H. Carl Moultrie In Stirring Address In Cumberland C'ty

FAYETTEVILLE — H. Carl Moultrie, executive secretary, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Washington, D. C., gave both powerful and stirring addresses to a group of fraternities and sororities in making "Freedom Ring" in America, here Sunday afternoon, as he climaxed "Achievement Week Activities" in the J. W. Seabrook Auditorium, at Fayetteville State Teachers College.

The fraternity official told his audience that there was a definite need for groups that would adhere to certain principles in preparing themselves for broader service. He warned, however, that too much attention should not be paid to the social aspect of the groups. He told them that they should enjoy certain social privileges but their prime motive should be in finding the right direction in which to guide persons whom they would serve to a more useful life.

tant to turn from the old way of life—and those who were afraid to venture into a new way of life. He said that the old Uncle Tom, with his bowed head and handkerchief was howling out, but he was afraid that a new Uncle Tom was evolving.

He pictured him as the one Negro who is always found on some board. He described him as the one Negro picked by persons who were sure that he would ascribe to their thinking. He asked that Negroes not allow themselves to be put on boards where they would be forced to join in keeping the Negro in a second-class citizenship role.

A message of condolence from former President Harry S. Truman was read. Mr. Truman termed Dr. Taylor, who had attended every Democratic National Convention from 1920, "a person devoted to the principles of the Democratic Party."

During the rites H. Albert Farrell, representing the president of Lincoln University (Pa.), one of Dr. Taylor's alma maters, disclosed that the late political leader's friends had established a $1,000 scholarship fund in his name at the university.

Active pall bearers were Franz Byrd and attorney Harry Beaz of New York City; Dr. Wayman Coston of Wilmington, Del.; Dr. Irving Gray and Otto Galloway of Boston; Dr. Carter Marshall of New Haven; Dr. Ernest Martin of Bluefield, W. Va.; and Attorney Austin J. Norris, Philadelphia.

Honorary pall bearers included Governor Furcolo, Mayor Hynes, Dr. Franklin Myers, John T. Lane, clerk Boston Juvenile Court, Elwood S. McKenney, executive secretary, Governor's Council; Deputy Police Superintendent Francis G. Wilson; and former President Harry S. Truman.

Dr. Taylor was a member of the Prince Hall Masons, the Shriners, the IBO Elks of the World, the Boston City Democratic Committee, and the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

He was a graduate of Lincoln U. (Pa.), the Leonard School of Medicine (Shaw University), and the Boston College of Physicians and Surgeons. He was 71 years of age, and had never married.

Surviving Dr. Taylor are two sisters: Mrs. J. T. Page of Danville, Va.; Mrs. Frank W. Jacobs, Bridgeport, Conn.; and two brothers, David Taylor of Danville, Va. and Malcolm S. Taylor of Boston.

L. L. Lewis Challenges Shaw Group

L. L. Lewis, educational director, Radio Corporation of America, spoke to Shaw University students on Monday, Nov. 17, on the subject "Communications." Referring to new elements of communication in education, he discussed the progress that is being made in the field of Teaching-by-TV.

Mr. Lewis stated that our inability to communicate in the same language is one of the basic reasons for the difficulties which we are having all over the world. Educational problems, he said, continue to become more complicated due to the teacher shortage at the present time and the increase in student enrollment over a period of years.

Teaching-by-TV, he claims is working in five states that are sponsoring this program. They are Nebraska, Oklahoma, Alabama, Ohio, New York, and North Carolina.

He said that there is steady expansion in the field of Teaching-by-TV and the results are quite significant. The lessons are more carefully prepared, outstanding teachers are used, pupils read better, students are reached who cannot go to college, a wide and rich variety of valuable visual aids are available, it saves time, gives direct contact, and students assume more responsibility for learning than in the classroom, he claimed.

He stated that there are 15,000 students taking television courses which are offered by 365 colleges. In conclusion, he suggested that we watch the trend as time goes on, as there is an evolution in the concepts of education and communication.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. A. T. Spaulding of Durham. Music was furnished by the Shaw University Choral Society under the direction of Harry Gil-Smythe.

Feds Arrest Man, 32, Who 'Made Money'

CHICAGO — (ANP) — A 32-year-old Negro was arrested here this week for "making money by filing income tax returns in at least six different states."

George Turner was picked-up by secret service agents Wednesday and charged with forging returns on government checks.

Turner filed income tax returns all for 1957—in Chicago, Kansas City, Richmond, Va., Detroit, Baltimore, Greensboro, N. C., Cheyenne, Wyo., among other places.

The peculiarity of the returns he filed was that they all bore a different name and showed a refund due. To date he had received $10,000 in refund checks at $3,000.

His bond has been set at $5,000.
