Dismissed

Raleigh traffic officers lost another speeding case in Wake County Superior Court Wed. morning when Mrs. Harveigh White was freed of a charge brought against her Sept. 3 for driving 36 miles per hour, near the Berry O'Kelly School.

The case was tried in City Court on Sept. 21 and she was ordered to pay the cost of court. She appealed the sentence.

Sentenced

A 60-year-old man, who has been in the Wake County jail since last May, was sentenced to two years in prison in Wake Superior Court, Friday, for assaulting a female.

Herbert McLean, who told The CAROLINIAN that he had no steady employment and came here from Harnett County, after all his children left home and he had no one to help him farm, was found guilty by Judge Clawson Williams.

The accused man is charged with having raped a 12-year-old girl in his home. He denied the charge both to The CAROLINIAN and arresting officers. He said that he treated the child as one of his own and would not have molested her for anything in the world.

Luck Fails

Meivin Webster, who beat a manslaughter charge in City Court Friday, found his luck had run out on Monday, when Judge Pretlow Winborne sentenced him to nine months on the road for carrying a concealed weapon.

Webster plead self-defense in the killing of Johnnie Griffin at his home, C-7 Washington Terrace, when he is alleged to have shot Griffin after having been fired at, by him. Officers are said to have found a gun near the body of Griffin and Attorney Carl Churchill, who defended Webster, is said to have made capital of this evidence.

$8500 Asked

Chairman Jimmy Keck of the special committee recently organized to raise money to buy new uniforms for the Ligon school band, announced this week that plans are about ready to begin the campaign to raise the $8,500.00 needed.

The city has been divided into sections and groups, each having its own chairman. These groups include schools, churches, merchants, professionals, governmental employee and civic, fraternal and social organizations.

In order to realize the amount needed, each group will be assigned a quota to raise.

A special feature of this campaign will be a series of special events. It is expected that the Ligon band will be featured in several of these special events.

Mr. Keck has pointed to the fact that the uniforms now worn by the members of the Ligon band are now over 20 years old. He says that many of these uniforms have been patched up so many times that now patches are being applied to patches. He also points to the shabby appearance of the Ligon band when it is on display with bands from other cities.

It is hoped that the names of the various chairmen and the members of their committees can be announced next week. With this will also come the announcement of the opening date of the campaign.

Massenburg Final Rites Held Sunday

James Kenneth Massenburg, 114 S. Pettigrew Street, a former football star, official and cafe proprietor, died Wed. Jan. 30, at Wake Memorial Hospital.

For twenty years, "Kenny" as his friends liked to call him, was engaged in the cafe business on W. South St. Mr. Massenburg operated the Paradise Club for several years, the first of its kind in the city.

Son of the late James Settle and Maggie Birdsall Massenburg, he was born and reared in Raleigh. He attended the Washington High School and played football under the late Charlie Mack. He attended

Says White Man's Rule Must End

CHARLOTTE — Malcolm X, whose sect has continuously preached black supremacy as a panacea for white supremacy, brought his ideology to the campus of Johnson C. Smith University last week. He told the audience "the white man is on the decline."

He set the year 2,000 as the time when the white man would lose the reign and black people would rule the world. He did not say what nation would ascend to power, but continued to plug away at the fact that the Negro will one day stand on the top of the hill.

Malcolm X has been styled as the trouble shooter for the Black Muslims. They have figured in the news for sometime, even to the extent of blood shed.

City About Faces In Pool Fracas

The City Council moved swiftly and pointed toward making Raleigh equal to the task of democracy Monday when it voted to reopen the two swimming pools to the public this summer.

This was a reversal of the decision made last summer, when in the middle of a heat wave and with Raleigh sweltering the Council voted to close both pools to a mixed group entered the Pullen pool.

Mayor W. G. Enloe lost no time in telling persons who inquired as to whether this meant integration of the pools that the motion meant just what it said, "Open to the public. Negroes are part of the public."

Durham Hospital Cites Needs

DURHAM — Lincoln Hospital's financial condition came in for a lot of discussion at the meeting of the County Commissioners Monday. F. H. Scott, the director, reported that at the close of business, Dec. 31, 1962, that there was "a round a $50,000 deficit."

It was also brought out that the hospital was not getting enough from the county for its charity patients. A spokesman for the hospital told the Commissioners that 35 per cent of the load was charity and the nation's average was only 15 per cent.

J. H. Wheeler told the Commissioners that "we hope that the board will take the necessary steps to assure the trustees that the hospital will be adequately compensated for its charity patients."

He said Lincoln Hospital receives for county charity patients a per diem amount of $22.13, but "it is our understanding" that per diem amounts of $27.74 to Watauga Hospital and $26.74 to Duke Hospital are paid for charity patients sent there by the Welfare Department.

Dr. Leonard Baker, chairman of the executive committee of the Lincoln board and Duke Hospital staff member, called for the Commissioners to make a practical application of rule of thumbs as to "what you are paying one hospital and another."

"I wouldn't want to put any institution in a bad light," he added. He said he has no argument with Duke or Watauga Hospitals.

Still other reports are that the county fathers have considered converting Lincoln Hospital since many Negroes elect to receive medical treatment at local white hospitals, but that this notion has met with opposition from Lincoln Hospital leaders on the grounds that Negro doctors at Lincoln would no longer have a place for hospital practice under such a plan. Lincoln heads have for some time been making efforts to get the hospital into the public housing business as a means of easing its reported operational loss.

67 Colleges Bid For SC Athlete

LANCASTER, S. C. — Bennie Blocker, local high school star quarter back, is about convinced that there is still virtue in the old saying, "If you make the best mouse trap the world will make a beaten path to your door." Sixty-seven schools, throughout the nation, have knocked at his door.

This is exactly what has happened to the 6-5, 215 pound athlete. He has had offers from three southern white colleges. Representatives from Maryland and the University of Miami have called upon him.

Alumni of North Carolina College, Durham, have been trying to lure him to the campus of that college, in the hope that Coach Riddick will have the use of his great speed, his deceptive running and crafty generalship.

Both Races Guilty Says Farmer

The 24th Annual Institute of Religion opened its series of meetings, Monday, Feb. 4, at The United Church, with James Farmer, National Director, Congress of Racial Equality, as its first speaker.

Farmer told the capacity audience of whites and Negroes that the American Negro "has never been happy with segregation," and that segregation cannot live if Negroes do not want it. He stated that whites are just as guilty as Negroes in their acceptance of segregation.

"The problem of the 20th Century is the problem of the color line," said the speaker. All over the world the problem is discussed. Africans are more concerned about what is being done here about segregation than anything else.

Behind the birth of the Negro's interest in civil rights is World War II, the increasing educational opportunities and the emergence of the African nations. These factors give the Negro much to think a-
