Mr. R. D. DeVault of Johnson City, Tenn., is spending a few days visiting in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Archie Qualls.

Mr. Lonnie Henson has supplied one of the season's most unusual oddities, two perfectly formed cabbage heads growing from a single stalk.

Mrs. John Smith of the Poplar Grove community, remains critically ill at her home, little change being noted in her condition.

Edwin Dougherty leaves next week for Low Gap, N. C., where he has secured a position as instructor of mathematics and science in the high school there.

Roy B. Greene left Tuesday for Collettsville, N. C. He fills the mathematics and science chair in the high school there and will also assist in glee club work.

Mrs. Oliver Orr of Brevard is spending a few days with relatives and friends in the community and county. Mrs. Orr is remembered here as the former Miss Jennie Taylor.

Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Brinkman of Brevard are spending the week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Stanbury. Miss Stanbury is a niece of the Brinkmans.

Mrs. Dave Henson of Sherwood underwent a serious operation at Grace Hospital, Banner Elk, Tuesday. Her near friends will be glad to learn that her condition is improving.

Mr. Fred Aldridge of the U. S. Navy, who has been stationed at San Pedro, Calif., for the past several months, is spending a few days with his family in Boone.

Mrs. Kay Boatright and baby daughter, Marilyn Kay, have returned to Kingsport after six weeks spent with Mrs. Boatright's parents, Sheriff and Mrs. John W. Hodges.

Mrs. L. M. Farthing, Miss Hazel Blalock and Mr. William Chew have returned from Raleigh, where Miss Blalock took special training in adult education for two weeks at the ERA teachers institute.

Mr. Ab Mullins, popular manager of the Mullins and Clay Grocery, has returned from a few days' combined business and pleasure trip to different points in the states of West Virginia and Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. George Williams have moved to Johnson City, Tenn., for the winter. Their son, Frank, who was enrolled at Appalachian College, will attend Milligan College this year.

Mr. William Winkler, who recently underwent a serious operation at a Lenoir hospital, returned to his home here several days ago, and is showing a satisfactory degree of improvement, it is said.

Mr. A. E. Hamby and son, A. E. Hamby Jr., left Tuesday for Wake Forest, where the younger Mr. Hamby will enter college, he having recently been awarded an athletic scholarship.

Mrs. Clyde Ritch spent Tuesday with Mrs. M. P. Critcher, en route from Los Angeles, where she had been for the past eight months, to her home in Greensboro. She was accompanied by her small son, Billie, and her sister, Miss Bebe Knight.

Mr. Marion Thomas of Mabel, who was in town Saturday, tells The Democrat that his father, Mr. Jasper Thomas, popular 77-year-old Watauga, is holding his own, despite the fact that he has not been in his usual good health for the past few weeks.

Mrs. M. W. Beach and daughter, Miss Annelie, have joined the husband and father in North Wilkesboro and will remain there for the winter. Mr. Beach, who holds a position with the Wilkes Journal, has commuted on week-ends, his family having lived in Boone for about two years. Another daughter, Miss Marian Beach, who is taking hospital treatment at Sanatorium, N. C., is reported as being decidedly improved.

Faculty Dames of A. S. T. C. Hold Regular Meeting.

The September meeting of Faculty Dames of Appalachian took place at the home of Mrs. D. J. Whitener on Tuesday evening, September third. The pretty rooms made a charming background for the guests who in truly patriotic spirit responded to roll call by giving each a fact about North Carolina. Mrs. Arlie Raymond Smith gave a fine review of the popular book, "Cabins in the Laurel." The president, Mrs. John Howell, then introduced Mr. Howard Ford of Penland, who spoke in most interesting fashion on weaving and pottery of Western North Carolina. Mr. Ford had with him specimens of the craft, and everyone eagerly examined the artistic pieces.

Mrs. Whitener served a delicious two-course luncheon. The October meeting will be held the first Tuesday evening in the month with Mrs.

Van G. Hinson at her home on Main Street.

