GARDEN TIME

gral part of family life. It is here that the family can live and play together and their friends can enjoy the great out-of-doors. The development of plans and arrangements are reflections of individual tastes and family compromises. It lends itself to family projects, nature study, outdoor cookery, hobbies, recreation, fruit and vegetable production and relaxation. How it develops is determined by the occupants and their desires. Whatever the goal, a plan is necessary. The purpose of the plan is to determine individual preferences, an estimate of costs, establishing priorities for immediate needs, essentials that can wait and avoiding costly errors. Many mistakes are made in the beginning unless due consideration is given to site selection such as drainage, views and exposures. Errors in the selection of suitable plant materials may be disappointing and costly in time and labor. Planting trees too close together, tall growing shrubs under picture windows and poorly located walks and drives. These are just a few of the more common errors. The objectives of the plan are attractiveness, convenience, to be useful and interesting. These objectives may overlap as they are accomplished. Public attractiveness of the home and home grounds is an outward expression of the residents who live there. When the residents of a home or a community exhibit orderliness, neatness, and harmony, it never fails to attract attention and favorable comments because it reflects a spirit of community pride and neighborly relationships. School children can be taught to respect beautiful surroundings. From a material standpoint the attractiveness of a home and its surroundings will enhance property values having an attractive and well arranged farmstead. It is good for business.

With Faith... You Are Never Alone Attend Church Regularly

DESTINATION?

Postal employees do their best to interpret accurately the addresses written on our mail. However, some are so hastily written, and so poorly addressed that they may never reach their intended destination. A good many people go hastily through life, not realizing that they are headed in the wrong direction. The church points the way to salvation and desires that all should choose the way of our Lord and Saviour.

TAKE TIME FOR THE LORD ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
