones, President.

Indications are that the occasion will draw alumni and former students en masse who wish to see the improvements that are being made in the prediction made by Orlando F. Hudson, principal of the Leonard Street School in High Point, North Carolina, and President of the General Alumni Association.

Dr. J. Ward Sesbrook, President Emeritus of the College will be the principal speaker. Dr. Sesbrook served the college for a period of 34 years—eleven as dean and twenty-three as President of the College.

A full program of activities has been planned.

Secretary Of State Dulles Rejects Passport Application Of W. Worthy

NEW YORK CITY (AP)—The passport application of newsman William Worthy, Jr. disclosed Friday that Secretary of State Dulles finally had rejected that a suit to regain the passport promptly will be filed in the Federal District Court charging that the Secretary's action violates the right of freedom of movement and infringes on freedom of the press.

ACLU executive director Patrick Murphy Malin released the text of a letter from Dulles to Worthy's ACLU appointed attorney, William Kunstler of New York City, upholding the Board of Passport Appeals decision not to renew the Baltimore Afro-American reporter's passport. Worthy had visited Communist China and Hungary in 1956 despite a State Department ban on travel to those countries.

In approving the Board's ruling Dulles said that he believed Worthy would not abide by the Department's travel restrictions in the future and "accordingly, I have concluded that his activities abroad, at this time, would be prejudicial to the orderly conduct of foreign relations of the United States."

Dulles asserted that the travel ban had been imposed to implement U. S. foreign policy and that Worthy had disregarded the government's position by using his passport to travel to and in Communist China and Hungary.

EASTER BEAUTY — Beautiful flowers, symbolic of the Easter season, bloomed in profusion at A&T College last week. Janet Ramsey, Jackson, N. C.; Joyce Moragne, Charlotte, N. EASTER WEEK CALENDAR

MONDAY
Jesus challenged his opponents by driving the money changers and others from the outer courts of the Temple. Revenues from the money changers benefitted the Temple. No wonder the authority of Jesus was questioned at this time. St. Mark said, "The Chief Priest sought how they might destroy Him."

TUESDAY
Jesus remained in the Temple courts all day, answering opponents, suggesting in parables that God was about to reject the Jews. Matthew said that Jesus uttered scolding denunciations against the Scribes and Pharisees. The saying of Jesus, which is reported in John XI, 19, "Destroy this Temple," seem to have been misunderstood and misrepresented in a previous manner.

WEDNESDAY
The Jewish authorities were definitely determined to bring about the Lord's death one way or the other. However, they dared not to indict Jesus for having committed an offense against the Roman state. To have done so would have made them traitors throughout the Jewish world, because all orthodox Jews hope for deliverance from Rome. Hence, they sought to discredit Jesus in the eyes of the majority of the pilgrims by showing that He was a criminal under Jewish law, and then convince Pilate that he was a criminal under Roman law. On Wednesday, Jesus did not enter Jerusalem.

THURSDAY
Thursday evening Jesus celebrated the Passover with his disciples. Judas' betrayal enabled Caiaphas to arrest Jesus quietly at a fixed time, and He was brought at midnight before a group of prominent Jews in the High Priest's palace. It is interesting to note that St. Peter ventured to enter the entrance to this hall.

About the only charge that they were able to bring against Jesus was an avowal that He claimed to be the Son of God, and Caiaphas contrived to obtain this testimony before witnesses of impeccable character. By a vote the Sanhedrin pronounced Him "a man of death." But the meeting adjourned and no sentence was passed.

FRIDAY
At daybreak a second trial was held by Caiaphas for the purpose of accusing Jesus on a new and different charge. Jesus was brought before Pilate and charged Him as being dangerous politically, but knowing that he could not rely on Jewish public opinion, Caiaphas soon accused Jesus of calling Himself "King of the Jews."

SATURDAY
The body of Jesus lay in a tomb, the opening of which was closed by a large stone. Guards were on duty.

