

FARM NOTES

By W. B. COLLINS
(County Agent)

So far there has been 46 community demonstration farms passed on by the township committeemen of Watauga County, and phosphate has been received or requisitions have been approved by the Tennessee Valley Authority for 344,600 pounds of Triple Phosphate to be applied on the grass lands of these farms.

This week there were 50 applications sent to the Tennessee Valley Authority for the Brushy Fork and Vander Pool sections of the Cove Creek Watershed for 200,136 pounds of Triple Phosphate. We have not been informed as to whether the Cove Creek Watershed will be approved.

The farmers on the Cove Creek Watershed who have not done so, should make maps of their farms and bring them to the County Agent's office where they can make application for demonstration farms. If the Tennessee Valley Authority approves the first applications from the Cove Creek Watershed we will have no assurance that they will continue to do so until all the farms on the watershed are approved. So the safe thing for the farmers on this watershed, who want demonstration farms, is to get their applications in the County Agent's office at the earliest date possible.

TRENCH SILOS

At present the following men are building or making plans to build trench silos: John Dugger, Sugar Grove; Poley Moretz, Zionville; John Perry, Sherwood, and Brown Brothers, Blowing Rock.

Trench silos are no longer in the experimental stage as they have been used successfully on hundreds of farms in North Carolina during the last three years. The trench silo costs very little to construct, it can be made large or small to fit every farm need, and silage is probably the very cheapest and best feed that any farmer in the county can make to winter his livestock.

For information in regard to trench silos, see the County Agent.

POULTRY QUESTION

Can I substitute skim milk or buttermilk for any of the ingredients in your recommended State laying mash formula?

Answer: Skim milk or buttermilk may be substituted for dried milk at the rate of one gallon of milk to each 100 birds. Where as much as three gallons of the skim milk or buttermilk is fed to each 100 birds a day this will take the place of all the dried milk, one-half the fish meal, and one-half the meat meal as recommended. The success of these substitutions depend upon the regular feeding of the milk and unless there is an ample supply so as to make regular feedings no substitutions should be made.
