Oklahoman Visits Tarheelia

ROCKY MOUNT—Mrs. Blanche P. Clardy of 831 N. E. 5th Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, spent several days visiting her cousins, Rev. and Mrs. K. P. (Annie Wimberly) Battle, 814 N. Raleigh St., on her first visit to the Tar Heel State.

Mrs. Clardy was returning home following a visit to her sister, Mrs. Evelyn La Rue Pittman of White Plains, N. Y. Mrs. Clardy teaches in the Truman School of the rich Oil Capital City. She is also prominently connected with the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority. She was the recipient of several social courtesies while here.

Little Carl and Ethel Shelton Beatty of Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y., are enjoying the fresh Carolina air as they spend the month of August with their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hunter, 217 West End Street.

Mrs. Melva Costen and Children visited her family in Spartanburg, S. C., while the Rev. J. H. (Omaha) Costen helped the Rev. Ulysses Leventt, J. C. Smith theological student-minister, fight the dualism—a revival-homcoming week of services at Logan Presbyterian Church near Taylorville. There were six additions to the church, Mr. Costen reports.

Dr. J. W. Black is reported as resting comfortably at his home—411 Atlantic Avenue, following an illness which out short his recent vacation.

Mrs. Mary Gornam Butler, Greenville beautician, reports an enjoyable trip to the international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses held in New York City.

We found tailor George O. Jackson of Greenville enjoying his brief bachelorhood while Mrs. Fannie P. Jackson, Georgeline and George Jr. vacation in Connecticut.

Mrs. Ethel Walton Daniels has returned to Tarboro and Wilson following an extended vacation in Kingsport, Tenn., with relatives.

Mrs. Clardy Feted

Among those assisting Rev. and Mrs. K. P. Battle in honoring their relative and house guest, Mrs. Blanche P. Clardy of Oklahoma City, Okla., were Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Pitt, Church Street, Tarboro, who had Mrs. Clardy as a dinner guest; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, who entertained at a watermelon cutting; Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wimberly were hosts at a breakfast; and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse

James and Mrs. Nannie Wimberly Wright were hosts to a Sunday dinner.

The following made up the guests list at the Monday morning brunch given by Mrs. Battle: Mesdames Mary L. Backus, Cleo Home, Catherine Johnson, Myrtle Lewis, Mattie Bowens, P. W. Burnett, Ethel Hunter, Lendora Brown, Sarah Leonard, Helen Gray, Marguerite Armstrong, Eval L. Wimberly, Madie Harris, Nicholas, Julia Y. Sessoms, Thressa Pittman, Jimmie Edwards, Sallie Armstrong, Lula W. Reeves, Annie B. Creech, Ethel Bryant, Martha B. Townsend, Opal M. Parker, Julia P. Foster, Marguerite P. Wimberly, Miss Katie Bunn, all of Rocky Mount.

Also, Mrs. Minnie G. Woodley, Mrs. Lonna P. Loyd and Mrs. James Grant of Tarboro, N. C. The honoree won the high score at bridge and Mrs. Bowens won the second highest score. Guest prize also went to the honoree—Mrs. Clardy.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Woodley of Tarboro entertained in honor of Mrs. Clardy at their home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Clardy left via plane on Thursday for Oklahoma City, leaving behind many pleasant memories of her visit in the hearts of new-found friends in Tarheelia, with the hope that she carried with her similar memories.

Mrs. Clardy is the great niece of the late Edgecombe County State Senator Dred W. Wimberly. Granddaughter of his sister, Mrs. Harriett Pittman (Tammill).

Saved University Of N. C.

Dred Wimberly is remembered as the colored State Senator, whose vote once broke the tie in favor of a $15,000 appropriation which saved the then struggling University of North Carolina from closing for lack of funds.

History records that Senator Wimberly, remembering that the president of the UNC, Dr. Kemp Battle, his former slave master, had plead hard for the funds, cast the deciding favorable vote to save the institution during the Reconstruction era.

