

CLINTON NEWS

BY H. M. JOHNSON

P. T. A. MEETINGS CLINTON—The Pleasant Grove P. T. A. held its monthly meeting Monday night in the school auditorium. The Corn Drive was extended until next month. The group was favored with 3 selections by the school choir under the direction of Miss Grace White. The 8th and 9th grades were the attendance banner for the month. The following topics will be discussed at the next meeting: report cards, home study, health and family life. (Know your child and home ownership). The group enjoyed refreshments. Approximately 70 parents were present.

SENIOR OF THE MONTH In the first issue of the Pleasant Grove Commercial Observer, the copy editor had this to say about the senior of the month: "Trying to pick a Senior of the Month is very hard to do, with such outstanding personalities in the senior class, but out of all of them, James Royal, a native of Clinton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Royal, Sr., seems to be the most outstanding."

He has served as president of his class for two years, is president of the student council this year, editor of the school paper, president of the commercial club and the H-Y club."

At our first county-wide student council meeting, which was held at Hargrove School, Royal showed a quality of leadership. He is respected for his pleasing personality, both by teachers, as well as students. Royal is self-reliant and he has respect for his fellow classmates. We are proud of him because he is such an intelligent person. Pleasant Grove smiles with happiness to have such an outstanding student. I'm sure that everyone will agree with everything that has been said about this wonderful person. James Royal is the member of the Pleasant Grove Commercial Club who took great pride in naming Yule Senior of the Month. We hope that you will continue to set an example for the other students here at school, and also urge you to continue "to strive to seek, to find, and not to yield."

The Samson High School PTA held its monthly meeting last week. The program committee presented a play entitled "Mighty If" which was highly enjoyed by the group. After a short meeting, the group was invited to the home economics department where refreshments were served.

MOTORED TO NEW YORK Mr. and Mrs. George Cousins, accompanied by Mr. T. J. Boone, Mrs. Alice Bennett and Mrs. Zoddie Samson, motored to New York recently to attend the funeral of Mrs. Annie Faison Bowden, Mrs. Bowden is a native of Samson County.

Mrs. Alice Bennett spent part of her time in Bridgeport, Conn., visiting her brother, Mr. Daniel Boone, who is a patient at a hospital there.

SICK AND SHUT-IN We are happy to report that sick in the community, Mrs. Maggie Parker and Mr. J. M. Holmes, are improving very well.

Artesia High News

HALLSBORO—The senior class, electing a "cherry" group, seniors and members of the drama club presented the annual Christmas musical, "The Message of the Christmas Angel" on December 14, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. Mr. C. E. Aldrich is a cherry director. Mrs. T. Thompson, accompanist, Mrs. L. S. Hamkin, drama and scenery, Mr. S. J. Barnes, band director and Mrs. B. M. Johnson, costumes and permanent chairman.

The high school student council, with Mr. N. G. Shaw as speaker, attended the State Student Council meeting, which convened at Dilworth High School, Goldsboro on December 10-12. The students are commending Mrs. Shaw as Dr. Barry Cherry, president, Hazel Baldwin, vice-president, Dorothy Moore, treasurer, Jeanne Powell and Nancy M. McMillan.

The Artesia High School Panthers and Lady Panthers recently won a double header from the Lady City High School Eagles and Lady Eagles. Messrs. E. C. Aldrich and B. K. Geis are girls and boys coaches respectively.

The Panthers and Lady Panthers met the Armour High School Tigers and Tigeresses in a basketball game on Friday night, December 12 at 7:30 in the gymnasium. The high school band, under the direction of Mr. S. J. Barnes, rendered their services and the school enjoyed the performance in the Whiteville Christmas Parade last week. Mrs. L. S. Hamkin is in charge of the impromptu activities.

