EXCITED PRESBYTERIANS

ROCKY MOUNT — The Rev. Abraham H. Prince of Columbia, S. C., is the travelling evangelist for the Presbyterian synods of Catawba and Blue Ridge, is noted for his many witticisms as well as factual statements as he stresses the need for bringing more people into the church in order to keep the church growing.

Returning from Southern Virginia Presbytery last week, he told the Cape Fear Presbytery (meeting at Mt. Pisgah Church, Rocky Mount) they should "get excited" as a group of young presbyters in Virginia did when their church became a member of the presbytery. Asked what the young men were "excited about," Dr. Prince replied: "They were excited about the opportunity to bring more souls to Christ." Prince expressed the hope that this excitement might become contagious.

Pastor J. H. Costen of the local Mt. Pisgah Presbytery was heard to say a loud "Amen" as he thought of the building program he wishes the church to get "excited about."

Although Bethany Presbyterians are without a pastor at Lumberton (Rev. John H. Hayswood who served there 35 years, passed early in 1935) Elder J. O. Scoble invited and received the January meeting of the Cape Fear Presbytery without opposition.

"Was said that Moderator 'Bob' Lee Shirley (Davie Street, Raleigh, pastor) could qualify for an engineer since he started sessions 20 minutes late and ended the day's work only 15 minutes later—a gain of five minutes.

The Rev. J. T. Jones, the synod's "glad-hand" and one-man choir, has compiled a familiar collection of 18 Negro Spirituals in a pocket pamphlet—set to music as he sings them; and has found them to be quite popular—even with inter-racial religious groups—wherever presented. Jones has added a "Foreword" on the origin and use of the "Spiritual" since the advent (through compulsion) of the Negro to these shores in 1619.

Rev. J. T. Jones, 2112 W. Trade St., Charlotte, N. C. is the address.

BAPTIST ANNIVERSARY. The Rev. Frank L. Bullock's St. Paul Baptist Church, Enfield, is in the midst of preparation for the celebration of the 77th anniversary of the church on Sept. 28. The Rev. Gray Davis, Shaw University, dean of religious education, is to be the featured speaker for the occasion.

Also in ENFIELD, the Frontiers Club has just elected officers for the 1936-37 year. They are: A. R. Johnson, president; Tyler Vaughan, vice presy.; J. H. Exum, fin. secy.; Walter Turner, res. secy.; and George Thornton, treas.

Isaac C. Rogers, Sr., and Walter Turner were delegates to the national Frontiers Convention in Dayton, Ohio, recently, while Thomas Coffield attended the meeting of those interested in the treatment of Vitiligo at the Villig Center, Washington, D.C.

Halifax County schools opened recently with an increase in enrollment reported for colored pupils and a decrease reported for white children. Meanwhile, Halifax officials have agreed after assurance of school attendance of colored pupils, to go ahead with plans for the building of a Negro school at Hollister.

The "go-ahead" was given after signed petitions were presented the Halifax County Board of Education indicating the willingness of the colored children attending the school if erected. This is the community where the group called the Halliwa Indians have withdrawn from attending school with Negroes. The Halliwa are contending for their own school under the Pearsall Plan.

Funeral rites were said from an Enfield funeral home for Sam Mabry, age 64, a former resident who died in Portsmouth, Va. last week. The Rev. F. L. Bulluck conducted the eulogy. Survivors include two daughters and two sons as follows: Mrs. Mary Mason, Miss Rosa Mabry, William and Samuel Mabry.

Elder Paul C. Winley and wife—the former Miss P. Virginia Lyons of Whitakers—have visited with Mrs. Winley's mother and sister in Whitakers, Mrs. Maggie Lyons and Mrs. Joan Johnson. The Winleys are Seventh Day Adventist Church workers. Mr. Winley is with the educational department and Mrs. Winley is a hospital nurse in Kansas City, Mo., where they have resided for several years following a similar residence in Washington, D.C.

They reside at 2415 Linwood Blvd., Apt. 1-E, Kansas City 9, Mo. Elder Winley motored back last week. Mrs. Winley left this week by train, visiting in Philadelphia and Chicago enroute home.

CHURCH NEWS
HIGH POINT — Members and friends of the St. Stephen AME Zion Church were treated recently with a fellowship visit from the pastor and members of Zion Hill AME Zion Church, Concord.

Upon arrival, the guests were served chicken dinners in the church dining room. During the service, very beautiful musical numbers were heard from the three choirs accompanying the Rev. C. J. Webb. For his message, the Rev. Webb spoke from the subject, "And Enchanted With God." He was introduced by the pastor of St. Stephen Church, Rev. S. A. Speight.

Accompanists for the three choirs were: Mr. Robert Harris, senior choir; Mrs. Anna Louise Boss, jubilee choir; and Little Miss Cassandra Shuford, junior choir.

Rush Memorial A. M. E. Zion Church News
BY MRS. ANNIE H. THORPE
Despite the downpour of rain on Sunday the service was largely attended and was good. The senior choir was in charge of the music. After the call to worship was sounded by the pastor, the Rev. W. D. Carson, the choir marched around the altar singing their professional number.

As a regular part of our worship service they kneel around the altar for the prayer of consecration before entering the choir loft. The doxology was sung, the pastoral prayer was given, followed by the choral response and first hymn. The responsive reading was for the 28th Sunday, "God Strengthens the Heart." Scripture lesson was then read by the minister from Hebrews, 10th Chapter, comprising twenty verses. After the prevent prayer and the singing of the second hymn, the minister chose his text from the same scripture read, Hebrews 10:2: "Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water." Theme: "Drawing near God."

