

Warren 4-H'er Makes A Clothing Project Work

WARRENTON — Luna Somerville of Route 2, Macon, has made such a success with her poultry project that it has encouraged her sister, Jeanette, to follow her. Luna's progress has also encouraged three other 4-H'ers in her club to join the Poultry Club.

Luna received 100 sex-linked pullets in the original Poultry Club, established in 1957 and enough hybrid corn to plant one acre.

During the 1957 pullet tour, her pullets won for her a blue ribbon award of $10.00. In the 1958 tour Luna was among the three 4-H'ers who began last year and did a very successful job.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Somerville of the Macon address.

Macon Girl Succeeds With Poultry Project

WARRENTON—Lucinda Ross of Route 2, Macon, has been a big success in her project of clothing. She is now advising all of her fellow 4-H club members to give it a try.

Lucinda is doing quite a bit of sewing for various persons in her community. The money Lucinda is earning from her clothing project is being used to help get some other things that she needs.

She received first place in her county in the County Dress Revue, in which she displayed a tailored suit. In the district she placed second.

Lucinda is a very active young lady in her 4-H Club activities as well as in school activities.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Cannon of the Macon address.

Swine Production Outranks Tobacco As Income Earner

WARRENTON — Profits from hogs here during the past 10 months have been higher than at any time since 1933. With prices ranging from $16 to $22 per hundred pounds for top hogs and with a favorable corn-hog ration, profit per hog has been averaging $10.

This prospect of fast profit has lured many new farmers into the hog business and has prompted established swine growers to increase their volume. Thus during the remainder of this year and in 1959 hog production here is expected to increase greatly.

Farm economists warn, however, that hog prices will drop and many farmers will become discouraged and leave the swine industry as fast as they entered. But farm agents feel that after the smoke clears Warren will emerge with a larger number of commercial hog producers than ever before.

Swine growers in Warren can compete favorably with producers in any part of the nation. Winters are not severe here, thus the cost of constructing shelter is cheaper. And most Warren farmers can grow their own grain in sufficient quantity to feed the hogs.

Per capita consumption of all meats in 1959 is estimated at 150 pounds, nine pounds less than in 1957.
