

CC Student Wins Wall St. Journal Prize

DURHAM — Cleveland Vestey, business major at North Carolina College, has been named recipient of the Wall Street Journal award for his ability to interpret financial and business materials appearing in the WSJ and other publications. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Vestey, Sr., of Lenoir, N. C. The presentation will be made at NCC's annual Awards Day program on May 16 in the Men's Gymnasium. Vestey will receive a specially designed silver medal and one year's subscription to the WALL STREET JOURNAL.

Two Shaw U. Science Majors Win Wilson Fellowships For Study

Two Shaw University students who are science majors are winners of Woodrow Wilson Fellowships as has been announced by the program's national director, Richard C. Boys, a University of Michigan associate professor of English.

The fellowships made possible by the Ford Foundation have been awarded to Miss Della Lewis, a senior of Littleton, majoring in chemistry and Howard Pritchard, a senior of Greenville, a biology major. The awards are for one year and carry a stipend of $1,400 in addition to tuition. Miss Lewis plans to study at Temple University, Philadelphia, in inorganic chemistry.

Pritchard plans to study at the University of Pennsylvania and to continue his studies in the biological sciences. Both Miss Lewis and Pritchard are members of Alpha Kappa Mu and Beta Kappa Chi, both national honor societies.

The winners this year were selected from 6,000 nominees after recommendation by members of the academic profession. Nominees were selected from 15 geographical regions of the U. S. and Canada by nearly 100 regional committee members. Final selections were made by the national selection date school deans and two liberal arts professors.

Hold Court In Ambulance For A 400-Pounder

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Curb service was provided by officials of the recorder's court last week in trying the case of a 400-pound invalid, charged with possessing non-tax paid liquor. The defendant, Candy Hooten, was brought to the court house in an ambulance. Invalidd by his weight, Hooten could not make the rest of the journey into the courtroom, so judge and prosecuting attorney carried the court to him in the ambulance. He was convicted of the charge, but a sentence of four months was suspended—no doubt his weight might have cost the city more than it normally pays to keep an average man in jail.

Seed selection is one of the important steps in successful crop production. Stop guessing and start testing for the amount of fertilizer needed to grow crops.

AWARDED FELLOWSHIP — Reverend C. A. Hood, instructor of Biblical Literature in the Theological Seminary at Johnson C. Smith University has been awarded a fellowship by the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. to do graduate study at the Boston University School of Theology for the school year 1958-59. Reverend Hood is one of fifteen, known as "Presbyterian Fellows", to receive such fellowships. He is a graduate of the College of Liberal Arts and Theological Seminary of Johnson C. Smith University.

"Little Richard" Peniman, Ex-Rock, Roll King, Tells Why He Turned To Evangelism

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — "Daddy sold whiskey, while sister prayed," stated Elder Richard Peniman, the former rock 'n roll king as he told approximately 2,500 persons at Bethany Seventh Day Adventist Church, "Why I Gave Up Show Business for God."

While organ meditations were played, a humble, quiet, reserved, "Little Richard", stood in prayerful meditations. Minus the processed hair, the huge diamond and the swaggering walk, this columnist was asked, "Which one is 'Little Richard'?"

VOICE SOFT, MIKE TURNED UP
As he began to talk his voice was so soft that the mike had to be turned up, a far cry from his screaming of the blues, and he answered all questions asked of him.

The only time a hint of the showman came through was, when he held over the loudspeaker, that to all of those who were on the outside he would give another program following the one at 7:30 so that all of his Montgomery friends could get a chance to shake his hand.

"A double-feature", said Eld. E. J. Humphrey, pastor of the church, "EVERYONE, PLEASE BE QUIET."

"I want everyone to be very quiet, as you are not here to see a rock 'n roll king but to see Jesus", began Eld. Peniman, as he prefers to be called.

He astounded the audience when he requested that all disc jockeys cease playing his records and that the audience stop dancing to them. That, inasmuch as he, the creator of them could give up fame and millions of dollars, for Jesus, the least, they could do would be to "stop dancing their way to hell, listening to them."

Stating the attitude of his relatives, he said, his brother Charles stated, "You are a fool, all of your friends will disown you and will have nothing to do with you."

Something to Sing About!

As you look about during these early spring days, think of the advantages you have to sing about. You'll probably see new playgrounds and parks. Perhaps Main Street has a new look following a general "face-lifting" project. In the residential area, notice the results of a clean-up and beautification program. If a lack of accomplishment in your town doesn't inspire you to song, there is still time to join in the chorus. Now, during these early spring days when all things seem to take on new and renewed life, offer your energy toward the completion of the many improvement projects in your town. In over 100 Finer Carolina towns right now the projects for this contest period are reaching the final stages. Your interest and aid could be the factor which would cause your town to win honors in the competition. Join the chorus of thousands of other Carolinians who are singing the praises of their cooperative effort to build A Finer Carolina.