The minister began by saying, it is good for me to draw near to God. How, I draw near with a true heart. II Draw near with an unlimited faith. III. Draw near with a perpetual love. He climaxed by saying, if we draw near to God it will give us spiritual strength. This was a rich gospel message as is a part of Rev. Carson to deliver. We continue to invite you to one of our fine services because we know you will be greatly benefited and spiritually revived. We also invite you to come and join with us in an old fashioned revival.

Rev. Havel Browning, the noted evangelist from Washington, D. C., will be with us on Sunday, Sept. 28th to begin our fall revival. It will run through Oct. 16th. We are inviting all of the churches of the city to join with us in the saving of souls.

Fire services were again in store for those who attended the 11 o'clock services. Sunday, September 14. The junior choir was in charge of the music. After the professional by the choir the first hymn, "O Love that wilt not let me go," was sung. Lined by our pastor, the Reverend W. D. Carson.

The responsive reading was for the 37th Sunday, "Enduring Praise." The Gloria Patri and the Affirmation of Faith (the Apostles Creed) was repeated audibly by all Scripture lesson was then read by Reverend Carson from St. Matthew's gospel, the 22nd chapter, comprising 12 verses. Reverend Carson then led us to the throne of grace with his soul-stirring prayer. The 2nd hymn, 346, "O Thou in Whose Presence" was sung as the congregation meditated. The minister then talked with the junior church again on the commandment of "Thou shalt not steal" trying to instill into their minds the danger of taking things that aren't theirs which is a great lesson for all of us.

The minister then chose his text from the same scripture read, St. Matthew 22:8th, 9th, 10th verses. Theme: The Universal Invitation. The minister began by saying that Jesus was illustrating the Kingdom, and was making preparations for a wedding. He then unfolded the following: I. "Come sinners to the gospel feast." II "Go ye into self but of others.

It is better to give than to receive because when you give with a willing mind, the Lord doubles your blessings. Birthdays The following had birthdays the past week: Mr. Lonnie Wilder, Elias Cannady, Dona Gale Leach, William Langston, Jr., Mr. Robert Gilchrist and Mrs. Dorothy Moore. Sick and Shut In Mrs. Janie Penix, Mrs. Betty L. Brown and Mr. Andrew Turner. Let us extend prayers for the sick and shut-ins.

Deaths
Mr. Cicero Penix of Rt. 3, Raleigh, Miss Annie Gilchrist and her mother, Mrs. Robert Gilchrist journeyed to New York to attend the funeral of her brother, Mr. N. H. Nicholson. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bell Steel of Rocky Mount.

Maple Temple Church News

BY MISS LENA M. EURE
On Sunday, Sept. 2, service began at 11:00 o'clock at the Maple Temple Christian Church. The senior choir led the professional singing, "Leaning on the everlasting arms." After the choir had reached its place in the stand we sang, "Gloria Patria," after which our pastor, the Rev. M. F. Booker, led us in prayer. While the pastor prayed the entire congregation chanted, "The Lord's Prayer."

The choir offered its first hymn of the morning which was, "Oh thou in whose presence." The scripture lesson was read by Rev. Eddie Baker from the book of Acts, 4th chapter, verses 1-22. Deacon Whitley then led us in prayer.

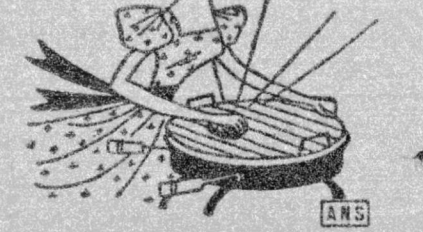

The mission offering was lifted while the choir sang, "When we all get to Heaven." This offering was blessed by Deacon Holloway. The announcements of the week and the introduction of the visitors were made.

General offering was lifted as the choir sang, "Farther Along." The offering was consecrated by the singing of "None but the righteous." A most beautiful spiritual was offered by the choir preceding the pastor's message. It was, "Let us wait upon the Lord."

Rev. Booker then went into his sermon centered around the 22nd verse of the book of Acts, 4th chapter. The theme of the pastor's sermon was, "Christ the Divine Healer." The pastor pointed out in his sermon how Christ is everything to us and how he can heal both the morally and spiritually ill. It was a wonderful sermon and was enjoyed by all present.

Immediately after the sermon an invitational hymn was rendered by the choir, "Yield not to temptation." Mrs. Leslie Dunston offered a soul-stirring prayer for those who came forward to be prayed for. The doxology was sung and the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. C. C. Burnett.

consultant in helping the schools coordinate their guidance services. The workshop was sponsored by the Department of Instructions, headed by Ralston M. Kelly of Concord and Kannapolis Schools.

So-o Simple
WHEN BARBECUING, keep a sudey oval scouring pad handy for the clean-up job. A quick rub-over, soon after cooking, keeps grills attractively clean.
FRESH FRUIT PIES are a "must" on the summer menu. Bake them early in the day—and if there's a spill-over of juice in your oven, give it a quick going-over with an oval scouring pad.
SPEED UP DISH WASHING chores by using a little plastic mesh ball for stuck-on foods. This takes only a second, yet will not harm your finest china or silver.
