

AME's Urge Ike To Back Court's School Rule With "Positiveness"

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (ANP) — Enforcement of the desegregation decision of the U. S. Supreme Court "with firmness and positiveness" was urged on President Eisenhower in a resolution adopted at the Virginia AME Conference held here recently.

The resolution, criticizing Mr. Eisenhower for his "patience" advice to Negro leaders at the recent summit conference, said "firmness and positiveness are needed in this chaotic hour." The resolution read in part:

"Whereas, we are akin to the prophet Habakkuk in our yearnings, we, too, cry from our watch towers of life, 'O Lord, how long must we wait?' From the depth of our despair we hear the voice of our President urging us as a race to be patient."

"How long must right be relegated to a subordinate status in order for our leaders to pacify a few demagogues who have taken as their standard the bombing of churches and synagogues, this in-limitation of human personality and the ruthlessness of economic pressure?"

Pointing out the waning role of America as a world leader, the resolution said: "Some men and states have placed themselves above the authority of our federal law in order to preserve their vested interests. When we focus our attention on situations such as Little Rock, Ark. and Jacksonville, Fla., we see that men in our country are exemplifying the epitome of in-fidelity."

"When it becomes necessary for federal troops to enforce law and order, the principals upon which our country was founded have been totally disregarded. In our state we are threatened with the total breakdown of law and order because our governor apparently will not enforce the law. The doctrine of 'massive resistance' has no place in a democratic society. We denounce this whether it be in word or practice."

"We . . . unequivocally endorse the decision of the Supreme Court and call upon the President to enforce this decision with the firmness and positiveness that is needed in this chaotic hour . . ."

"The best place to look for a helping hand is at the end of your arm."

Morgan's Commencement Speaker:

'We Must Learn To Live Together As Brothers, Or We Will Die Together As Fools:' Dr. M. L. King

BALTIMORE, Md. — "We must learn to live together as brothers, or we will die together as fools." With these prophetic words, Martin Luther King, Jr., addressed 201 Morgan State College graduates that the "new order" of integration and equality requires that they learn to love even those who have "bombed and trampled" them.

The 29-year-old minister, who successfully waged a year-long non-violent boycott of Montgomery, Alabama's segregated transit system, delivered the commencement address here Monday, June 2, to those who have "bombed and and received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws for his victorious "campaign of love."

Embracing the new age with "understanding and good will in our hearts" is one of the things colored Americans are challenged to do "if we are to make the ideal of democracy in America real," Dr. King declared.

"The world is already geographically one; now we must make it spiritually one," he declared.

This does not mean, he explained, that one must like those who have "trampled on you for so long," but it means "in the way of Christ, having redemptive love which seeks nothing in return." And he said:

"We must fight for first class citizenship, but we must never use second class methods. On, I know what the temptation is . . . Those of us who have had to stand amid the violence of lynch mobs and bombings are tempted to hold bitterness in our hearts. 'But somebody must have sense enough to cut off the chains of hate, and to meet hate with love. If we meet violence with violence unborn generations will suffer a long and desolate night of bitterness.'"

And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? — (St. Luke 6, 46.)

The Lord Jesus Christ, our blessed Savior and Redeemer, expects us to do our part—to read and seek to understand His teachings in the Bible, to have faith and trust in Him, to love and obey Him —

Garden Time

If you will be traveling this summer, you may want the locations of some of the rose test gardens in North Carolina and neighboring states.

North Carolina: All-America selection trials located on the student horticultural laboratory farm near Meredith College; Raleigh Municipal Gardens at the Little Theatre; Sunnyside Rose Garden, Charlotte; Tennessee: Werner Park, Chattanooga; Eastern State Hospital, Knoxville; Overton Park, Memphis.

South Carolina: Tumbler Park, Florence; Edisto Rose Gardens, Orangeburg; Fairfield Memorial Garden, Winnsboro.

Georgia: Ida Mason Callaway Gardens, Chipley. This is a beautiful place and has a wide variety of plant materials, especially holly.

It will soon be time to take cuttings from such plants as azalea, holly, rose, box and many others. Late June is usually best but a more positive guide is to take the cuttings after terminal elongation stops and the plant tissues begin to mature somewhat.

The cuttings should be three or four inches in length and removed from the plant with a sharp knife. Early morning is the best time to take the cuttings and, preferably, during cool rainy weather. Keep the cuttings moist and set them in the rooting medium without delay.

A good rooting mixture can be made from equal volumes of peat and sand, well mixed. The sand should be clean and sharp sand alone can be used but peat will increase the water holding capacity of the sand.

A growing frame, or structure of some kind, will be needed so that the plants can be protected from drying winds and direct sun, by shading. An electrically-heated hotbed will be found most useful around the home because it can also be used as a cold frame. They are not very expensive. If you are interested, write the Agricultural Extension Service, N. C. State College for a copy of Information Series No. 8, Electrically Heated Hotbeds, or visit your county agent.

TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS

QUESTION: Why is it so important to graze, or cut pastures on time?

ANSWER: One important reason is that disease-producing organisms are removed with the top growth and must start over on the new growth after grazing or cutting. On the other hand, delay in grazing or cutting permits disease organisms to build up, causing severe leaf spotting, stem blighting, general defoliation and stand depletion.

QUESTION: Does it help to grind poor quality roughage or make it more appetizing with molasses?

ANSWER: It helps get the stuff into the cow's stomach but that's about all. It passes through the cow's digestive system too rapidly to get maximum benefits and runs up the cost of the roughage feeding program by failing to increase returns equal to the grinding cost. Also, cows often eat too much poor roughage when it's ground and dressed up with molasses even though better quality feed may be available.

QUESTION: How can I control Johnson Bermuda or quackgrass?

ANSWER: Dalapon or a material sold as "Downon" which contains 83 per cent dalapon is recognized as a most effective treatment. Other materials such as sodium TCA and sodium chlorate can also be used under some conditions. A warning: Keep a close check on perennial plants scattered on row crop lands, and treat these spots now before they get worse.

1958 artificial breeding in North Carolina showed a 20 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Figures show that dairymen using frozen semen can expect a conception of rate from 3 to 5 per cent higher than with liquid semen.

ANOTHER FIRST FROM ESSO RESEARCH

ATOMIC RESEARCH CREATES A NEW KIND OF GASOLINE!

How the science of atoms solved a problem!

One of the most important applications of industrial atomic research to date is the creation of a completely new premium gasoline, New Formula Esso Extra. For the first time, atomic science was used to identify the elements in gasoline which form injurious deposits in your engine. Next, brand-new refining procedures were used which remove these components during the refining process. This has made possible an entirely new kind of premium gasoline — another first from Esso Research!

How this benefits your car — your pocketbook:

Under all around driving conditions, you'll find New Formula Esso Extra outperforms other premiums costing 1¢ and 2¢ more. It is the cleanest premium you can buy. It actually reduces deposits left in your engine, gives more mileage per dollar, and better performance over the whole wide range of gasoline values. We believe that New Formula Esso Extra will change your ideas about premium gasoline performance. Try it soon for "Happy Motoring"!
