Human Relations Unit Names Warrick Head

The Providence Human Relations Commission named James R. Warrick Jr., 44, of 58 Legion Way, Cranston, recently as its $8,500 executive director.

A former administrative officer for the Rhode Island Civil Defense

Lt. Col. (Ret.) JAMES WARRICK

Council, Mr. Warrick has been job development and employment director for the Urban League for the last 16 months.

A World War II Army veteran, he rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel before retiring in 1961 after two years as Army adviser at the Cranston Street Army, the job that brought him to Rhode Island.

The Harrisburg, Pa., native was commissioned in 1942 after completing officer candidate school.

Judge Frank Licht, chairman of the subcommittee which chose Mr. Warrick from a field of 21 candidates, reported that he was the unanimous choice of the group. Judge Licht said the committee was greatly impressed by Mr. Warrick's leadership abilities and great potential.

The subcommittee felt, he said, that Mr. Warrick's ability, personality and experience and tact outweighed the greater educational qualifications of some of the other candidates for the job.

The appointee attended Lincoln in his home state of Pennsylvania and holds 62 credit hours toward a degree in military science from the University of Maryland where he studied for two years. He has taken a URI extension course in personnel administration.

The commission obtained the consent of Mayor Walter H. Reynolds for the appointment and announced that Mr. Warrick would sit in on the selection of appointees the other two staff jobs, a field worker at $5,500 a year, and an administrative assistant at $4,800.

to take place here this week in the Statesville Recorder's Court.

96TH STATE BAPTIST MEET IS PLANNED

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Mostly on Wednesday morning on the sub-theme, "Stewardship as a Mark of True Witness" and by the Reverend W. B. Lewis on Thursday morning on the sub-theme "Breadth and Depth of True Witness."

Convention highlights will include an address by Dr. Garland Hendrich, professor at Southeastern Baptist Seminary; a sermon by Dr. E. C. Smith of Washington, D. C.; an address by Dr. Wendell C. Somerville, Executive Secretary of the Lott Carey Foreign Mission Convention; and Dr. Ralph Abernathy, outstanding civil rights leader and pastor from Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. O. L. Sherrill, executive secretary of the Convention, predicts a banner year in giving to the various convention objectives, reports of which will be given at the convention. Shaw University, the convention's major educational objective, will be represented again this year by Dr. N. H. Harris, interim president and the University Choral Society, under the direction of Prof. Harry Gil-Smythe. Dr. Grady D. Davis, dean of Shaw's Divinity School, will deliver the educational sermon and students from the seminary will lead in worship on Thursday morning.

Dr. R. Mack Pitts, the convention's president, will deliver the annual address on Thursday morning. A large attendance of pastors and messengers is expected this year and the local committee is making extensive plans for the entertainment.

The General Baptist State Convention has a membership of more than 300,000 persons and 1,416 churches in North Carolina.

"Therefore," he said, "at the very moment that the country has begun to show a keen awareness of the problems of preparing Negroes for better jobs, and at the same time when Negroes are making their strongest bid for equal consideration, we find the standards creeping higher and higher and our capacity to prepare our students is not improving commensurately."

He told the group that there are encouraging signs. "Every day we discover another Negro who came through traditionally Negro educational paths, reared in a state which provided meager and segregated educational opportunities, occupying a position of trust and responsibility with success."

CLERGYMAN, CIVIC HEAD PONDERS MOVE

Officials at Rex Hospital Hospital described Lee's condition as satisfactory Saturday after he returned from surgery for cuts on his legs, face and hand.

Lee told officers that he was lying on the rear seat of his automobile at 3 a.m. when an unknown man approached him and asked for money.

The victim described his assailant as being six feet tall and weighing about 175 pounds.

No leads had been turned up at CAROLINIAN press time.

MINISTER GETS 60-DAY TERM

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) der, who is chairman of the local chapter of the NAACP, filed notice of appeal to the Harnett Superior Court in Lillington, and bond was set at $200 on each count.

Judge Hill specified that the two sentences run consecutively, and also overruled a motion by the defense that aiding and abetting is not indictable because it is a misdemeanor.

This court has disposed of 87 other cases of trespass, involving 18 persons arrested for demonstrating.

Fifty-nine were convicted, two were found innocent and six were not prosecuted. Those convicted were sentenced to 30-days jail terms, but were released on bonds of $100 each when appeals were taken to the Harnett high court.

FORUM ORATOR

Mrs. Sarah Herbin, North Carolina's new Employment Service Representative, will address a Public Affairs Forum at the Bloodworth St. YMCA on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 8 p. m.

She will discuss the problems involved in job placements and the upgrading of Negro labor in non-traditional jobs. Also emphasized will be the jobs presently available and the requirements that must be met by successful applicants.

At 12:30 p. m. on Monday, Oct. 28, Mrs. Herbin will address the Ministerial Alliance at the "Y" on the subject "Job Opportunities," and at 7:30 p. m., will speak to a group of job applicants for clerical positions.

VISIT FATHER IN CITY

Mr. and Mrs. John Harris of Washington, D. C. formerly of Raleigh, visited his father on E. Lenoir Street recently. The Harrises reported having an enjoyable stay in the Tar Heel Capital City.