Friday Afternoon Club With Mrs. Council.

Mrs. J. D. Council entertained the Friday Afternoon Club at her home on Main Street last week. The living room was beautifully decorated with garden flowers.

After a short business session, an enjoyable social hour was spent. Mrs. Council was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Frank Robbins Jr., in serving a tempting party plate.

The club will meet next with Mrs. J. D. Rankin.

Junior Music Club Meets At Caro-Jean Inn.

The Misses Jeanette and Carolyn Dowling were hostesses to the Junior Music Club Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 4, at the Caro-Jean Inn.

The story of the opera Rigoletto made an interesting study. Georgia Ayres and Mrs. Stallings played the Duke's Song as a duet from Act I and the class sang Caro Noma. La Donna e Mobile from Act III was given by Mary Dunkley. Another special number was a vocal solo by Mary Elinor Cook, who also played her own accompaniment.

The following program was then given: Fairy's Game, Annie Lee Angel; Call of the Ocean, Sarah Rebekah Rivers; duet, Ruby Green and Mrs. Stallings; English Folk Song, Jack Kelly; duet, Twilight Song, Nadine Gragg and Mrs. Stallings; Sunset, Spencer Qualls; Happy Farmers (Schumann), Mary Dunkley; The Band Plays Dixie, Betsy Johnson; Grand March (Bellini), Jeanette Dowling; La Czarine (Ganne), Carolyn Dowling.

A delicious party plate with punch was then served by the hostesses.

Worth While Club Entertained By Mrs. J. M. Moretz.

Mrs. J. M. Moretz, at her attractive home on Main Street, very pleasingly entertained members of the Worth While Club and a few visitors Friday evening of last week, eight to half past ten. Late summer flowers gave a cheerful tone to halls and rooms, in defiance of dark clouds and rain outside.

Mrs. J. C. Farthing was associate hostess.

The program had as a prelude a piano solo by Mrs. Lucy Moretz Davis of Wilson. Miss Nancy Lewis, club president, asking for roll call by the secretary, had responses in a one-minute story from each member of some incident in school days. This provoked much merriment. Miss Carolyn Weaver followed with a talk on "Education in North Carolina through the Years," giving something of the struggles for education by Murphy and Wiley, on through the days of Aycock and others of about 1900.

Business dispatched, there was a contest on old-time song favorites. Mrs. Davis again at the piano. Winners were Mesdames J. C. Canipe, Bernard Stallings and J. A. Williams. The hostess served delicious refreshments after which came the announcement of the next meeting, Friday evening of this week, with Mrs. W. C. Greer and Miss Nancy Lewis, hostesses, at the home of the former on Howard Street.

MABREY—BALDWIN

The marriage of Miss Julia Hayes Mabrey to Mr. Edward Lee Baldwin of Bluefield, W. Va., was solemnized at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. W. Whitehead, Sunday morning, September 8th, 9 o'clock, by Esquire E. N. Hahn.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin left immediately after the ceremony for their home in Bluefield, where the bridegroom has a position with the Bluefield Supply Company.

The bride has spent several years with her aunt here, and has a wide circle of friends in this section.

RADIO STARS TO APPEAR

WATAUGA COUNTY

This poem is fondly dedicated to my good friend Judge John H. Bingham, with whom I spent a mighty pleasant half-hour.—Arnold W. Carvel, Baltimore, Md.

The county of Watauga, where the sun prefers to shine, Is the greatest of all counties in the State of Caroline; Its mountains and its hill tops are just the shade of blue To fetch me back, Watauga, when I'm away from you!

The pattern of Watauga is often copied, friends, But the genuine Watauga with its roadways and their bends Are the kind that lead one onward, ever toward the setting sun, To the mountains of Watauga, when our daily task is done.

There's a gentleness and fragrance in that part of Caroline They call Watauga County, where the sun prefers to shine; And I just wish, Watauga, as I think kind thoughts of you, That I could stay forever, 'neath your sky-line ever blue.
