TWO DAYS-115 NEEDLESS DEATHS

Newspaper headlines show that little if any progress has been made in cutting down America's horrible automobile accident toll-a toll that took 35,000 lives last year.

Over the single week-end of August third and fourth, 115 people were killed in automobile crashes. Thousands were injured seriously. Property damage ran to a vast total. And that weekend was simply an average onethe same thing happens week after week

The nation must take a more aggressive stand than it ever has pursuing and prosecuting reckless and incompetent drivers, if innocent lives are to be saved. If the chance-taking motorist risked no neck but his own. it would be possible to overlook him-but, under present conditions, he menaces us all.

The drunken driver becomes more and more prevalent—and it is an unhappy fact that few states have shown any real sucdemon still rules a thousand) highways. And the drivers who cut corners, weave in and out toll of life, health and property.

Efforts to educate motorists must be vigorously pursuedthey have unquestionably produced results, and have kept the annual death list from becoming codes that are enforced to the limit. In the average state, traffic law enforcement is weak and inadequate-it spurs, rather than hinders, the dangerous driver.

Every motorist should regard the war on the reckless and incompetent driver as a public duty, in which all should participate so far as they can.

MOLES

The modern name for a mole is 'naevus"-piural naivi. In the old days they were known as 'mothers'marks" which meant about as much as calling all painful diseases "rheumatism.

Moles are as old as the human race. Whenever a baby showed a bright-red discoloration of the skin birth, the mother suddenly remem bered her severe longing for strawberries which was ungratified. It was olemnly averred by many a mother that her child was "marked" at its birth.

I must say that some good physimaternal impressions.

WHAT CONGRESS MAY AND

MAY NOT DO

The powers granted by the States to the Congress under the Constitution are strictly defined and limited. In brief, they include the following:

1. To lay and collect taxes, duties, practically every State limited the ranchise to taxpayers or property holders.

Other important restrictions are placed upon the power of Congress by the Constitution. It cannot enact a law retroactice in its application-an "ex post facto" law. That is, it cannot make illegal any act commit-Tyndale himself was treacherously ted before the law prohibiting it was passed. It cannot impose taxes or duighteen months in Antwerp for no ties upon articles exported from any rime other than that of giving to State. Congress may by a two-thirds vote, repass the bill.

> It is also within the power of the Congress to dismiss from office any member or executive or Judicial pranches of the Government, includng the President. This is done by process of impeachment, in which the House of Representatives has the ole right to indict and the Senate the sole power to try any official mdicted or impeached by the House Numerous Federal judges have thus been impeached and dismissed from the public service and one President Andrew Jackson, was impeached by the House of Representatives but was acquitted by the Senate.

One hundred and fifty years after Wiclif came William Tynsdale, who Testament from the original Greek.

People were horror-stricken by the impiety of the idea. He had to flee to Hamburg, and never again set foot on his native shore. Against fierce opposition he continued his work. Printing had been invented, and Tyndale determined to "make every plowboy in England know the New Testament." His book, printed by Caxton, had to be smuggled into England and was read by stealth. With such asinine drivel as the following, written by the pious Friar Buckingham, its circulation was obstructed:

Where Scripture saith, "No man that laith his hand to the plow and looketh back is fit for the kingdom of God"; will not the plowman when he readeth these words be apt forthwith to cease from his plow, and then where will be the sowing and the harvest? Likewise, also whereas the baker readeth, "A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump," will he not be forthwith too sparing in the use of leaven, to the great injury of our health? And so also when the simple man reads the words, "if thine right eye offend thee, pluck it out and cast it from
