

Mr. And Mrs. H. Sherwood Baker Observe 50th Anniversary Tues.

BY MARCUS H. BOULWARE
When November 18 rolls around, it will mark a milestone in the married life of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sherwood Baker, of 315 S. Haywood Street, who will then have reached their fiftieth anniversary.

significance—especially for the Bakers who can look back over the years with thoughtful memories.
For being spared to enjoy this blissful event, thanks must go to the Almighty Providence who gave them lives of health and strength.
When asked what was the secret of a long married life, Mr. Baker made only this comment: "The anniversary speaks for itself."

Fifty years ago, a young man named H. Sherwood Baker journeyed to Youngsville, North Carolina, near Wake Forest, to take unto himself a young bride, Mozelle, who accompanied him to Raleigh where she has been ever since. They were married by Magistrate Bob Johnson of Youngsville.
Mrs. Mozelle Baker, this reporter learned, has cultivated a penchant for fishing. She often brings home a large string of fish.

BOTH OF THE BAKERS are church members. Mrs. Baker is a member of the Martin Street Baptist Church, while Mr. Baker has cast his lot with the Fayetteville Street Baptist Church.
The Bakers have three daughters who reside in Raleigh. They are Miss Mary Baker of 315 S. Haywood Street, Mrs. Gladys Jones of North Haywood Street, and Miss Louise Baker of 315 S. Haywood Street. The family also includes three grandchildren.
For 29 years, Mr. Baker was a truck driver with the George Marsh Company of Raleigh. When the Marsh Company sold out, during his twenty-ninth year, he remained four years longer in the employ of the successor of Mr.

Marsh until the firm went out of business.
Later Mr. Baker was employed by the Raleigh Farmers Market and remained in its employ until he retired. Mr. Baker states that he was forced to resign his employment, because of a serious eye condition which left him visually handicapped after an operation for the removal of cataracts.
During the interview, this reporter asked Mr. Baker, "What do I think of married life?"
He replied, "I've always been a family man and through hard work I have supported them the best that I could."
In this last statement, this reporter thinks is the secret of the Bakers who won their fiftieth anniversary race.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY NEARS — Mr. and Mrs. H. Sherwood Baker, seated, will celebrate 50 years of marriage on Tuesday, November 18, at their home, 315 S. Haywood Street here. Although no special observance is planned, it is expected that the occasion will cause quite a bit of excitement in the East Raleigh area. The Bakers' children are shown standing. From left to right, they are: Miss Louise Baker, Mrs. Gladys Jones and Miss Mary Baker, all of Raleigh.

New Orleans Negro Schools Crowded But White Schools Need More Pupils

NEW ORLEANS (AP) They are advertising to get children in Lakeview public schools say their some of the white public schools need is to get more pupils. They report an average of 17 children to the room. The maximum load in white schools is 35 children per class.

They are on the contrary complaining in Negro segregated schools about the number of children in a room and the number of Negro children forced to get only one half-day of schooling. In some schools as many as 65 per room have been reported. There are also reported as many as 9,000 Negro children on half-day classes.

Courts have decreed that New Orleans should be integrated as to schools but there has not been one step made towards this and integration would make possible the use of many rooms only partially filled and some rooms not used at all.

Another oddity in New Orleans public schools is that the fighting of Negro teachers is said to outrank that of white teachers. Negroes go to better graduate schools because the local graduate schools have not been accepting them for exception.
