Man Lived A Double Life For 30 Years

CHICAGO—For 30 years in St. Louis, Fred Demery, alias Powell, lived two lives, one as a Negro, the other white, according to an article in the December issue of Ebony Magazine.

He was the pillar of a Negro church, active in city and state Negro organizations and a dutiful mate to a Negro wife. At the same time, he was a white man in a white world, active in city-wide union affairs and an avid baseball and wrestling fan.

Demery lived in a Negro neighborhood, worked downtown, acting out this drama in a small area covering some 40 city blocks.

Early last year, Demery confessed his double-life at the Baptist Church where he made announcements. He told the congregation of the 24 years in St. Louis, and the 4 in the East of living and working as a Negro and a white man.

According to Ebony, Demery is now 66 and living in retirement on the West Coast.

He looks back on his life with mixed emotions. He wants people to know that he is not a smart aleck, that he derived no pleasure from his clever masquerade. "It was done on a strictly business basis," he says. "I wanted a job. Back there in the depression, they were hiring few whites and no Negroes. I lost a lot of pleasure in life—just to keep a job. It was hell."

Demery tells of the danger of passing in the current Ebony, as well as how his wife and step-daughter had to pose as servants

Professor At Local School:

Miss Mildred McTyre Appointed Director Of Baptists' Publishing Organization

In June of 1957 the Sunday School Publishing Board of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., began a Sunday School curriculum improvement program. Miss Mildred McTyre, assistant professor of Religious Education at Shaw University, was appointed director of the program.

During the summer of 1957, she spent three months working on experimental literature with the children's writers of the Board in Nashville, Tennessee. She, along with the staff writers, attended the Christian Writers Workshop at the American Baptist Assembly at Green Lake, Wisconsin. Miss Elma Melton, now a senior majoring in Religious Education at Shaw University, served as secretary of the project.

Since 1957, Miss McTyre has continued to serve as a consultant to the program and as a contributor to the Children's Teacher Quarterly. During the summer of 1958, she edited all of the materials of the Children's Division for the Fourth Quarter. These materials are used currently in some 16,000 church schools served by the Sunday School Publishing Board.

Shaw University is happy that a member of its faculty is making this significant contribution to the work of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc. Many of the churches which support the program of the university are members of this convention and use this literature. This participation in keeping with the university efforts at identifying itself with supporting and helping to realize Baptist objectives, on the state and national levels.

For a number of years, Miss McTyre has been a contributor to the religious education work of her denomination. She has been active in various programs at the state and national levels and in the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

During the summer of 1955, she attended the World Convention on Christian Education in Tokyo, Japan. As head of the University's Department of Christian and Missionary Education, she brings to her position a wealth of knowledge and experience.

Della Reese Guest Stars On Big Show

NEW YORK CITY (AP)—Fongress Della Reese, equally adept at ballads or spirituals, turned in a creditable performance last week when she appeared as guest artist on the Jim Lowe "Jazz Is My Beat" CBS radio show here.

Miss Reese's big offering was a song called "Serenade." She also sang an original ballad.

Also appearing on the show with Miss Reese were Eddie Bert, trombonist, and Elliot Lawrence, pianist.

The Jim Lowe show is heard Mondays through Fridays at 8:35-9:00 P.M. EST.
