

Fatal Crash Kills Four Ex-Raleigh Residents

4 Victims Enroute To Md.

By Staff Writer
QUANTICO, Va. — A car-truck accident near this Marine base early in the early hours of Monday, November 4, claimed the lives of four passengers in the automobile, all of whom had just left Raleigh, N. C., and were on their way back to Baltimore, Maryland, where three of them were employed.
 It could not be ascertained by THE CAROLINIAN who was driving the automobile, but the Virginia State Highway Patrol is said to have confirmed the allegation that the truck ran into the path of the car. The occupants of the truck are believed to have escaped serious injury.

Fraud Try Reveals 2 Families

WINTON — William Wiggins, 43-year-old truck driver of Gatesville, a Northeastern N.C. community, the defendant in a fraud case here, allegedly admitted having two families and twelve children, six by his legal wife and six by a second woman.
 The startling fact about the entire case was the fact that Wiggins allegedly told the court that his wife was aware of the six children born to the second woman.
 He pleaded guilty to fraudulently representing another woman as his wife in having her admitted to a hospital in Asheville for the birth of a child seven months ago.
 Wiggins was fined $25 and costs and ordered to pay $87.85 for medical expenses incurred by the hospital.
 The man said he was representing his girl friend, who was identified only as "Mildred" as his wife in order to have his group insured.

YOUTH KILLS BROTHER NC HOSPITAL REQUEST SHIFTED

Statesville Citizenry Seeks Action

STATESVILLE — Iredell County Commissioners shifted the Iredell County Citizens Committee's request for the desegregation of the Iredell Memorial Hospital to the board of trustees of the hospital Monday.
 Statesville has been a hot spot in the arena of racial problems for some considerable time and a spokesman for the Committee told the CAROLINIAN Tuesday that the hospital was only one of the many issues that had been raised and that they were not relenting, in any wise, to have the barrier removed.
 The Committee threatened a suit to show why the county hospital should not be open to all races on an equal basis. However, it decided to petition the County Commissioners at their Monday meeting. The county heads are said to have told the Committee that they had no jurisdiction over the hospital, due to the fact that they had turned it over to a board of trustees to run as early as Oct. 8, 1952, under a 99-year lease agreement.
 The spokesman told the CAROLINIAN that the Committee had written a letter to the hospital board and that it was in the process of being transmitted Tuesday afternoon. It was the belief of the spokesman that the Committee

Defendant In Kidnaping May See Gov.

NEW YORK — Harold Reape, one of the five Monroe "kidnap" defendants, last week wired a request for an appointment with Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes. Mr. Reape, a 19-year-old Monroe youth leader, urged that the governor give him an opportunity to describe the jim crow injustice which awaits Mrs. Mae Mallory, a fellow "kidnap" defendant, if Gov. Rhodes extradites her from Ohio to North Carolina.
 The "kidnaping" charge is based on an incident during a day of alleged police-encouraged rioting by a mob of 5,000 white segregationists against Freedom Riders and local Negro youth engaged in peaceful

B-U-L-L-E-T-I-N!
 Word reached THE CAROLINIAN minutes before press time that the State football championship game between Ligon's Little Blues and Second Ward High of Charlotte will not take place as reported on Page 15 of this week's issue. A mixup in the final standings was discovered, making the final decision uncertain at this point. However, The Little Blues may well be the State champions, depending on certain crucial games to be played this weekend.

REUNION OF SADNESS — Mrs. Nellie Smith, center, of Oxford, Miss., and her daughter, Miss Betty Smith, 22, are greeted at the bus terminal in Boston, Mass., last week as they arrived to attend the murder-rape trial of their son and brother whom they haven't seen in eleven years. Leroy Smith, 35, a handyman, is charged with the strangulation and rape of 65-year-old Mrs. Beale Goldberg, at her suburban apartment home last March. Shown, left to right are: Boston College professor Raymond T. McNally, Rep. Beryl W. Choen, Smith's lawyer, and Mrs. Rita McNally. The Smiths will live with the McNallys during the trial which began Tuesday of this week. (UPI PHOTO)