Children of Senator Wimberly now living are: Mrs. Annie W. Battle, John Wimberly and Allen Wimberly, all of Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Elizabeth L. Haughton, 1831 N. Van Pel Street, Philadelphia, Pa., arrived Sunday to spend a few days with her father, John L. Harrison and family, of Johnboro, Route 3.

Goldsboro News

By J. H. GRAMM

GOLDSBORO — Prof. H. R. McCallahan, on his recent tour of the Southern States, was an honored guest at the Colonial Villa and Lodge, Cape May, New Jersey, that place that he worked for fifteen years during summers. This was his means of furthering his higher education. Now he holds the Master's degree in education, Agriculture, and a Principal's certificate.

He was received with a most cordial welcome by the general manager and others connected with the Villa who commended him for the old Colonial spirit. He enjoyed being with Mr. John Walker, chef, formerly of Goldsboro, N. C., whom he recommended for the position here. We well remember John for his pleasant smile and good food while operating a cafe here.

A check was presented to Mr. Keithan for the library of the Erick High School of which he is assistant principal in Lancaster, N. C.

DR. AND MRS. E. B. Lapey of St. James AMEZ Church were the dinner guests of Mr. H. C. Mitchell and his sister, Mrs. Mary Holman, 601 Parker Street, on August 17. The dinner was most enjoyable and after the last course a few hours of fellowship were indulged in and they were very inspirational.

Juniper Level News

By MRS. ANNE GILCHRIST

JUNIPER LEVEL — It was a great pleasure for the Juniper Level Baptist Church to have been represented at the ninety-second annual session of the Wake Baptist Association and the Fortieth Annual Session of the Woman's Auxiliary, which were held August 13-14 at the Pilot Baptist Church near Zebulon. The theme was "The Doctrinal Claims on the Missionary Baptist Church."

The delegate and a member of the Juniper Level Church, Mr. Hulan Morgan and Mr. Robert Wilder attended the association.

During a long illness and not being able to come to church, we were happy to have Mr. Penix and his son with us during Sunday School Sunday.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilchrist would like to express their pleasure for the company of Mrs. Edith Trice, of Garner, who was with us at our home Wednesday.

CONCORD

By MRS. MARION W. BOYD

Community Nursery CONCORD — The Community Nursery will open for the third year during the first week in September. Parents who need the services of the Nursery to care for their pre-school children during the day should enroll them before August 31st. Parents may contact Mrs. Grace O'Neal, Mrs. L. J. Bost, or Mrs. Marion W. Boyd.

Recreation Activities The Logan Homes playground is still open in the evening for organized games and free play with Chester Langston, Jr. in charge. No regular activities will be carried on at Lincoln Street Center until after September 1st.

A new feature planned for the early autumn is the organization of a Golden Agers Club. Lincoln Pool is scheduled to close on August 24th unless the attendance this week shows a need for keeping it open longer. The records show that attendance this summer has been the lowest in three years according to the Director of Recreation. The annual collections at the pool are not enough to operate it as a self-supporting facility.

At present the cost is about fifteen dollars a day. This includes both the salaries of the workers and the chemicals needed for sanitation. The pool uses about 150 gallons of chlorine daily and also a large quantity of filter powder.

Mr. Withers Resigns Mr. John Withers who has directed the recreation program since the summer of 1936 has resigned in order to go to Atlanta, Ga., as an associate professor of biology at Clark College. Dr. J. P. Brawley, president of Clark College, has been urging Mr. Withers to join the Clark faculty for the last two years.

Mr. Withers has been an instructor in the Science Department at Barbera-Scott College here since the fall of 1935 where he also served as coach of athletics for men. He has also served as a consultant for the Science Fair held at Logan School.

The new director of recreation at Lincoln Street Center will be announced by the Recreation Commission by September 1st.