HONOR ROLL Grade 1: John Cherry, Alice Davis, Eliza Freeman, Alberta Pierce, Susan Pierce, Kathy Powell. Grade 2: Bonnie L. Antoine, Stanwick Prater, James Boone, Willie Freeman, Harold A. Nichols, Jeffrey Reddy, Laverne Barber, James Saxon, Franklin Thurman, Clarence Wood, Oswald Williams, Ruth Cherry, Ruthlene Graham, Irene Hill. Grade 3: Jane Hazel, Arnolda France, Gene Powell, Elnora Walker, Christopher Williams. Grade 4: Marvin Alexander, James Cherry, John Flowers, Donald Gowin, L. Ann Johnson, Constantine Pierce, George Nichols, Carolyn Pierce, Mary D. Biero, Wynette Pierce, Barbara A. Powell, Joseph Powell, Stella J. Bostey, Pauline Shaw, Lillian Smith, Doris T. Brown, James Walker, Lane-ven Hill. Grade 5: Doris Boone, Daniel Freeman, Sidney Hazel, Bruce Smith, Walter Smith, Emma Seebens, Quincy Stephens, Leroy Sitten. Grade 6: Jackie Cherry, Pease Cherry, John Freeman, Ernestine Carolyn, Alberta Green, Sylvia Johnson, Annie L. Nichols, William Nichols, Pauline Parker, Genevieve Powell, James Smith, Foster Wheeler, Genevieve Wheeler, Daniel Walker, Roy Ann Ward, Rosa M. White, Dewey Vereen. Grade 7: Spencer B. Blevins, Vera Barton, Corral Boone, Lee Carol Boone, Franklin Hicks, James Mitchell, James Mitchell, John Franklin, Phillip, Lovell Biene, Malvina Thurman, Betsy White, Delphine Davis. Grade 8: Betty Boone, Marion Bunnell, Jacobson Dullies, Shirley Dudley, Judy Freeman, Anita Hassell, Dolores Johnson, Betsy Pierce, Eleanor Powell, John Shaw, Jr., Vera O. Thurman. Grade 9: Francis Armstrong, Madeline Banks, Elizabeth Boone, Yvonne Carter, Richard George, Annice Henderson, Edna Mace, Mary Pierce, Laurine Minter, Mary Smith, David Solomon, Evelyn Swinton. Grade 10: Ernestine Pierce, Gwendolyn Sutton. Grade 11: Estier M. Baxter, Selma Rodgers. Grade 12: Martha Brown, Dushin B. Daniels.

Hopping About TARHEELIA

By Jay Bee Aytch

SNOW DISRUPTS SCHOOLS ROCKY MOUNT—An unusual heavy snow (19 inches) upst the Christmas holidays for all schools in the tobacco-belt area of Eastern Tarheelia from Raleigh to the coast at Elizabeth City last week when schools were closed from to four days.

Christmas musical programs were delayed and in some cases dispensed with because of transportation difficulties. Only the pupils were happy to get time out.

Not only Santa Claus, but even the Stork, apparently got snow-bound since he could not deliver his gifts in several days overdue in at least one home here.

Many stores were closed for a day or more while only dealers in toys, tie chains and illicit liquors enjoyed a good business during the period.

SNOW DEATHS At least two deaths were attributed to the heavy snow. Henry Battle, age 42, was found dead after several hours exposure in a lot near his home where 18 inches of snow had fallen in the western sector of the city. No sign of foul play was indicated, according to officers.

Near Whitakers - 12 miles north on busy U. S. 301 - Willie Applewhite, an apparently little-known person in the area, was found lying helpless on the road by some boys who reportedly went to call an ambulance. Meanwhile, before they could flag an oncoming truck the wheels of the truck crushed Applewhite's head, according to County Coroner M. C. Gullett and sheriff's officers. It was not ascertained why the man was not forcibly removed from the road.

Dr. William M. Sessions continues ill at his home on Pennsylvania Avenue.

Dr. B. J. Burnett is also ill at his home. Dr. George W. Bullock, who has been an invalid for several years, remains about the same at his home under the watchful eye of his wife, Mrs. Battle D. Bullock.

and daughter, Mrs. Emma B. Wilkins. From Quaker City Mrs. Mary H. Walker reports she expects to arrive on Christmas Day for a visit with her father, J. L. Harrison and family near Tarboro.

ROG COLLIE; NO 'CURE' Halcy Collins, Rt. 2, Lenoirburg, should be 'cured' of trading with Fortune Tellers, if not 'cured' of his ailments. Madam Margaret Dunn, reportedly a "41-year-old gypsy" located near the Brick School Farm, is charged with having fleeced Collins, a Franklin County farmer, out of a $177-pound hog on the pretense of curing him of a spell. Said hog was valued at $200. It is stated.

Madam Dunn was bound over to Edgecombe Superior Court by Magistrate B. D. Rabil, Jr., after waiving preliminary hearing.

Reportedly Collins has sued Madam Dunn in Franklin County on a similar charge of pretending to "break a spell" on his life in the amount of $222.50. Collins said the woman asked the delivery of a hog so that she might use the freshly-killed and cleaned animal's vital organs to make "magic ointment" to relieve the spell on his life. He was supposed to have gotten the meat back in a few days. Collins says the large sow was not returned.

Collins is not so sure about whether or not the 'spell' which allegedly threatened his life is removed; but is quite sure that his 300-plus pounds of pork chops and chickens have vanished.

It is amazing how our people continue to be taken by film-film-film of various types; and fortune tellers who profess to always 'give you good-luck' while they, themselves, have such hard luck until they are continually on the move seeking new suckers to devour. The doctor and trained minister represent the best sources of advice in time of trouble. They cost much less.

Rules Listed For Protecting Children From Sex Perverts

CHICAGO (ANP)—Nearly all sex offenders have one characteristic - timidity - that furnishes the most promising way to protect children from them, according to an American Medical Association publication.

