

Gives Up His Plans To Enter Miss. College

HATTIESBURG, Miss. — Clyde Kennard, Notified Mississippi Southern College Monday he has given up plans to attempt enrollment at the all-white school upon the advice of "many competent people."

Kennard delivered a note to college president W. D. McCurt in person this afternoon. The note read: "Upon the honest advice of many competent people, I have decided that to insist on my right to enroll at Mississippi Southern College at this point perhaps would not be in the best interest of the general community."

Less than a month ago, the 30-year-old former University of Chicago student had vowed to file a court suit if it took that to be admitted to Mississippi Southern. He had also said he would have "no reservations" about asking for help from the NAACP.

Kennard said at that time he would submit an application for enrollment as an undergraduate for the winter quarter which began today.

He said he wanted to attend Southern because he needed to stay at home to look after his mother.

PASTOR IS INSTALLED—Rev. Lorenzo A. Lynch, right, was formally installed last Sunday as the 21st minister to the 93-year-old Providence Baptist Church in Greensboro. Principal participants in the formalities included: Dr. William R. Strasser, left, president of Shaw University at Raleigh, who delivered the installation sermon, and George H. Roach, center, mayor of Greensboro, who brought greetings from the citizens of the city.

Anson, Bertie, Orange, Robeson:

4 North Carolina Counties Finalists In "C'ty Of Yr."

GREENSBORO — Four counties were named this week as finalists for the 1958 "County of the Year" award, with special reference to Negroes in the North Carolina Rural Progress Campaign.

Anson, Bertie, Orange and Robeson Counties are the finalists, according to an announcement given on Thursday afternoon by Dr. G. F. Rankin, acting dean of the School of Agriculture at A&T College and chairman of the N. C. Rural Progress Committee. He said that the four had won out in district eliminations in which seventy-one counties were in competition during the past year.

The winning county will receive a plaque and a cash prize, the latter to be used "for any worthwhile purpose accruing to the benefit of the people in the County." The runner-up counties will get cash prizes. The prizes are being given by the North Carolina Board of Agricultural Agencies.

The contest, sponsored by A&T College, has been conducted since 1952 and the winning counties include: Hertford, 1952; Orange, 1953; Sampson, 1954; Nash, 1955; Person, 1956 and Duplin, 1957.

The State committee will later this month visit each of the finalist counties to make "on the spot" evaluations to select the winning county. The schedule of visits includes: Anson County, January 26; Robeson County, January 27; Bertie County, January 28 and Orange County, January 29. Dr. Rankin stated that the final decision would be rendered immediately following the visits.

Members of the State committee, in addition to Dr. Rankin, include: W. T. Johnson, assistant State supervisor of Vocational Agriculture; E. E. Jones, State Agent, in charge of the A&T College Extension Service; E. F. Corbett, Public Relations Director and Mrs. M. M. Brown, assistant State Home Demonstration Agent, all of A&T College; A. W. Solomon, field representative, N. C. Farm Bureau Federation and Dr. Jones E. Jeffries, tobacco marketing specialist, U. S. Production Marketing Administration, both of Greensboro.

Other committee members are: Mrs. Ruth L. Woodson, supervisor of N. C. Negro Elementary Schools; Dr. Frank A. Tolliver, supervisor of N. C. Negro High Schools; Dr. J. L. Larkins, consultant, N. C. Department of Public Welfare and Mrs. Edna G. Trotter, supervisor, School Lunch Program, all of Raleigh and Mrs. Lucy F. James and Mrs. Marie C. Moffitt both of Durham, area supervisors in Vocational Home Economics.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Inc., Raleigh

39TH BIRTHDAY
The sorority held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Soror Mary Carnage, 1117 East Martin Street Saturday.

Sorors Addie Logan and Baker had charge of the Founders Day Program. The program consisted of musical selections rendered by Soror Emily Kelly; poem, Soror Mildred Chavis; and a unique "Inquiry Logue" giving the history of the chapter. This was done very interestingly and beautifully as well as informatively by Sorors Logan and Baker.

Members present were as follows: Sorors Logan, Kelly, Pope, M. P. Lane, Ligon, Jones McKinney, Brown, Thomas, Williams, P. Young, Alston, McHaffey, D. Lane, Evans, Josephine Saunders, James, Yarborough, Veasey and Baker.

All enjoyed a very delicious dinner served by the hostesses, Sorors Carnage, Pope, M. Ligon and D. Lane.

