Workshop Conference At Shaw Ends With Reports From Groups

The workshop conference at Shaw University ended on Thursday, September 11, with reports from the workshop groups. The theme of the workshop was "How Can We Improve The Teaching-Learning Process at Shaw University?" The general session was opened on Wednesday, September 10, with Dr. N. H. Harris, chairman of the division of education, presiding.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. G. H. Ferguson, director, division of Negro Ed-

At Oberlin Baptist Church:

Dr. Grady Davis Honored On His Fifth Anniversary

Sunday, Sept. 14, was a very special day at historic Oberlin Baptist Church, located on Oberlin Road in the heart of the Raleigh community of that name.

It was on that date, five years ago that Dr. Grady D. Davis assumed the pastorate of that progressive church. Much has happened at Oberlin Baptist since Dr. Davis took over the spiritual leadership there. Doubtless the most significant of these happenings was the fire that completely destroyed the old wooden church edifice in January 1955.

The rebuilding of the church — a brand new modern brick structure, complete with separate Sunday school quarters and service areas — in seven months, State Department of Public Instruction, Dr. Ferguson said that the Negro teacher has continued to improve his status in education through further study.

Reports and tables revealing the results of tests and grades at Shaw University indicated the necessity for the instructor to attempt to reach the student at his level, as students are entering colleges with low reading ability.

Topics discussed by three separate groups were: 1. What are some basic teaching competencies? 2. What are some personal traits necessary for the effective teaching process? 3. How can the library, audio-visual aids, and field trips be used as instruments for improving the teaching-learning process?

Some basic teaching competencies and personal traits listed as characteristics of a good teacher are a sound philosophy of education, skills commensurate with teaching, positive attitudes, good habits, counseling ability, maturity, breadth of interest, integrity, friendliness, enthusiasm, sense of humor, creative objectivity, loquacity and ideals as they pertain to areas.

The observation was made that students failed to make full use of the library, due to their inability to read with comprehension. It was also brought out that text books in some subjects are above the reading ability of students; audio-visual aids and community resources can be used to a great advantage. It was the group's opinion that T. V. Education should not be used as a replacement of the conventional classroom, but as a supplement, and that students should be encouraged to read newspapers, magazines and periodicals.

The two-day session closed with the recommendation that a reading club be established at Shaw University.

Leaders in the discussion were Mrs. Martha Wheeler, registrar; Dr. Marguerite M. Adams, counselor; Dr. Foster P. Payne, dean of the College; Mrs. E. B. Coffield, assistant professor in education; Carl DeVane, chairman of the social science division and Herschel Irons, chairman of the division of natural sciences and mathematics.

short months can well be considered Dr. Davis' most significant achievement during the five eventful years of his pastorate in Oberlin.

Since its rebuilding and occupancy, progress has been steady at Oberlin Baptist Church so with a song of gratitude and rejoicing in their hearts, the officers, members and friends of the church met Sunday afternoon, Sept. 14 to honor their beloved leader and to shower expressions of their devotion on both he and Mrs. Davis.

Before a beautiful floral background of ferns, snap dragons, asters, Dr. F. L. Bullock, Dr. Davis' pastor for 12 years and the minister who baptized him and received him into Christian fellowship, at the Faithful Band Baptist Church in Pleasant Hill, N. C., delivered the anniversary sermon.

Dr. Bullock, pastor of the large Cool Springs Baptist Church, near Roanoke Rapids, N. C. did not come to preach this anniversary sermon alone. He brought several of his officers and members and he also brought his choir, a group of male and female voices who, when they are singing, give the impression that singing is what they were born to do. Speaking of choirs, the choir of the Oberlin Baptist Church has long been noted for its singing abilities but several members of the choir of the Oberlin Church readily admitted that from both a qualitative and quantitative standpoint they had never heard any singing that surpassed the renditions of Dr. Bullock's Cool Springs Baptist Church choir.

Deacon Joseph T. Stredwick, master of ceremonies for this anniversary occasion, was so impressed with the choral offerings of this group that he expressed the desire to make some changes in the program in order to allow the choir time for more singing. This choir is directed by Mr. T. S. Cooper. Mr. Cooper, who is also the organist, is supervisor of music and band director at the C. S. Bullock called special attention to Polk High School in Burgaw, N. C.

In his anniversary sermon, Dr. the importance of the minister as the interpreter of God's will. He urged the large audience to be more considerate of their pastor and to remember that God speaks to men through the mouths of His appointed ministers. Citing the promise made to Joshua when he was called to take over as minister to the children of Israel after the death of Moses, Dr. Bullock quoted God's promise to Joshua to stand by him, if Joshua preached His word to the Hebrew children with courage, strength and faith.

