"MISS A&T"—Miss Felecia Black, Greensboro, a rising senior at A&T College, was last week elected "Miss A&T" for the coming year. A former WAC, Miss Black is an honor student in Biological Science and is a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

S. C. E. Hervey Evans of Laurinburg, R. M. Hane of Winston-Salem, Verne Rhoades of Asheville, and H. B. Robinson, L. V. Sutton, W. H. Wenterspoon, Alexander Webb and W. L. Yoder, all of Raleigh.

The directors in turn selected all company officers. They are: Sutton, president; Wenterspoon, vice-president and general counsel; Robinson, vice-president and general manager; J. C. Richbert, Jr., C. S. Walters and A. E. Jones, vice-presidents; Yoder, secretary; and R. S. Mallison, assistant; Carpenter, treasurer, and H. T. Buchanan and H. I. Seeley, assistants.

Veach succeeds C. S. Walters director for the past 32 years. Mr. Walters tendered his resignation from the board for reasons of health, but continues as vice president of CP&L in Asheville. He came to Asheville in 1923 as general manager of Asheville Power & Light Co., and was named CP&L vice-president and director when the company was merged with CP&L in 1926. CP&L's largest hydroelectric plant on the Pigeon River is named in his honor.

Old North State Dental Society Plans 39th Meet

DURHAM — The 39th annual meeting of the Old North State Dental Society will be held here at North Carolina College, June 3-5. According to Dr. James F. Cameron, Kingston, N. C., president of the organization, the meet will draw 300-odd persons, dentists and their wives, members of the Women's Auxiliary.

Dr. R. E. R. Lovell, formerly of Howard University, now chairman of the Department of Operative Dentistry at Tufts University, Boston, Mass., will serve as chief clinician at the three-day convention.

Other prominent dentists scheduled to present scientific papers include: Dr. Nicholas Georgiade, associate professor of Plastic and Oral Surgery, Duke University, Durham, and Dr. Richard E. Richardson, associate professor, Department of Oral Diagnosis and Treatment Planning School of Dentistry, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

The sessions get underway on Tuesday morning at 11:00 o'clock and conclude on Thursday afternoon.

Meeting concurrently with the Old North State Medical Society, the dentists and their ladies will be feasted at several social functions, including a reception on Tuesday evening at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Grandy, a luncheon and bridge party for the ladies on Wednesday afternoon and a dinner dance at the Algonquin Club on Thursday evening.

The Women's Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. B. W. Hawkins, Warrenton of the dental group, will hold sessions beginning on Wednesday morning.

John Veach Named Director Of CP & L

John B. Veach of Asheville was elected to the board of directors of Carolina Power & Light Company last week. Veach is president of American Forest Products Industries Inc., Williams-Brownell, lumber company of Asheville and several other firms.

At their annual meeting, stockholders also reelected the following directors: Hargrove Bellamy of Winston-Salem, Raymond A. Bryan of Goldsboro, B. B. Carpenter of Raleigh, James L. Coker of Hartsville, and Milton B. Creen of Sumter.
