

INSTITUTE TO PRESENT DR. JULIAN

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Among his honors have been recognition as the Chicagoan of the Year, Northwestern University's Centennial Distinguished Citizen Award, and the Distinguished Merit Award from the DeCalogue Society of Lawyers. His wife, too, is a distinguished scholar. They have three children.

Dr. Kenneth O. Beatty, professor of chemical engineering at State College, will introduce Dr. Julian. Rev. Caylord B. Noyce will preside, and music will be furnished by the United Church choir, Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Hoffman, director and organist, respectively.

A fellowship dinner will be held at 6 o'clock, reservations for which must be made by 1 p.m. at the church office. At 7:00, four discussion groups will meet, as follows:

Woodrow Price, managing editor of the News and Observer, will discuss "A Proposed Revision of the Jury System" at a session on the courts sponsored by the Raleigh League of Women Voters and held in the kindergarten room.

Dr. Waldo Beach, professor in the Duke Divinity School, will speak on "Church-State Relations in American Democracy" at the session on religion and politics in Friendly Hall, sponsored by Rev. John Brown and Rev. Robert L. Shirley.

FLA. PRISON NEW HOME OF FAKE PRINCE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Myers Jan. 5 when he sought to enter a hospital. Authorities, noting his claim of being a prince, remembered reports of such incidences in other states and called police.

Woods admitted writing the worthless check in Danville, Va., which he signed as Crown Prince Kawama Lapula Adamole of Portuguese East Africa, on a bank in Roxboro, Mass.

The man had been picked up 23 times in 13 states on such charges as vagrancy, narcotics addiction, investigation and accepting money on false pretenses.

At one time he was investigated by immigration authorities on the basis of his claim of being an African. Woods told police officers that he was a prince when he was picked up in a Florida prison.

BROOKS HAYS TO SHAW MON.

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Politics and public affairs have played major roles in Congressman Hays' early life as he managed his father's campaign in 1932 for the same congressional seat, which he himself was later to win.

He has long fought for the extension of educational and economic opportunities for Negroes in the South and has taken active part in inter-racial organizations. After coming to congress he continued his interest in that complex problem.

He is much in demand as a speaker, and is regarded as one of the best storytellers in the United States. He received the Speaker of the Year award from the University of Arkansas in 1958.

In 1955 he was a member of the United States Delegation to the United Nations. In 1958 he was appointed a member of the Select Committee on Space Exploration and Astronautics.

The public is invited to hear him.

Church Bonus Money Rules

All purchase slips of recent purchases presented to your church must come from stores advertising in the CAROLINIAN. Each week carries a date in the Bonus Money period. Purchases eligible must come from the store during the week the ad appears.

No purchase slips representing purchases should be submitted. All receipts must come from individual purchases. All churches in Raleigh and Wake County are eligible.

All purchase slips must bear the name of the store from which the purchase was made. All purchase slips should be submitted in the name of the church, and should be in the office of the CAROLINIAN the Monday following close of Bonus period.

In order that smaller churches may have an equal opportunity to share in the Bonus Money the following regulation is expedient: No church of over 250 members will be awarded 1st Bonus Money consecutively. If about a church of 200 or more members receive 1st Bonus Money after the first period, it would have to wait until the third Bonus period to be presented list aware again, except where a church has 250 or less members, then it could win top Bonus awards consecutively. However, this does not mean that second and third awards cannot be sought consecutively. Consequently every church group has the opportunity to secure an award every period.

No purchase of over $25 from any one merchant during a week can be counted. There is a ceiling of $75 per person a week for grocery purchases. In the event of the same amount of purchases by more than one entry, the award will be divided.

Weekly purchase totals should be shown on each packet and total placed on the outside of the envelope carrying the period entry, along with name and address. Bonus money winners will be announced in the issue following the closing of each period. All entries remain the property of the CAROLINIAN. All listing is final when the names of the Bonus Money winners are announced in the CAROLINIAN and no responsibility is accepted by this newspaper beyond that point. No receipts from banks will be considered, except payment on mortgages.

Raymond Sanger, assistant to School Superintendent T. C. Williams, said the children entered Hammond High School and the elementary schools, Picklin and Ramsay, with out incident. "It was a normal situation all around," he said.

