Church School Convention Ends At Livingstone

SALISBURY — Fifteen bishops, twelve general officers, fifteen hundred delegates and a comparable number of visitors closed the quadrennial session of the General Convention on Christian Education and General Assembly and National Council of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, here on Friday, August 10, on the theme of the meet, "The Church's Responsibility for Freedom."

The largest group of churchmen ever assembled for the delegation brought. Bishop S. G. Spottswood, Chairman of the Board of the NAACP, declared any semblance of segregation, discrimination, and injustice and pledged the unstinted support of the militant organization to any agency including the AME Zion Church whose goal was freedom and whose destiny is democracy.

The Convention went into every facet of human endeavor beginning with the home, and the moral essence of home life. Freedom of the home with regard to service to the family, the community, the church and the nation keynoteed that phase.

Sex, courtship and marriage were discussed in all their ramifications and the youth were given a new insight into problems in this area of their lives.

Student Council Workshop Opens Sunday At Shaw

The Fifth Annual Student Council Leadership Workshop sponsored by the North Carolina Association of Student Councils will be held at Shaw University August 19-22, 1962. All participants are to report by 4 p. m. August 19.

The workshop is endorsed by the Department of Secondary School Principals of the North Carolina Teachers Association and the National Association of Student Councils.

The workshop is a school for student council leaders, student council sponsors, and administrators. There will be formal classes, group discussion, demonstrations, and library research.

Objectives of the workshop are to provide instruction for sponsors and leaders, to promote state wide growth of the student council, to provide an opportunity to learn what is recommended and what works, to develop techniques for more efficient leadership, and to

As evidence of the interest in freedom, telegrams were sent to Vice President Lyndon Johnson and president of the United States Senate, that he use the kind influence of his office to stop those dragging feet on the confirmation of Thurgood Marshall as U. S. Federal Judge.

A telegram was also sent to Governor Terry Sanford who welcomed the Convention on Wednesday, the Mayor, and Chief of Police of Durham and also the Sheriff of Durham county to use their influence to see that the ends of justice were met in the jailing of four persons in the "Freedom Highway" drive by Judge A. R. Wilson for the part students played in attempting to crack Howard Johnson's restaurant policy in the city of Durham.

acquaint the students with the role of the student council in the development of citizenship training. The workshop is open to all secondary schools holding membership in the North Carolina Association of Student Councils. The instruction will cover parliamentary procedure, leadership techniques, group dynamics, aims and objectives, evaluation methods, organization, and functional projects.

In June at the 26th annual conference of the National Association of Student Councils held in San Diego, California, the National Association of Student Councils awarded to Mrs. Thelma T. Daley, Executive Secretary, NCASC, a certificate of appreciation for outstanding work with the student councils in the State of North Carolina. The coveted award recognizes the state association as one of the outstanding associations in the fifty states.

One of the stipulation for consideration by the National Association for making such an award is the sponsoring of a summer leadership workshop. This is the fourth consecutive year that the North Carolina Association of Student Councils has been so honored with such an award.

The workshop will be directed by
