TWO NASHCOMBE PUPILS DIE

ROCKY MOUNT — Tragedy struck twice recently in the Nashcombe area causing death to two pupils enroute to school, thus pointing up the need for greater parental guidance regarding the safety of young children.

Ten-year-old Donnell Battle, son of Mrs. Rosa Battle of the Stony Creek Elementary School, communitarily was struck down while allegedly playing with his sister and running into the road, being struck by a car reportedly driven by William E. Melvin, 37, of Rocky Mount. No charges were preferred following an investigation by Nash County Coroner Russell Williams and State Trooper E. D. Wheeler who issued an urgent appeal to parents to teach their children traffic safety while waiting for and riding school buses.

Mr. John H. Odum, Jr., son of Mrs. Lucy Odum of Battleground, and graduate of the Phillips High School, J. E. Batts, principal, has been assigned to duty in Korea as a cook with the 7th Army Infantry Division.

Rhyle Gilliam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Gilliam, Rte. 1, Nashville, has been promoted to airman first-class in the U. S. Air Force at Cannon AFB, N. M. A graduate of Nash Central High School, T. M. Ringer, principal, Gilliam is a specialist with the Tactical Air Command.

Dedicatory services were held Sunday at the Melver High and Elementary School at Littleton in Halifax County, N. C., on the occasion of the formal entry into the new Primary School Building recently completed.

J. A. Freeman is principal of the Melver School. Dr. Helen G. Edmonds, Dean of Graduate School, North Carolina College, Durham, was the speaker who was presented by Mrs. Della P. Lewis, Guidance Counselor at Melver High.

LINKS MEET
The following members of the Rocky Mount-Tarboro-Wilson chapter of Links, Inc., worshipped with the Mt. Pisgah United Presbyterian Church Sunday: Mesdames Ethel Hines, Flossie Barnes of Wilson; Jennie D. Taylor, Tarboro; Emma-aida R. Hawkins, Juanita F. Burnett, Jessie H. Pash, Sallie Armstrong and Margaret Armstrong of Rocky Mount.

The group was joined for a luncheon meeting at the residence of Dr. W. T. Armstrong by Messrs. William Hines, G. Edward Pash, Earl Burnett and others.

Among other charities, the Links — several years ago — paid a NAAACP life membership. Mrs. Jessie Pash is area chapter president.

Traveling to Fayetteville Saturday with the Rev. James H. Coe, we picked up a man who looked like a "safe" passenger near Godwin. He proved to be Deacon C. Clyde Burnette, a member of Snow Hill Disciples Church, Rt. 1, Godwin, N. C.

Burnette, a quiet man, is a 66-year-old widower who lost his wife last May and "has got gotten over the mourning yet" in his company of 47 years who bore him 15 children, eleven of whom live in the Dunn-Fayetteville area. Burnette is a retired sharecropper, having lived on the same farm since 1931.

In Fayetteville we attended the annual meeting of the National Missions Committee of the Cape Fear Presbytery United Presbyterian Church in the USA. The Rev. Clarence H. Thomas is chairman of the committee which allocates funds for the work of the mission-aided churches of the presbytery.

In attendance in addition to Mr. Thomas were the Revs. G. J. Hawkins, B. R. Richardson, W. Walls, J. H. Costen; Elders J. B. Miller, L. M. Hatten and J. B. Harren.

JIM BYRD EULOGIZED
Funeral rites were said in Rocky Mount Wednesday for Little Hope Baptist Church for Deacon James Edgar Byrd, age 75, a retired trainman with 30 years service with the ACL railway. Mr. Byrd had been in declining health for several years. He resided at 835 West Thomas St.

A member of the Masonic and Shriners lodges, Byrd was also a loyal member and supporter of the NAACP and civic programs as well as his church (Little Hope) which was organized in the home of his parents—the late Mr. and Mrs. Evandar and Frances Worley Byrd on South Church Street adjacent to the site of the present church edifice.

Legend has it that many localities got up or set their clocks by the departure of what was called "Jim Byrd's train" as it went out early on its run to Roanoke on the Wake-Franklin counties border.

Byrd had been married to the former Addie Bradley of Tarboro, who survives him, for 44 years. The couple had no children.

One sister, Mrs. Clara B. Dupree is the lone other immediate survivor.

Funeral rites were said by the Rev. Terrance V. Foster Sr., minister of Little Hope. Interment was in Northwestern Cemetery with graveside fraternal rites by the Masons and the Shriners.

APEX

BY MRS. LOUISE COLVIN
APEX — In the absence of our pastor, Rev. W. T. Bigelow, who was taking the last half of his vacation, Rev. W. M. Phillips, the associate minister, delivered the morning service, at the 11 o'clock worship service. His text was taken from the Book of Revelations, 2:7 verse. Subject, "The Door No Man Can Shut." It was a very interesting message.

The Young Adult and Junior Choirs rendered the music. In the absence of Stephen Bigelow, who is principal of Junior Church Day, Mrs. E. H. Williams was pianist. We were very happy to have Miss Jacqueline Williams fill the place in the choir.

