CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

By Staff Writer
In certain fields, there seem to be no opportunities for employment. But one should not be discouraged by this thought. Despite occasional ups and downs that occur in a free economy, there are 15 million more jobs than in 1939. What's behind this constant and upward growth?

Chiefly, it's our urge to invent new products and improve old ones—as well as the machines and methods by which they are made.

Nearly half our jobs didn't exist in the present form just 25 years ago.

The newer industries are growing fast. It is estimated that during the next few years this tendency to create jobs will be most pronounced in such industries as electronics, nuclear research and development, and packaged foods. New products have made jobs for many of the 800,000 workers in the chemical industry. By 1970, there should be twice as many workers in this field.

Add these to the estimated one million new jobs which will be created by expanded programs in public health, education, marketing and construction.

In all, to meet the needs of America will call for 25 million new jobs in the next 15 years.

Fulton Fryar Of Clinton Steals Show In NY Opera

CLINTON — The Eagle Colony Opera Guild of the Seagle Music Colony of Screen Lake, New York, presented the Opera "Manon" by Jules Massenet in New York during the summer. Fulton Fryar, a 1956 graduate of the Sampson High School sang baritone in this opera of five acts.

Playing the part of Lescaut, of the Royal Guards in this French Opera, Fryar received a large ovation for his outstanding performance.

Fulton was an active member of the music department of the Sampson High School, Clinton, where he took part in the choir and band. Along with his voice training in high school, he learned to play several musical instruments. Several Negro and white patrons of Clinton assisted him financially in getting to Screen Lake last summer.

In another program presented by the Seagle Colony, scenes from Opera and Songs from the Americas, Fulton Fryar again stole the show with two Negro spirituals "Were You There" and "Nobody Knows The Trouble I've Seen." Other stars of the program were Adolphe Ball, Tenor of Mexico, Louise McClall, and Mezzo Soprano of Ohio, Kathleen Lindemann of Texas and Marjorie Echardt of New York.

Garden Time

By M. E. GARDNER

The week of August 4 was spent with college powers in the western counties, a series of five meetings. My part on the program was to discuss the proposed referendum which will be voted on September 16.

The question is to decide whether or not the growers are willing to contribute five cents per tree for all trees ten years old or older. The funds collected would be used to promote the apple industry in all phases: production, marketing, use, and advertising.

This is the most constructive move that the North Carolina State Apple Grower's Association has made since organization four years ago. Thought you would be interested in knowing about it because I am sure some of my readers are apple growers.

The peach growers, Irish potato growers in eastern Carolina, the peanut growers, and the livestock people have all been successful in this respect and the money is being used to good advantage.

Getting back to my trip—I am always impressed as I travel over this great State. To me, geographically speaking, North Carolina is a study in contrasts rather than comparisons.

How can one compare the Blue Ridge Parkway with the drive from Oregon Inlet to Hatteras? Or the Coastal Plain with the Piedmont? But you can contrast them by considering different soil types, plant materials, length of growing season, recreation spots, temperature and rainfall, farming systems, industries, and customs of the people, which are deep rooted.

A trip from Raleigh to Manteo could include a stop at Tryon Palace, see the Lost Colony, catch bass in the sound, and the big ones from the surf or off-shore.

The other day I fought traffic and stop lights from Hendersonville to Olen. A turn to the left on the Blue Ridge Parkway and the whole picture changed. Peace and quiet, magnificent scenery, no one in a hurry.

A stop at the new facility at Craggy Gardens where the story of plant life is told in pictures, then to Mt. Mitchell—but space is running out. Then to Boone and "Horn in the West."

Get ready! Get set! Go. Pop and take Ma and the kids with you!

It Pays To ADVERTISE

Let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.—(1 St. John 3, 13.)

Words of love are the most welcome words in any language. But words alone are not enough. They must be uttered "in truth" from the heart of the speaker, and proved by deeds. Only thus can we show our love to others, as God has shown His love to us through the life of Jesus Christ.

Elks Leaders Confident As Confab Opens

By J. B. HARRIS

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (Special to THE CAROLINIAN). On the eve of the opening of the 60th annual grand lodge sessions of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World a general air of optimism pervaded the ranks of members of the "grand old Order" who are remaining loyal to Administration of Robert H. "Our Bob" Johnson, grand exalted ruler and William C. "Bill" Houston, grand secretary, both of whom are seeking reelection to their respective offices.

Despite the efforts of a disgruntled faction made up largely of New York and New Jersey Elks who are bringing suit against the top echelon of officers charging mismanagement and waste of funds, it is felt that the "rank and file" membership will vote for the Administration when the chips are down.

A pre-convention summary by Clay J. Calhoun, supervising editor of the Washington EAGLE, mouth-piece of IBEOWE, states in the August issue, that 24 of the total of 36 state associations have already endorsed Johnson and Houston for reelection. Thus, unless there is a terrific about-face among the delegates coming from these associations the incumbent should not have too much worry about come election day.

It is anticipated, however, that there will probably be a legal move to "bottle-up" the convention in an effort to stymie the election and disorganize the delegates in an attempt to gain control of the organization.

It is estimated that 30 per cent of the fresh produce now packaged is sold through retail outlets.