GARNER — The library department of the Garner Consolidated School presented two films last week in the school's gymnasium. Alaska Adventures Topics, White Hunt also the feature attraction. Around the Clock starring Chubby Checker. The Garner committee presented a talent show Saturday night in the school gymnasium. Three prizes were given. First prize went to the guest school which was State School for Blind and Deaf. Second prize was won by the Royal Casanovas, which are the juniors and seniors of Garner School.

Miss Janice Leach presented a waist contest at the Bar-A-Ranch Wednesday. A prize was given to the person with the smallest and largest waist.

The Bar-A-Ranch owned and operated by Mr. Paul Avery has organized a social club. Officers are:

Roy Collins, president; James Taylor, vice-president; Delores Penny, captain Cheer squad. The club has organized, a basketball team which will be host to the Garner Consolidated School Tigers.

Garner Tigers really carried them to be N. C. Eastern and Western division champions when they met the Friendship Braves in the final game of the series in Morrisville on last Saturday. The Friendship Braves took a three run lead in the beginning of the first inning and at the bottom of the first inning the Tigers came out with four runs. Due to an accident by one of the most and top players of the year, Nathan Cooke was unable to play but the Tigers held the lead from beginning to end. Pitcher for the Tigers was an all new member, Calvin Williams who pitched a very exciting game holding the Braves to only 6 hits, 1 walk and 8 strike outs. The losing pitcher for the Braves was Little Smith, allowing the Tigers 8 hits, 0 walks and 7 strike outs. Before being relieved by Richard Lynn at the top of the 4th inning Lynn allowed the Tigers 5 hits 5 walks and strike out 2. The Tigers ended their 63 season with a 20-3 record. Best wishes and hope for a better series to Mr. James Wilson, from Apex.

Mr. Octavious Wilson, manager for the Tigers gave up his post on Sept. 30. He has been manager for the Tigers for the last four years. His replacement will be his brother, Mr. West Wilson. We are very proud to have this position filled and are ready for another year of excitement.

At the Sunday morning worship, the Rev. Harold E. Braxton, college minister, will deliver the annual homecoming sermon.

NC SHRINERS FETE IMPERIAL POTENTATE

Mr. Murrell said a preliminary meeting was held at the hotel Oct. 13 and the Shrine was well represented from throughout the state. It was his belief that this would be the largest demonstration ever held in the Desert for an Imperial Potentate.

Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is a confidante of President, Kings and Queens, and is presently embroiled in a dispute with officials of Birmingham to hire Negro police officers. She has travelled with him to 15 countries.

The orator-concert singer admitted "I didn't really understand what it meant to pray until 1955 and the Montgomery bus boycott, and then I realized that we must be willing to pay the price even if it means our lives."

The speaker concluded her address by reading a challenging poem by Langston Hughes and urging her listeners to "Join the revolution. Don't be a spectator."

Mrs. King was educated at Antioch College, in Ohio, where she majored in music and elementary education and was the second Negro ever to be enrolled there. Her sister was the first. She did further study at the New England Conservatory of Music, where she met her husband, who was working on his Ph.D. at Boston University, and Miss Cumbo.

Music for the observance was furnished by the 150-voice Women's Day choir; the responsive reading was led by Mrs. Lucy Fuller James; Miss Beatrice F. Martin read the scripture and prayer; Mrs. Louise Nelson introduced the many visitors and Mrs. Rosabelle A. Hinton presided over the offering.

The Rev. Charles W. Ward, pastor, made remarks at the close of the service, and aided Miss Cumbo in presenting Mrs. King to the hundreds of autograph-seekers and persons wishing to shake her hand following the services.

Evening services were also well-attended. Miss Joyce Cooke presided over a program entitled, "The Women of Tomorrow in First Baptist."

MAYOR REID NAMES HARRIS AS CHAIRMAN

Dr. Charles Lyons, Jr., executive secretary of the North Carolina Teachers' Association, who was chairman of the Citizens Committee formed by Negroes in May will serve as vice-chairman of the committee, as announced by Reid.

Mayor Reid, who has been serving as chairman of the committee, has delayed announcing the membership of the committee until after the Tuesday night meeting at which time, Harris was officially appointed chairman.

Harris is a graduate of the University of North Carolina Law School in 1936 and a native of Raleigh. He served as Wake Regent in the General Assembly from 1957 through 1961. He is 50-years-old, married to the former Miss Jean Roynin Erskine and is the father of three children.

Harris has stated that he expects the committee will make regular reports to Mayor Reid on the organization's activities since Reid will continue as an ex-officio member of the group.

He said that he hopes to open some meetings to the public but that some of the meetings would have to remain closed. The committee has held several closed meetings during the past months.

The victim, who was estranged from her husband, had a 12-year-old son. She was the Statesville representative for the Bankers Life Insurance Company, and much of her insurance trade is said to have been with Negroes in the area.

Rumple said the woman's pocketbook, keys and a small purse were found behind a refrigerator in Green's apartment, but he is alleged to have denied knowing how they got there.

A passerby discovered the body in the Cemetery in the Belmont Community, just outside the eastern city limits of Statesville.

No effort had been made to bury the body.

A hearing for Green is expected
