

News Items From the Blowing Rock School

(Written by the Students)
The basket ball season for Blowing Rock High School boys has closed, and we are very glad to say that they have been very successful by winning eleven games and losing only nine.

Although the boys made a bad beginning, they soon "snapped" out of it and into team work and created a better score for themselves.

They have played some of the best teams in three counties and won three per cent of them. The three most interesting games were with Cove Creek, Fleetwood and Jefferson.

The total score for the players is: Wade Coffey (g), 116; Johnnie Lentz (g), 111; Jay Castle (c), 82; Von Hartley (f), 116; Eddie Coffey (f), 59; total points scored, 484.

SECOND GRADE PROGRAM

The chapel program, which was in charge of Miss Graham, second grade teacher, was very entertaining. It was as follows:

Devotional, Clara Bolick; play, "Hare and Hedgehog"; Mr. Hedgehog, Spencer Robbins; Mrs. Hedgehog, Ray Gragg; Hare, Allen Craig; play, "Little Tailor"; Little Tailor, Earnestine Banner; Master, Francis Dellinger; King, Lewis Craig; Servant, J. C. Downs; Story, with its illustrations, "Earmintodas," Betty Greene.

FRESHMAN PARTY

The eighth grade gave a class party Thursday night at the Town Hall. Entertainment was furnished by Luda Coffey at the piano and the school radio. There was dancing, and games were played.

Refreshments consisted of candies, sandwiches, peanuts, cake and orangeade. Everyone present enjoyed themselves very much, although there has been a rule made by the faculty forbidding guests from other classes and out of school.

SENIORS ENTERTAINED

The entire Senior class was enthusiastic over a charming theatre party given them by Mrs. Howard Gragg, their English teacher and sponsor, on Thursday night, February 21st, at the Pastime Theatre. The current attraction was "Flying Down to Rio," starring Dolores del Rio and Gene Raymond.

After the picture the guests assembled at the Watauga Drug Store, their prearranged rendezvous, where they spent some time. Each senior was privileged to bring a special friend for the occasion.

Those enjoying the party were: Evelyn Jenkins, Bessie Wooten, Stella Greer, Blanche Wooten, Cleda Dula, Wanda Gregg, Alverta Greene, Irene Jenkins, Mrs. Dee Cannon, Wade Coffey, Eubert Teague, Doss Keller, Jack Greene, Jay Castle, Perry Ford, Clarence Berryman, Jack Rainey and Mr. Gragg.

SONG HITS AND WHO THEY HIT (Apologies to Boone High)

"Good Ship Lollipop," Bessie Wooten; "Stay as Sweet as You Are," Clarence Berryman; "Just Couldn't Take It," Evelyn Jenkins; Country Boy, Ruth Trexler; "Blue Moon," Wanda Gregg; "Love's Just Around the Corner," Louise Williams; "Rain," Cleda Dula; "Carioca," Seniors; "I Only Have Eyes for You," Jay Castle; "Stars Fell on Alabama," Luda Coffey; "Moon About Town," Mary Moody; "I Wish I Had You," Helen Gragg; "The Party's Over," Freshmen; "The Better to Love You," Alverta Greene; "Who Walks In," Doss Keller; "Easy Come, Easy Go," Nellie G. Sydes; "Freckle Face," Dennis Coffey; "The Same Place, Same Time," Francis Pitts; "World Owes Me a Living," Blanche Hodges; "So Help Me," Beulah Tester; "Music Makes Me," Elise Pitts; "I'm Counting on You," Von Hartley.

STATE TAX COLLECTIONS

RALEIGH, N. C.—North Carolinians have paid $32,836,595.30 in all kinds of State taxes, in addition to Federal, county and city or town taxes, during the past eight months of the fiscal year, ending with February, an increase of $4,190,093.37, or 14.6 per cent, over the $28,646,502.02 paid in a similar period last year, Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell reports.

It is reported that Spain's iodine manufacturer has been forced to stop production because Chilean iodine is so cheaply produced.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

Another interesting talk on "Culture" was presented to the high school through the chapel program last Saturday morning by Miss Dale, Home Economics teacher of Appalachian State.

The talk was highly appreciated by the entire student body. Upon the finish of Miss Dale's talk, the entire group joined in song after which the group went to their classes.

