

Boone High School News

Contributed by the Boone High School Journalism Club.

Beginning November 23, Mr. R. G. Shipley of the High School Agriculture Department and Miss Annie Ruth German of the Home Economics Department are planning a series of discussions on farm problems for the benefit of farmers and farmers' wives of this school district. Ten meetings have been planned, and as many more will be added as there is a demand for. These meetings will be held at the high school building from 7:30 to 9:30 each Friday night.

At these gatherings will be presented much new material on agricultural, animal husbandry and household problems, and the discussions promise to be full of interest. Patrons of the school are cordially invited to attend.

THE GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club has had three meetings this year. At the first meeting, about 25 reported. Several of last year's songs were sung, and remembered very well by the members of last year. Some business matters were also discussed. Many new members reported, among which are many promising voices.

In the last meeting officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Samuel Lyerly; vice-president, Milton Mast; secretary, Wylene Dickson, and Treasurer, Virginia Clarke.

The club was greatly pleased by the announcement that Mrs. Guy Hill would direct the work of the club as of last year.

THE SCHOOL RADIO

It has been decided that a radio would be a real asset to the educational program of Boone High, and that the purchase of a radio would be effected just as soon as funds for the same would be available. It was also decided that the students contribute fifteen cents each and that contributions be solicited from the business houses of the town. So far about $8.00 has been donated by the last named source.

THE JOURNALISM CLUB

One of the most interesting clubs sponsored by the High School is the Journalism Club which meets twice weekly with Mr. Cook as director. The main purpose of this club is to collect and publish the High School news, but the members plan, aside from this, to learn all they can this year about news write-ups, special features, editorials, essays, poems and short stories. They also hope to learn how type is set, to correct galley proofs, and to understand more about the ways of a real newspaper reporter. The club has elected the following officers: Chloe Greer, president; Veda Kirkman, vice-president, and R. K. Bingham, secretary and treasurer. This club is composed of approximately twelve members who have so far evidenced much enthusiasm for their work, but since the individual interests of the various members are not known at present, no special reporters have yet been appointed.

Those contributing this week are: Veda Kirkman, Chloe Greer, Thomas B. Moore Jr., T. Edward Lovill, John Idol, R. K. Bingham and Sam Lyerly.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

At our chapel program Saturday, November 17, we were delightfully entertained by a most interesting talk by the Rev. Mr. Canipe, Boone's new Baptist minister. The talk was about his trip to Europe and the Holy Land. It was enjoyed by all.

Also on our program was a little play, called "The Game of Life," presented by the members of the Civic-Sociology class, and written by a member of the class.

The play dealt with a poor boy who lost a dollar, and whose whole future depended on that bit of money. The dollar was found by a worthy couple who bought with it a whole handful of balloons, and released them for the amusement of the streeturchins. The boy who lost the dollar drowned himself in the river.

The characters were: Reader of the Prologue: Edward Lovill; Mandy, the poor mother: Ethel Davis; Matthews, the poor boy: Fairy Hollars; Alice, the rich girl: Ada Grace Redmond; Theodore, the rich boy: Jesse Houck (practice teacher in Civic-Sociology); Children in the Park: Other members of the class; Leisure Men in the Park: Charles Wright and Grant Ashley.

Reports from all parts of Eastern North Carolina indicate that a heavy acreage of oats, barley and wheat is being planted this fall.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL SPONSORS HOME AND FARM DISCUSSIONS

The following letter is being sent to the homemakers and farmers of Boone High School District. If you fail to receive a letter and are interested in attending one of the discussion groups, check the list here, and return to the high school office or one of the teachers.

Dear Homemakers and Farmers of Boone High School District:

Boone High School is sponsoring discussion groups for Homemakers and Farmers. If you have problems which are troublesome you might find the solution by talking it over with other Home-Makers and Farmers in one of these discussion groups.

Beginning November 23, the Home-making and Agricultural departments of Boone High School are planning to open two discussion groups. These groups will meet at the High School building from 7:30 to 9:00 under the direction of the Home Economics and Agricultural teachers.

A list of suggested problems for discussion are given below. Are there other problems in which are interested in discussing? If so, add them to the list. Check the first and second problems in which you are most interested. Return this list to the High School office or either the Home Economics or Agricultural teacher by Saturday, November 17.

Homemaker's List

1. Smart frocks for the home and the street.
2. How to get the most for money in clothing.
3. The convenient kitchen.
4. The family of today.
5. Easy guest meals.
6. Two Penny Desserts.
7. Putting the stretch into the food dollar.

Farmer's List

1. Soil improvement.
2. Co-operative marketing.
3. Livestock problems (improvement of sires, control of parasites, etc.)
4. Diseases of truck crops.
5. Farm business readjustment.
6. Pasture improvement.

If you are interested in attending either of these groups, invite a friend to come with you. Feel free to call on either Miss German or Mr. R. G. Shipley for information concerning the discussions.

Sincerely yours,
GUY H. HILL.

MONTEZUMA NEWS

We have been having the most wonderful fall weather until the past few days.

Hog-killing time seems to be here now and—watch out! Hog killing and colds and pneumonia seem to go together.

A change in preachers for the Southern Methodist folks, but the same arrangement for the M. E. folks.

If the new preacher "wears" as well as the Rev. Price did, there will surely be some sad hearts when he leaves, for we have never had a more popular pastor than Rev. Price.

Mrs. Edw. L. Ray and little daughter, Margaret Evelyn, have just returned from a two-weeks' visit to friends in Montgomery, W. Va.

Mrs. L. D. Lowe recently visited her sister, Mrs. C. W. Robbins of Shulls Mills, who is in a hospital at Statesville.

THANKSGIVING

Plato, looking through the dim spectacles of nature, gave thanks unto God for three things: first, that God created him a man, and not a beast; secondly, that he was born a Grecian and not a Barbarian; thirdly, that not only so, but a philosopher also. But Christians, that are better bred and taught, turn the stream of their thanks into another manner of channel. First, that God hath created them after His own image; secondly, that He hath called them out of the common crowd of this world and made them Christians. Thirdly, and more especially, that among those who bear the name of Christ, he hath made them faithful ones; like a few quick-sighted men among a company of blind ones; like the light in Goshen, when all Egypt was dark; besides, or like Gideon's fleece, only watered with the dew of Heaven, while the rest of the earth was dry and destitute of his favor. Counting up our mercies and our every-day reasons for gratitude, looking at the hundred little things and large things, gentle words, loving smiles, flowers sent to cheer us, children to greet us, old friends to advise and middle age friends to uphold us, good books to read, dear songs to sing, meetings in gladness, even parting in hope for the better life—we do not know where to end the list. The only things to do is to live always in an atmosphere sweet and vital with thanksgiving. "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow."

—EDW. N. HAHN.