The speaker declared that God is still making that promise to those called by Him to preach His word and he urged his listeners to heed the voice of their ministers as long as those voices were used as mouth-pieces for God.

Dr. Bullock was lavish in his praise of the members of the Oberlin Baptist Church for taking time out to honor and praise their pastor. He said that pastors live longer and have more fruitful lives when church members show appreciation for their efforts and endeavors. "You are saying today, thank you, Dr. Davis, for 5 years of faithful service to us," Dr. Bullock said, reminding them that they should strive to emulate

Dr. Davis in their daily lives.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Stredwick said that "this anniversary service" was another milestone in the long history of the Oberlin Baptist Church. "It is an event to commemorate 5 years of happiness," said Mr. Stredwick.

Invocation and Scripture reading was by the Reverend Mr. M. N. Cobb, a graduate and former student of Dr. Davis' Theological Seminary, Shaw University. The prayer for the service was given by the Reverend Mr. Abraham Walter, a present student of Dr. Davis' in the theological seminary. Deacon Walter F. Curtis, superintendent of the Oberlin Sunday School presented the guest speaker, Dr. F. L. Bullock, to the audience.

The gift presentations were made for the church; a silver fruit bowl, Mr. E. Flagg, for the usher board, silver candle holders, Mr. Edward Curtis, for the Sunday School, a silver bread tray, Miss Anna Fields, for the B.T.U., a silver dish, Miss Juliette Evans, for church group Number 5, Mrs. James Williams, several floral designs. A gift of $115.00 from Mrs. Stredwick was presented by Mr. Stredwick.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Davis were visibly shaken by this outpouring of love and affection. In expressing gratitude for both, Dr. Davis praised his wife for her help in making it possible for him to carry on. He said that it was impossible for him to express in words his feeling and gratitude but he promised to prove how grateful he was through service to the church and to the community as well.

A reception in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Davis was held in the church Fellowship Hall immediately after the anniversary service.

DR GRADY DAVIS

Besides attending to his duties as pastor of the Oberlin Baptist Church, Dr. Davis has held the post of dean of the theological seminary of Shaw University for the past several years. The father of 4 children, he and Mrs. Davis and family are now residing in their new home on S. East Street.

Chatham Fair Underway; Over 30,000 Expected

PITTSBORO — The 9th annual Chatham County Fair, with the most exciting midway ever shown in the county, is expected to exceed an attendance of more than 30,000 due to the crowd that attended Monday's opening.

The feature of the first day was a talent hunt that saw Misses Mary Fere, Central High, Ashboro; Emma Minor, Lincoln High, Chapel Hill; Frankie Woodie, also of Central High; Barbara Jean Alston, Horton High, Pittsboro; and Kenneth Minor, Lincoln High, put their talents Monday night. As a result they will compete for top honors Friday night. The winner will receive $25.00 while the runners-up will receive $15 and $10 respectively.

Tuesday night was featured with a beauty contest. Misses Shirley Ann Tyson, Nellie Pace, Helen Hill, Priscilla Hoskins and Cozy Pendergast won the right to take the coveted prize Friday night.

School days was observed Wednesday with J. S. Waters, superintendent of county schools, making the address. Bands from Chatham High, Siler City and Horton High gave a band concert. The children were treated to the famed dog act, said to be the best found in the southeast.

The Home Demonstration Club will stage a fashion show at 8:15 Friday evening. Contestants will be entered from Chatham, More and Randolph counties. The sack, the chemise and all of the styles will be featured.

Judging was the feature of the first day. For the best chickens exhibited, Leroy Goins and Mrs. Edna Andrews took the honors for the best rabbits. Leroy Goins was another winner when his Hertford heifer was given the Blue Ribbon Larry Paige's entry took the Red Ribbon in this exhibit. Douglas Farror had the best cow. He had to be contented with second place when it came to cows. London Richardson placed first.

There was a photo finish in the pigs' division and M. L. Farror, William Patterson and Wesley Andrews received Red Ribbons for their prize pigs. Mrs. Mary Alice Alston had the best hog. W. C. Bryant got both a Red and Blue Ribbon in the young calf division while Walter and Kenneth Turentine took Red Ribbons. C. W. Baldwin's prize winning bull was the winner in that division. Mr. Baldwin took all the Ribbons in the beef cattle division.