"CRASHING SOCIETY"

A ridiculous comedy in three acts (some of the witty dialogues purposely cut out by the Board of Censors as they were thought to be too exasperatingly funny; it was feared listeners might be thrown into convulsions through violent laughter, or, perhaps, they might split their sides, thus necessitating medical attention). You don't want to miss this ludicrous presentation of Madiera China, English Butlers and other accessories to that elusive, venerable thing called "society." If, however, you have no sense of humor, your time (and money) will be well profited; for the play in itself is as instructive as whole volumes of "social etiquette." So, if you want to enjoy a good laugh, or if you want to learn the whys and hows of good society, you can't miss "Crashing Society."

"Crashing Society" will be presented sometime in the near future by the Boone High School Student Council for the benefit of the school radio. It will probably be presented in the Demonstration School Auditorium (some discussion is on foot as to whether or not the Demonstration School auditorium roof, walls, etc., can stand the immense volume of laughter that will surely result). Watch this column for further announcements.—Samuel Lyerly.

THE ART CLUB

The Art Club, under the capable supervision of Miss Stewart, is making good progress. Its work so far has been chiefly in papercraft, although they have made a few very decorative as well as useful articles of wood. The members have been making such articles as book-ends, vases, hat stands, dresser boxes, waste paper baskets—things which they can use in their homes. Their sponsor announces, however, that they are going to begin work on basket weaving soon. Presently they plan to study a few celebrated artists and painters as well as some of their famous pictures.

THE RAMBLER

Funny little things one sees and hears around a high school, aren't there? Such as: J. R. Lewis patting the curly red hair of Geraldine Fox, and murmuring softly "Why boys leave home!" ... "Pills" Hayes strumming on a guitar and surrounded by a group of enthusiastic boys and girls—all singing, or trying to at least. "Oh, well! kill the old red rooster when she comes!" ... Geneva Osborne saying to Emma Miller "You know, Emma, I think A. E. looks like Clark Gable!" and Emma replying, "Well, all I got to say is that if A. E. Hamby is your Clark Gable, James Rayfield is my Gary Cooper!" ... Everyone patiently waiting but eagerly wondering what the next set of student teachers from A. S. T. C. are gonna look like. ... The Seniors monopolizing the chapel programs. ... The Junior girls trying to decide when they are going to give the Junior-Senior reception, and when they're gonna get their class rings. ... Burl Storie remarking to Howard Welch, "Aw, get outta the way, 'ol-flies-in-my-soup!" ... Mr. Crook making gestures with his hands while conversing with anyone just to show off his finger nails (ever notice 'em?). ... Edna Tate asking "Have I got too much vaseline on my eye lashes?" All the typing students making a rush for the three typewriters with the new ribbons with the result that Mrs. Christenbury is "forced" to send in a few bad citations! ... Daisy Lyons singing "The Pagan Love Song." ... Mary Bingham standing at her post by the hall radiator, reading while the bustling crowd mills all about her. ... And everybody just rushing through the halls as if going to a fire, and me just wandering around, as usual, sorta snoopin' on everything and everybody and eavesdropping and ... ah, heck, I'm gonna be late in a minute if I don't hurry! So long.—The Rambler.

MADAMOISELLE KANTELYU

Dear Mademoiselle:
I'm in deep distress. Last week all the good-looking boys were wild over me. Tuesday morning I came to school happy as could be, expecting all of them to hover around me, but to my disappointment as I walked around the building several times, they acted as if they didn't see me but I knew they did. How can I make them come back to me? Do I have "B. O."?
—AIN'T I A FLOP?

Dear "Ain't I a Flop":

If it isn't "B. O." then it must be halitosis. Buy some Inlister and Boy-life and if they don't come then don't blame it on them. You were an old maid in the cradle.

—MADAMOISELLE.

Dear Mademoiselle:

Please tell me why I never have any girl friends. I use all the soaps, lotions, razor blades, mouth wash, hair tonic, and such stuff, but they never seem to have much effect on the fair sex. I also write poetry.

JOHNNY FETCHUM.

Dear Johnny:

I would advise you to stop using a razor blade. Grow a beard. You will be sure to get results. No one would be like you for what high school boy ever had a beard?

—MADAMOISELLE.
