In Memoriam.

Elder P. D. Gold—Dear Brother:—

It now becomes my painful duty to record the death of our eldest daughter, ALEY FRANCES BROWNING, who departed this life, Feb. 12th, 1877—aged twenty-seven years.

She had been laboring under disease for many years, caused by derangement of the liver, together with other diseases peculiar to females. Her last illness assumed a character not easily understood, it seemed, by her attending physician. But she, in all probability, had inflammation of the stomach.

The deceased daughter was of a kind and amiable disposition and always made friends wherever her lot was cast. Truly the neighbors and friends in the immediate vicinity have lost a warm-hearted friend, and one who was ever ready to aid in anything necessary to their comfort, especially the sick.

I never witnessed a case where a person seemed to suffer more, for two days and nights. She never had made any profession, but left with us the blessed assurance of her hope in Christ. On the morning of the 11th she swooned away for some time, and as she regained her consciousness she grasped my hand and calmly said, "Don't grieve for me. I am going to die. I do not want a tear shed; for I am going to rest. My Savior appeared unto me long, long ago."

Many of the relatives were present, and she said she hoped they all would be prepared to meet her in heaven, to which I could but respond, amen! At one time she said to me: "Father, my troubles have been great. At one time I sat in the door and watched the road for you to return from Conyers, to ask you to pray for me. That night my troubles seemed more than I could bear. I asked my husband to pray for me." She said many other things expressive of her own insufficiency, and you may be assured, brother Gold, that this was glad tidings to me, and at the same time how keenly I felt the reprimand for not asking the dear daughter concerning her hope prior to this time and encouraging her to take up her cross. She repeatedly said to her relatives and friends, "Don't shed tears for me," and said to her weeping mother, "Mother, I am almost done with this world. Oh! how I long to go. I'll be free from suffering then." She breathed her last at one o'clock P. M., Feb. 12th, as calmly as an infant in sweet repose.

She left a kind-hearted husband, two little daughters, aged four and six years, father, mother, two sisters, four brothers, and numerous relatives to mourn their loss, but we mourn not as those who have no hope, but feel that our loss is her eternal gain. "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.—John 12: 24.

When from the dead He raised his Son,
And called Him to the sky;
He gave our souls a living hope
That they should never die.

What though our inbred sins require
Our flesh to see the dust;
Yet as the Lord our Savior rose,
So all his followers must.

There's an inheritance divine,
Reserved against that day;
'Tis incorrupted, undefiled,
And can not fade away.

Yours, in hope,

JOHN B. KEEN.

Brother Gold:—

Please publish this notice of the death of WILLIE L. ROBERTS, only son of J. W. and Jennie Roberts, who departed this life, March 18th, 1877, aged 1 year, 11 months and 7 days.

He died from an internal burn, having fallen near the fire and sucking some down his throat. His sufferings were great, but soon ended in everlasting rest. He was a sweet, promising little boy and the idol of his parents. I feel that I truly sympathize with them and hope it may cause them to think of the certainty of death, and be ready to meet their dear little boy in that heavenly home to which he has gone to spend an eternal rest. While I looked on its lifeless form I felt the force of these lines:

An early summons Jesus sends,
To call little WILLIE above;
And whispers o'er the weeping friends,
'Tis all the fruit of love.

To save the little child from woe,
And guard it from all harm,
I dwell in human form below
And called it to my arms.

But do not rashly with me strive,
Nor vainly fast or weep;
WILLIE, though dead, is yet alive,
And only fallen asleep.

He's on the Savior's bosom laid,
And feels no sorrow there;
He's by a heavenly parent fed,
And needs no more your care.

A FRIEND.

Dear Brother Gold:—

I seat myself at the request of my mother, to write something in memory of our dear departed sister, NANCY I. DEHART, consort of brother Charles DeHart.

She was born and raised in Patrick county, Va. She left this world of sin and woe on the 10th of Dec., 1876, after great suffering of bodily pain for six months or more. I am not prepared to write this obituary as it should be, as we lived some forty miles apart and have not had the pleasure of seeing her since our Association at Matrimony in 1870, at the time you saw her at my father's; though I have been informed that she rejoiced at the thought of death and told her friends that Jesus remembered her in her youth, and had taken care of her when she had been forgetful of him, and that now He remembered her in love and mercy in the cold arms of death. She begged Christians not to let their minds be engaged with the things of the world. She had been a worthy member of Jack's Creek church for many years. She was a niece of the late Elder David Conner. She was a special and favorite friend of mine. Indeed she was a mother in kindness to me in my youthful days. I loved her dearly, and earnestly believe she has gone to her heavenly home to rest from all her troubles, and I have a faint hope of meeting her in that happy land where we will sing redeeming love without tiring. Let me say to my good old brother, and I might say father DeHart, hold up your head and look forward to that day when you shall lay down mortality and shall hear that message, "Come in thou blessed," &c. Oh, what a delightful day to see God in his glory, and never fear sin or death any more. I feel that I know how to weep with those that weep.
