

Raleigh Losing Dr. Davis To Durham Church

DR. GRADY D. DAVIS offered Durham pastorate

Clergyman, Civic Head Top Choice

The Rev. Dr. Grady Demus Davis, who has served in many capacities in Raleigh for the past eleven years, is considering relinquishing all of his duties to assume the full-time pastorate of the 900-member Union Baptist Church in Durham. When contacted by this newspaper Tuesday, the minister-educator would only say, "I am pondering the offer."

Dean of the Divinity School at Shaw University for the past 11 years and pastor of the 200-member Oberlin Baptist Church for ten years, the energetic Dr. Davis also finds time to serve as president of the Raleigh Citizens Association.

Members of the Durham church, whose pastor, the Rev. A. S. Green, died last May, have already unanimously approved the selection of Dr. Davis as their new pastor.

Dr. Davis is well-known to the city, state and nation as a minister, educator and orator of note. It was under the guiding hands

Nude Body Of Woman Discovered

STATESVILLE—Sheriff Charles Rumble reported Sunday that he had charged Robert Henry Green, 40-year-old Negro ex-convict with murder in the bizarre death of a white woman in insurance agent, whose nude body was discovered Saturday in a Negro cemetery near this town.

The victim, Mrs. Dorothy Rogers, also 40, had been badly beaten and was shot 3 times. Dr. Harry Underwood, surgeon, said two bullet wounds in her head caused death.

Sheriff Rumble said he had also learned that Mrs. Rogers has been at the home of Green earlier Saturday. Bloodstains were reportedly discovered in the bedroom, kitchen, bathroom and back porch of the defendant's home, a three-room apartment. Blood was also found in Green's automobile, Rumble stated.

Mayor Reid Names Harris Leader Of Bi-Racial Committee Of 15

Several weeks ago, The CAROLINIAN printed a partial list of members of Mayor James W. (Jim) Reid's new Bi-Racial Community Relations Committee. At that time, the daily papers were denied access to the names, but an official in Mayor Reid's office made several names known to this newspaper.

At another closed meeting last week, William C. (Buck) Harris, Raleigh attorney was named chairman of the Committee, heading the 15-member organization which replaced the Committee of 100, chosen to handle the May racial disturbances in the Capital City.

Musicians' Bus Plunges Off Highway

ROXBORO—Twenty-three musicians were injured, three seriously, when an activity bus carrying members of the Henderson Institute band, overturned eleven miles east of Roxboro on U. S. 198 about 8 p.m. last Friday.

Carrying 56 passengers, the bus overturned down an embankment just after rounding a curve. Marvin A. Laster, 27, the driver and a teacher at the Henderson school, said he lost control when he ran off the shoulder of the highway after meeting another vehicle.

Admitted to the Person Memorial Hospital here were three of the passengers: Ollie Fuller, 16, rib fractures; Miss Fatsy McCray, 18, concussions; and Miss Patricia Easley, 16, skull fracture.

Other members of the band were treated for bruises and cuts. The band was on its way to perform for a football game with the Henderson Institute team.

Presbyterians To Aid Cause

NEW YORK, N. Y. — United Presbyterians will be asked to contribute to a special fund to aid the victims of the nation's struggle for racial justice.

A minimum of $500,000 will be sought through a special offering in the denomination's 3,200 churches on Race Relations Sunday, next Feb. 8.

Adoption of the proposal came last week at a meeting of the United Presbyterian General Council, permanent advisory body of the 3.2 million member denomination. The funds will be used to provide bail for those arrested in civil rights demonstrations and to meet the costs of legal aid for such persons. They will also be used to relieve the financial distress of the families of those arrested.

The offering will also make it possible to supplement the salaries of United Presbyterian ministers so that they may remain in troubled areas when their congregations will no longer adequately support them.

Record-Breaking Crowd Hears Wife Of International Crusader

BY CHARLES R. JONES

Mrs. Martin Luther King, Jr., First Lady of the Southern civil rights movement, assured an audience of some 1400 persons here Sunday morning that "God is on our side and we are going to win in this revolution that is now upon us."

She was addressing a record-breaking crowd attending the Eleventh Annual Women's Day services at the First Baptist Church. The program was ably presided over by Miss T. Lorraine Cumbo, Women's Day chairman, who introduced the speaker.

Using as her subject, "A Christian Looks at a World in Revolution," Mrs. Coretta Scott King delivered a moving address to a hushed audience, which overflowed the church, its balcony and the auditorium in the basement of the edifice, which was equipped with a loudspeaker. Persons of all religious faiths were observed in the audience by this writer.

The strikingly attractive speaker said: "I'm glad that God has seen fit to use my husband and myself in this revolution. We have been attacked, threatened and our telephone has, on occasion, rung incessantly, but if necessary, we are willing to make the Supreme Sacrifice."

A Marion, Alabama native, Mrs. King also stated: "The word revolution has not always been a respected word. It suggests change as was proved by the 'Spirit of '76,' Hitler's revolt, and the revolt which took place in the Roman Empire when Jesus Christ was born, changing the whole course of history forevermore."

"Something has happened during the second half of the 20th Century," she continued, "reminiscent of the early Church. We are finally going to bring about the brotherhood of man and in the era of Christianity has no meaning unless it can be applied to our daily lives.

"You can't be free and live in slavery and oppression. The only problem existing between the Negro and white is that of justice or injustice. God works through people to fulfill his mission.

"The authors of our Constitution must have been divinely inspired, especially