Visitors worshipping with us were, the Lewises and Miss Addie Mae Underwood. In viewing the audience, we were also happy to see Miss Carolyn Mangum, who was home for the weekend.

Sunday night at 8:00 p.m., the Pastor's Aid Club of First Baptist observed its 7th anniversary. New Hope Baptist's Male Chorus, our own Male and Gospel Choruses and solos by Rev. W. T. Bigelow and Rev. W. M. Phillips completed the music.

Mrs. Charlotte Toomer read the devotion. A. A. Horton gave the welcome. Mrs. Mary Blake, of Person-ton Benefit Club, gave the response and Miss Ida Hayes gave the history. Second Baptist of Chapel Hill, Pastor's Aid Club was not only represented morally but financially as well, for which we are grateful. New Hope Male Chorus and members supported us wonderfully; also, we can always count on that male chorus. It has proven to be a genuine friend to our pastor and to the church.

APEX CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

WAKE COUNTY SUPERVISOR
APEX—Mrs. Cascares D. Debnam was guest speaker recently for the PTA of the Apex Consolidated School. Mrs. Debnam drew a beautiful "Portrait of a Parent".

She reminded her listeners that "this parent is friendly and pleasant. Personally, he would go to considerable trouble to help someone. He gets along with people and is familiar with the work and activities of the school, and with the requirements made upon his children. This parent realizes that the teacher who has studied children and deals with them every day, has knowledge and opportunities for observation that reads like a book."

She also stressed the need for cooperation of parents and teachers. She said that the "PTA is not strictly a parents' organization, nor teachers either. Together educators and parents need to find ways of combining their efforts for the education of children, youth, and adults." Certainly the parents and teachers are grateful to Mrs. Debnam for such an enlightening and thought-provoking experience.

The sophomore class (section A) of 1964-65 elected their class officers on September 22, 1964. They are as follows: President, Dorothy Gilbert; vice-president, John Fullmer; secretary, Christine Alston; assistant secretary, Patricia Smith; treasurer, Deborah Harris; parliamentarian, David Hawkins; reporter, Shirley Gist; student council representatives, Mary Davis and James Edwards.

All plans have been made for the year. In order to carry out these plans we took the project of selling THE CAROLINIAN newspaper. We all realize the extra hard work ahead of us, so we plan to study hard and do our best.

Our principal, Dr. N. M. McMillan, spoke to us concerning our responsibility as students and urged us to give "total performance" in whatever we do. We are very proud to have as our teacher, Miss E. A. Sheares, the wife of the Rev. J. N. Sheares.

BAND ECHOES

BY J. L. EDWARDS

The J. W. Ligon Band ended a five home game schedule with a special program at halftime which was dedicated to the seniors of the team, majorettes, cheerleaders and band. Seniors in these groups were: majorette—Constance Bailey; Mildred Campbell, captain; Katha Deaver; cheerleaders—Carol Adams, Ostine Anthony, Cynthia Farrell, Cheryl Hamlin, Mary Harris, Claudia Jones and Linda Moyer; Band — Ben Vick Alston, Mazie Dunn, Alben Anderson, Thomas Hall, Willie Handy, James Harmon, Bernard Hodges, Johnson, Fred Lockley, Phyllis Moore, Jas. Norwood and Henry Robinson. The members of the football team are: Xavier Artis, Alfonza Brown, Alfredo Hicks, James Robinson, Jinton, Bruce Lightner, John W. Greer, Stas, G. Jas. Smith and William Watson.

Two of our last year's band members made an appearance with the Hampton Institute football team Saturday. They were Daniel Feebles and Freddie Crowe. Other recent Ligon band graduates are Sylvester Davis, who is in the North Carolina College band, Robert Sanders with N. C. State College band, Gwendolyn Maryland, Henry Worth and Jas. Perry, who are playing with the A&T College band, Robert Brown playing a leading part in the newly-organized Saint Augustine's band, William Harris and Edward Penn are currently playing in bands in the Armed Forces.

The Ligon Band Uniform Drive is beginning to make new headway. All we need is $3,000. A full report of contributors will be published soon. Checks may be sent directly to Ligon School, to Mrs. J. D. Hinton, treasurer, or to Mr. Hilton Reddick, chairman of the drive. Make all checks payable to: The Ligon Band Uniform Fund. Every year the situation gets progressively worse as the suits do not fit and some are rapidly falling apart. Everyone would like a well-dressed band, but it is hard to come up with the money. The latest organization to contribute a complete uniform was the Raleigh Woman's Club No. Three. The check was presented by Mrs. Virginia Feebles and Mrs. T. Holt.

The Cape Corder food restaurant on North Boulevard (a take-out restaurant) has offered to give the band fund 10 percent of all receipts at the end of the month, for orders placed with this restaurant. All receipts must be turned over to band members. H. E. Brown or J. L. Edwards. Perhaps your organization would like to help by sponsoring a seafood supper.
