

"Cheer Up Pretty One!"

Raleigh Musician, Author Write Tune Which May Become Big Hit

Two Chavis Heights residents have collaborated and apparently come up with what is destined to be a hit tune.

Irving D. Fuller of 8 Granville Terrace and Walter B. Allen of 3 Granville, have turned the tune, "Cheer Up Pretty One" over to two disc jockeys for their appraisal and for the opinion of the public. J. D. Lewis of WRAL, Raleigh, and Jimmy (Dr. Jive) Byrd of WSRG, Durham, have both played the tune on their programs.

The song, written by Fuller with Allen penning the lyrics, was waxed by Remo Records of New York City at its Durham office and is scheduled to be in the music stores in this area some time this week.

On the flip side is "Buss Me On The Telephone."

Fuller is a native of Raleigh. He attended the Raleigh Public Schools and is now a sophomore at North Carolina, Durham, where he is pursuing a course in music.

He has been composing music for six years and some of the lyrics for his songs were written by his brother, Otis Fuller, of the U.S. Navy.

Fuller, who plays both the trumpet and the saxophone, has been the leader of five bands during the past ten years. His current group is the Chorvettes, an instrumental and vocal aggregation.

Allen, who hails from Middleburg, N. C., is a graduate of the State School for the Blind and Deaf. He is the author of a book of poems, "Moods On Parade," which was released to the public in 1954.

He is married to the former Miss Juanita Atkinson of Four Oaks and they are the parents of a daughter. Allen is blind.

All comments on "Cheer Up Pretty One" have been favorable. The number was recorded by the Chorvettes with Fuller doing the vocals.

NY Anti-Bias Law Gets Its First Complaint

NEW YORK — (ANP) — The first complaint under the city's anti-bias housing law was received by the Commission on Intergroup Relations last week, just six days after the law became effective.

The complaint was registered by a white man who charged religious discrimination prevented him from renting a Manhattan apartment.

The law makes it illegal to refuse to rent private housing to anyone because of race, creed or color, with the exception of one and two-family homes—unless they are in groups of 10 or more.

After the commission, headed by Dr. Frank S. Horne, screens and establishes validity of the charge, it will seek to reconcile the complaint. Should this fail, a formal hearing is held by a three-member commission members. Should further solution fail, the case is then reviewed by a three-member board from a 12-member panel appointed by the mayor. The commission may then take the case to the state supreme court.

'I Have No Intention Of Resigning,' White Pastor Tells Segregationists

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — (ANP) — The Rev. Phillip M. Gresham, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, seems to have weathered the storm raised over his plans for integrated youth meetings this summer. He is still rector of the white congregation and appears to have no intention of resigning.

The vestry sent a protest to the Rt. Rev. William H. Marrison, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Southwest Virginia, protesting the rector's plans for mixed meetings of white and Negro young people. The protest, in the form of a resolution described the minister's plans as "illegal and unwise."

The rector's first reaction was a determination not to leave his church. "I have no intention of resigning," he said.

Alcohol's Effect On Common Cold Is Listed As Helpful

CHICAGO (ANP) — Alcoholic beverages are helpful in fighting the common cold—at least in the early stages.

This was reported by Dr. Noah D. Fabricant, Chicago otolaryngologist, in the current (March) Archives of Otolaryngology, published by the American Medical Association.

Dr. Fabricant said, "Although consumption of alcohol is obviously not a cure for the common cold, its beneficial role in some persons can neither be minimized nor dismissed."

Alcohol has long been a popular remedy for warding off colds after chilling or exposure in inclement weather. It increases blood circulation, provides warmth and comfort, induces drowsiness, and promotes a desire to rest.

According to Dr. Fabricant, "Once acted upon, the decision to rest in bed can serve a most useful purpose. Rest in bed diminishes the severity of the common cold, limits its spread to others, and reduces the frequency of complications."

But alcohol is valuable in fighting a cold in still another way.

A cold is preceded by a lowering of the temperature in the nasal passages and a constriction of blood vessels within the nose. The passages then become dry and the defense against the cold is weakened. This paves the way for acute infection, the doctor said.

The prime intent on discovering a cold in its early stages is to restore the nasal passage to its normal state. This can best be done by raising the temperature of the membrane.