Because the sex criminal is usually timid, he will leave a child alone if he is resisted by the child at the outset of an encounter. Seldom will he pursue a girl or boy unless the child goes along with what is suggested.

Thus the child must be taught to resist firmly but politely all invitations from strangers, Beatrice Schapper, New York City, said in the November "Today's Health" magazine.

Teaching children to avoid situations that play into the hands of sex perverts is "one of the most delicate jobs parents face. But if you remember that sex offenders are generally timid, the job becomes less difficult," the article said.

Most important is to make certain that children have a home where they feel loved, understood and safe. They will come to their parents with anything out of the ordinary.

Children learn without harm other safety rules from their parents and they can be taught to be cautious with strangers without being told all the horrible things that could happen.

For instance a parent can combine admonitions such as "Look to the left and then to the right before starting across the street, and don't get in a car with a stranger."

The article listed some rules based on the recommendations of authorities and suggested that parents work out their own list of protecting their children in the community.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Goldsboro News

BY J. H. GRAHAM

BY J. H. GRAHAM GOLDSBORO — Mr. Alonzo J. Rue has been under the care of his doctor for the past week but we are glad to report that he now is well on the road to recovery.

All city and county schools have been closed for the past five days due to the heavy snow fall that hit these parts a week ago. According to weather reports there is more in the making. We presume teachers and students are taking advantage of the time preparing for Christmas.

The last report concerning Mr. W. A. Cole who is now in the hospital at Fort Bragg is that he is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. Robert Wright, post commander, Bryant Post, American Legion is doing nicely at Veterans Hospital, Fort Bragg.

The State Student Council Association met Thurs., Dec. 11 at Dilworth High School with a large number in attendance even though the weather was very rough. In attendance were delegates and sponsors from all parts of the state. Information received was that the meeting was successful and inspirational.

The funeral of Mr. Sandy Pounsey of New York City, brother of Rev. S. O. Pounsey of Carver Heights was solemnized in Raleigh Sunday, Dec. 14.

We recently were in the post office mailing Christmas greeting cards. The thought came to us what a pleasant world this would be to us if every day in a pleasant way we in our so-called friends thought as they appear to on Christmas color is skin deep. Let us not try to Day. It is said and truly so that camouflage our true self by doing things outwardly that are not within.

The funeral service and ceremonies were performed for a beloved postman, husband, father

BY D. W. HEADEN PITTSBORO — Carl L. Headen youngest son of Clyde Headen and the late Mrs. Callie Headen of Goldsboro, will preach his first sermon at the Aston Church, High Church, Sunday, December 21, at 2:30 p. m.

Headen was a member of J. S. Waters High School's 1958 graduating class of Goldsboro and is now a freshman at the St. Augustine's College, Raleigh.

He served as president of his junior class, was awarded medals for "all-around student," was honor student and most outstanding student of his graduating class. He was also an active member and class leader of the above-named church.

extract and nutmeg in mixture bowl. Add pudding mix and broil slowly with one beat until just and well mixed about 1 minute. Do not overheat; mixture will be thin.

METHOD: Combine milk, rum

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump to conclusions. By becoming upset you may frighten the child. Report the incident to the police. Do not tell your next-door neighbor, or a friend, or a relative, unless you are sure the child's attitude toward sex is not being affected. - 14. Specialists report that most sex offenders, who, properly handled, tend to be forgotten in time.

Children should be told to respect to parents, teachers, a policeman, storekeeper or other older persons on the street who, - 1. Ask a child to go anywhere with him - to a car, a private home, a movie, or for a walk. The child should say "no" politely and firmly. - 2. Try to talk with a child who is taken out of his home by a stranger. The child should tell an adult. - 3. Try to join children's games unless asked. Adults, the man should be told "no" firmly but politely. - 4. Others should or toys on a playground. - 5. Children should write down the license number of any stranger's car. If they have no paper or pencil, the number can be scratched with a stick in the dirt or with a stone on the sidewalk. - 6. Children see the same man several times near the playground or about the street and he starts talking to them, they should tell their parents. They should tell their teacher or parents if he refuses to stop talking to them. - 7. Children should be told not to play near public toilets, to stay with other children to avoid playing in alleys or deserted buildings, and to take a red alarm to the playground, church, movie, or store. - 8. Children should not go out alone at night, not even in their own back yard. - 9. Any change in plans should be discussed with the parents over the telephone. - 10. Parents should never send a message by a stranger to a child at school or on a playground. - 11. If a driver attempts to pick up or pull a child into his car, the child should resist and run as fast as he can to the nearest store or home. - 12. When a child has been involved in an unwelcome incident, parents should never scold, blame, or punish the child. - 13. Mrs. Schapper said to parents: "Keep calm. Don't jump