

AMEZ Church School Meet Is Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The general committee, headed by Dr. J. W. Eichelberger, in charge of arrangements for the National Church School Convention and National Youth Council A.M.E. Zion Church which will meet here at Caldwell Temple, July 20-25, announced that quite a few national leaders will address the convention.

The list begins with Governor Ornel, who will address the entire delegation at a huge meeting which will climax a mass demonstration of Christian Fellowship. A. J. Taylor, National field director of Interfaith Service, Boy Scouts of America will also address the body. Mr. Taylor is a native of North Carolina and has been active in scouting since 1919.

Dr. Aaron Brown, Brooklyn, N. Y., well-known educator and religious leader is scheduled to appear. It is expected that he will keynote the convention on the program "Religion and Christian Education." Jackie Robinson, whose interest in the youth of America has well been manifested, will discuss recreation and other phases of youth activities.

E. Frederic Morrow, aide to President Eisenhower is also on the program. Others are: Dr. Roy A. Burkhart, Senior Minister, First Community Church, which has a membership of over 5000. He has been director of the Young People's Work, United Brethren Church in Christ.

Dr. Jerome D. Folkman, spiritual leader of Temple Israel, will also speak. Dr. Folkman has made considerable contribution to the religious life of the nation. He is a celebrated author and has been cited many times for outstanding service.

Dr. A. E. Iverson, National director of Protestant Relationships, Boy Scouts of America, will tell how the church and the Scout movement can coordinate their work. Other well known national and church leaders are expected to be on hand. Their names will be announced later.

WINNER TO LEAD DELEGATION — As a result of having placed first in a Popularity Contest, Miss Lou Ella Sinclair, far left, will lead a delegation from Trinity A. M. E. Church, Greensboro to the Christian Education Convention in Columbus, Ohio, July 20-25. Above, Miss Sinclair is being congratulated by Dr. M. P. Sawyer, minister of Trinity A. M. E. Zion Church, as Mrs. Celeste Fearington, third from left and guild's sponsor of Miss Sinclair, and Mrs. E. A. Fearington, far right and largest single contributor to the contest, look on. Proceeds of the contest will be used to pay the expenses of the delegation which will also include Misses Harlene McCollom, Patsy McLennon, Carolyn Glover and Rachel Fox. Mrs. Rebecca Smith and Mrs. M. P. Sawyer, wife of The Reverend Sawyer, will accompany the group — (LEE PHOTO)

Edward Galbreath, Fayetteville Heads Methodist Youth Council

GREENSBORO — Edward Galbreath, of Fayetteville, was elected president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship Council just prior to the closing session of the week-long Methodist Youth Assembly at Bennett College here recently.

He succeeds Miss Hilda Withers, of Pine Hall, vice-president of Cool Springs, Thelma Wright, secretary of High Point, and Willie Mae Waugh, treasurer, of Fayetteville. Elected to the new office of Assistant secretary was Gladys McLaughlin, of Raeford.

Named committee chairmen were the following: Christian Faith—Carolyn Wright, of Shelby, Christian Outreach—Frank Parker, of Smyre; Christian Witness—Warren Behea, of Maxton; Christian Citizenship—Edith Mayfield, of Winston-Salem, and Christian Fellowship—Maxine West, of Greensboro, the last two for their second terms.

According to the Rev. G. E. Hogans, of Lumburg, who acted as dean of the assembly, the 144 persons present represented the largest number to attend in the history of the North Carolina Conference.

In addition to the classes and workshops, there were interest groups in arts and crafts, music, worship, fellowship and dramatics. Heading the arts and crafts group was Miss Leila Havelock of Maxton. There were also courses for counselors and a variety of recreational activities.

Nation's Funeral Directors To NY For Annual Convention

NEW YORK — O. F. Chiles, president and secretary of the National Funeral Directors Association and Robert H. Miller, general directors and morticians associations said morticians and their families will travel from all parts of the country to attend the Association's 21st Annual Convention. The meeting will be held August 4-7, 1958 at the beautiful Hotel New Yorker in New York City.

'Create Race Without Prejudice' Dr. Mays

ATLANTA — (AP) — Speaking on "Religious Systems in the Space Age," Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president, Morehouse College, told an Atlanta university summer school audience that the chief responsibilities of religion and education are to create a people who want peace and a race without prejudice.

However, Dr. Mays said that civilized society has failed to effectively advance the theory: "do unto others as you would have them do unto you." He said the principle does not diminish with progress. "It is as good in a bow-and-arrow age as it is in our present atomic and hydrogen age," he pointed out.

Dr. Mays blamed the failure to shoulder responsibilities on poor and demagogic leadership. "Of all the people in Arkansas who need regeneration, none needs it as much as Gov. Orval Faubus," he asserted.

The automotive displays featured this year are the very latest in design and performance. Those attending the displays will find a complete line of equipment necessary for effective and efficient service.

All Morticians and Funeral Directors from the New York area have been invited to attend what promises to be one of the most extensive demonstrations of funeral equipment held in the New York area in several years.

This year the Educational Committee will feature a daily program, "Educating Morticians for Funeral Service in the Space Age."

In addition to these feature attractions are other outstanding highlights. On August 5, John H. Johnson of Johnson Publications will be featured as the key speaker at the Annual Award Banquet. Jackie Robinson will participate in this program and Mrs. Jennie Morris of Philadelphia, Pa., will be honored as the outstanding "Woman of the Year" by the National Funeral Director and Embalmer magazine.

A parade down the Hudson by the light of the silver moon will be the drawing attraction on Wednesday.

To close this four day meet the guests will don formal attire for the President's Ball, which will be a harvest style with many stars of top billing providing the entertainment.

The Host Committee is providing baby sitting service so that parents may bring the little ones and enjoy themselves in the many planned activities.

FATHER, SON GRAND MASTERS — A father and son dynasty in freemasonry was honored recently when Mrs. Mary McGriff Bell, grand worthy matron, Order of Eastern Star of Louisiana, Prince Hall affiliation, presented a bronze plaque of the late John G. Lewis Sr., grand master since 1942. A brother, Scott A. Lewis, was grand master from 1932 to 1941. Under the Lewises, the Prince Hall Masons of Louisiana have grown into a half million dollar concern, not counting assets of subordinate lodges. — (ANP)

State Urged To Block New Levittown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Appeals to both the Federal government and the state of New Jersey to intervene and halt the proposed construction of an all-white Levittown community on a 4,000-acre tract midway between Trenton and Camden, N. J., came from two different sources last week.

Locally, Sen. Clifford P. (R-N.J.) sent a letter to FHA Commissioner Norman Mason reminding him that the proposed $15,000,000 home development clearly intends to violate the state's law and policy against discrimination, and reminding the commissioner that "FHA has the responsibility to withhold mortgage commitments until it is affirmatively satisfied that Mr. (William F.) Levitt will not follow his announced policies in regard to this development."

Levitt announced recently that the project would be for "white only." Sen. Case said that if the FHA ignores Levitt's own statements, "it would be tantamount to assisting in violating the state law and policy, and the policy of this administration."

In New York the American Liberties union petitioned the New Jersey attorney general to withdraw state approval of corporation charters granted Levitt. The organization asked that the charter be vacated and the license of the corporation be suspended "to prevent the use of the New Jersey corporation laws in aid of this illegal scheme."