MOTHER IS RAPED AT CHARLOTTE

The victim said the man, clad in a brown shirt and about 24 years old, bound her hands with a stocking and then attacked her. The daughter found the woman lying on a floor in the bedroom.

The building was out of range of fire hydrants and three trucks and a street washer were used to bring more than 6,000 gallons of water to the scene. Neighbors used available garden hoses in an attempt to extinguish the blaze and to save a church, located next door.

JONES BROS. FREED BY A LOCAL JURY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) mitted hitting the dead man over the head with a "stick" or large root, about three to four inches in diameter and about five feet long. David Jones said he struck Bumpass while the latter was squatting down behind his auto reloading the weapon.

Bumpass died of chest wounds Sunday at St. Agnes Hospital. Alfred Jones, another Jones brother, said he was called to the Scales place Monday and was shown a single-shot shotgun hidden under the steps of the steps of the Scales store. He said Scales showed him the gun.

SAW SHOTGUN Scales was put on the stand and said he saw the gun Monday morning when sweeping out the store. He said there was a hole in the step and he could see the gun through the hole. He said so far as he knew the gun was still there.

Other items expected to command wide attention are proposals to make intimidation by threat or violence against communities desegregating public schools, according to Supreme Court decisions, a criminal offense, and a state-wide tenure provision for teachers "professionally and otherwise qualified."

REQUESTS OF TEACHERS TO LAWMAKERS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Taylor, who is a former president of the state teacher's group, has been interested in dividing escheats revenue among all state colleges since 1953. He and Governor Luther Hodges clashed in the public press about the matter last August after the governor declined to recommend Taylor's proposal regarding escheats to a commission studying revision of the North Carolina constitution.

DRIVER ATTACKED

William Henry Suggs, a school bus driver, who did pick up some pupils, told officers that he was beaten and his clothing was torn when he arrived at GCTS. Two other driver, Albert Lewis, Jr., and Carl Edwards were charged with the assault.

Needs filed with the board included a new cafeteria to substitute for an existing cafeteria that was improvised and a gymnasium.

Last November, Greene voters approved two to one a $450,000 bond issue for consolidating four white high schools of the county. Greene County's school population is 54 percent Negro and the new white consolidated high school would be located within a mile and a half of four of the county's Negro schools.

Supt. Davis said in 1949 the Greene County Board of Education outlined a program to cover a period of years and the program was approved by the State Board of Education.

"We are working toward that program," he declared, noting that in 1952 the county built an annex to the Greene County Training School costing approximately $200,000.

State Briefs

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Columbus Recorder's Court, a judge melted out sentenced to Lacy McKoy, Willie McKoy and George McKoy. They paid fines totaling $150, plus costs; a $101 repair bill for Rhodes dental work; $50 for service station attendant, Ralph Jordan, who was called to help on the arrest; $68.50 for Rhodes' service jacket, torn in the melee. Total bill: $449.50. The alternative was two years on the roads.

CHILD & CAR VICTIM GASTONIA — Gene Wright, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright of Gastonia, was killed Saturday when struck by a coal truck. Police quoted the driver, James Edwards, 32, as saying he didn't see the child dart from behind a parked car and into the side of the truck. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Edwards was freed on a bond of $1,000 on a technical charge of involuntary manslaughter. BANK EMPLOYEE INDICTED RALEIGH — Mrs. Dixie Morgan Johnson, former employee of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank here and a resident of Bledsoe Avenue, was indicted by a Federal grand jury Monday for making false entries into accounts.

She is charged with taking $100 from the N. C. Teachers' Association and $200 from Shaw University. Mrs. Johnson was indicted on a total of 10 counts.

The Morning Star Baptist Church Sunday School opened at 11 a. m. by singing "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus." The subject of the lesson was, "Jesus Questioned About the Resurrection."

Morning services opened at noon with the singing of "Holy, Holy, Holy," and the sermon was given by Rev. Spencer. He preached from the book of Exodus, the 14th chapter and the 19th verse, dealing with a pillow of fire.

The minister showed how a man's life got saved by a pillow. The BTU opened at 7 p. m. with the vice-president in charge. The subject was, "Doing Right in Spite of Criticism."