Soror Justine Davis was missed from the meeting due to the illness of her mother, Soror Katherine Shepard also was ill. We hope all will be better soon.

The sorors spent a lovely evening.

Beauticians Set Confab For Ohio

CLEVELAND, Ohio — United Beauty School Owners and Teachers Association and Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority and Fraternity announces the dates of their 14th Annual Convention at Cleveland, Ohio, April 12, 13, 14 and 15.

The headquarters for the sessions will be at the Masonic Temple, Euclid Avenue at East 36th St.

The nation's top educators, stylists and demonstrators will be presented during the Convention.

In-service training for teachers of cosmetology in leading private, vocational high schools and colleges will be a special feature during the Convention.

All beauticians of the nation are invited as special guests of the National Officers of Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority and Fraternity, namely, Lucille Schuler, Billye Dunlap, Mae Garris and Eddie Burk, to participate in their international hair style show and beauty pageant.

For further information contact Mrs. Marjorie Joyner, 5607 So. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

U. S. milk production in 1959 will probably be more nearly in balance with demand than in any of the past six years. Production per cow is expected to increase to another new record high, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, but total number of cows will decline. Increased consumption of milk products should more than compensate for a smaller increase in total production.

Farm Families Of Wake Complete Plans For A Day-Long Institute

Farm families of Wake County have completed plans for holding their annual day-long Farmers and Homemakers Institute in Greenleaf Chapel of Shaw University, Tuesday, January 27.

The Institute, which is under the direction of the Negro Extension Agents of Wake County, will begin at 10:00 a. m. and last through the day. A barbecue lunch will be served from 12:00 to 1:00 p. m.

Presiding over the morning and afternoon sessions will be Mrs. Ada Perry, Zebulon, and Fred Richardson, Route 2, Apex. Greetings will be brought by Dr. W. R. Strasser, president of Shaw University, and the program summary will be given by E. E. Jones, State Extension Agent.

Profitable swine production will be discussed by Dr. A. J. Clawson, Professor of Animal Husbandry, N. C. State College, and a panel discussion on "Better Housing for Convenience and Comfort" will be conducted by five Wake County farm families.

"Wise Use of Credit" will be discussed by Mrs. G. K. Greenleaf, Subject Matter Specialist, A. & T. College, Greensboro. S. N. Hawks, Tobacco Specialist, State College, will discuss "Steps in Good Tobacco Production."

Others taking part on the program are Wake County farm men and women: Walter Young, Route 2, Wake Forest; Ralph Justice, Route 1, Neuse; Ernest Betts, Route 1, Holly Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Grover Horbin, Route 2, Wendell; Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Lane, Route 2, Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. Algeo Burdette, Route 2, Fuquay Springs; Mrs. Neale Betts, Route 1, Holly Springs and Mrs. Tiruella Bell, Route 1, Garner.

All Wake County farm leaders and friends are invited.

NAACP To Court: Curb Faubus, Reopen Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (AP) — The NAACP last week asked the federal court to declare unconstitutional laws under which Gov. Orval Faubus closed Little Rock's three public high schools last September, and order the reopening of the schools.

NAACP attorney, Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff filed a motion in U. S. District Court here, asking that a three-judge court be set up to pass on the validity of the Arkansas anti-integration edicts which gave Faubus the authority to close the school in defiance of court-ordered integration. The NAACP also asked the court to void any laws the Arkansas Legislature may pass authorizing funds for segregated schools.

It further requested that all state fiscal officers and members of the city's board of education be made parties to its court action.

The latter was a move designed to thwart Faubus' proposals to the legislature for additional laws to support his school segregation schemes.

Faubus in his inaugural address before the state legislature last week proposed a constitutional amendment which would permit school districts to allot money to students on a pro-rata basis for use in any schools they may choose, and a law qualifying private school teachers for the state teacher retirement program.

No date was immediately set for hearing on the NAACP motion.

Faubus, meanwhile, was still breathing defiance. He told a news conference he sees no prospects for an early opening of the schools. The schools have been closed since last September 12 when Faubus invoked the state's anti-integration laws. A large number of the more than 3,000 students are still idle as a result. Others have entered makeshift schools or attending correspondence courses from the University of Arkansas.

One of the schools rushed into operation to accommodate "white students only" is the Roney High School, supported by the Little Rock Private School Corporation. Faubus has promised to pass special laws to authorize financial aid to the school.

However, if the NAACP succeeds in getting the court to void the segregation laws, the way will be paved for reopening the schools.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in a suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