SUNDAY
Early in the morning as friends of Jesus came to visit the tomb, they found the stone rolled away and Jesus had risen from the dead.

Library Lists New Films For Adult Borrowers

The Richard B. Harrison Public Library has the following films available for adult borrowers through April 18.

DEATH OF SOCRATES — 27 min. 399 B. C. in Athens, Greece Socrates faces death because he refuses to renounce his beliefs. The dramatic example of man's age old fight against ignorance and prejudice.

FOOD FOR PARIS MARKET — 20 minutes. How large cities depend upon productive rural hinterlands to supply them with food, the lesson presented in this film. Paris is easily reached from all parts of the country, and equally fortunate. France has within its borders many areas of fertile land and can feed the people of Paris and the rest of the country.

KING OF THE RIVER — 11 minutes. One of nature's most exciting visual story of the salmon. Development of this king of the river from spawn to full growth makes a fascinating film record.

LIFE IN A GARDEN — 13 min. A description of the varied animal insect, and bird life of a typical suburban garden. Many close-ups of the life and habits of such creatures as the load katydid, bumblebee, Japanese beetle, garden slug, spired, chipmunk, ribbon snake, wren, oriole, robin, cardinal and many others.

REMEMBRANT VAN RLIN: A SELF PORTRAIT — 27 minutes. Not only the people and events of Rembrandt's life but his feelings about them and about himself are clearly revealed in his sketches, self portraits, and paintings. They provide both a graphic biography and a record of his work and time.

THEY PLANTED A STONE — 27 minutes. The dramatic story of how the immense desert of the Sudan was transformed by the harnessing of the waters of the River Nile into rich country, and how this achievement was brought about. Hassan, a Sudanese, tells the story of his own life and contrasts it with the exciting possibilities which science and cooperation have opened up for his grandson and the other young people of today.

Twenty-Eight A&T College Student Nurses Capped

GREENSBORO — Twenty-eight student nurses at A&T College, members of the sophomore class who have completed pre-clinical training, were recently awarded caps in the annual Capping Exercises. It was the largest group to be honored in the five year history of the School of Nursing.

Rev. Melvin Chester Swann, former pastor of the local Bethel A.M.E. Church, recently transferred to the St. Joseph's A.M.E. Church in Durham, delivered the main address.

Taking his text from the Bible quotation, "He went out into a mountain to pray and came down with them."

He said that the mission of Jesus required him frequently to come down to meet the needs of mankind. "You will have missed the mission of this institution if you fail to go back to the communities from which you came for service to humankind," he said.

He told the young nurse trainees that tomorrow will demonstrate what they have learned in the "academic" classroom and they must initiate the "Christ in community" in meeting and solving those problems for which they are being trained.

Rev. Swann cautioned "Christ has called you, individually, to come down from the ivory towers of sheltered lives for dynamic and consecrated service to man."

He was introduced by Mrs. Naomi W. Wynn, dean of the School of Nursing.

Three students, members of the class who had made outstanding achievement, were given awards. Beatrice Adderley, Boynton Beach, Florida, was presented the Dr. C. C. Stewart Memorial Scholarship Award, for highest over-all average given by the Greensboro Medical Society and presented by Dr. F. E. Davis, its president.

Murdis James, Egg Harbor, N. J., received the Greensboro Academy class who had made outstanding performance in medical-surgical nursing. It was presented by Dr. W. D. Farmer, its president.

The "Most Promising Student" Scholarship given by the Moses H. Cone Women's Auxiliary, was won by Lily Pendavis, Columbia, N. C. and was presented by Mrs. Robert Taylor, president of that group.

Each of the students was presented a New Testament by Mrs. Howard Sutherland, Bible secretary representing the Auxiliary of the Gideons International.

The class was formally presented by Miss Helen Brown, instructor in Nursing. The caps were presented by Mrs. Wynn. Congratulations were offered by Sylvia Overton, Elizabeth Club, president of the Teloc Club, a student nurse organization and were accepted by Miss Adderley.

Other students who received their caps included: Janice Black-
