of the outsiders in his denunciation. President Wm. L. Ransom, New York of the American Bar Association; Angus D. MacLean, Assistant Attorney General of the U. S.; J. M. Broughton, president of the N. C. Bar Association; Judge L. R. Varner and Prof. Fred B. McCall, Chapel Hill were other speakers. Julius C. Smith, Greensboro, was elected president, succeeding I. M. Bailey, Raleigh, and Charles G. Rose, Fayetteville, vice-president. Henry M. London was re-elected secretary-treasurer by the council. He reported $18,000 in $3 membership dues. Seventeen of the 27 Superior Court judges held a luncheon and decided to meet thus annually. The board of law examiners and heads of law schools met Thursday to try to work out programs for courses of study to fit into the examinations given. Judge Felix Alley said present examinations are unfair in that they do not meet the courses.

REFORESTATION PLANS

Between five and six million seedlings for reforestation purposes have been produced this year at the State Forest Nursery, near Clayton, and are ready for distribution in the coming planting season, State Forester J. S. Holmes says. About 2,000,000 will be used in soil erosion control planting in the state by the U. S. Soil Erosion Service and the other 3,000,000 will be available to state farmers and landowners. They include about 3,000,000 loblolly pines, nearly 2,000,000 locusts, 750,000 longleaf pines and 500 poplars, and smaller numbers of mimos, shortleaf pine, maritime pine, black walnut, cypress and chestnut oak. Prices have been reduced even lower, to $2 per 1,000 for loblolly pine and locust, and is much below cost of production, Mr. Holmes says. The U. S. Forest Service cooperates with the Department of Conservation and Development in operating the nursery.

TO SUCCEED REYNOLDS

Report has it that Judge Wilson Warlick, Newton, and Judge Warlick does not deny it is thinking of running for the U. S. Senate in 1938, opposing Senator Robert R. Reynolds. The same report said he thought of running for Congress in the 10th district, where Congressman A. L. Bulwinkle is being opposed by William F. Scholl, Charlotte, and C. B. Woltz, Gastonia, with others likely to enter. But that was put behind him and he's looking at the Junior Senator's seat. He admitted at the State Bar meeting last Friday that he had heard the same thing. There has also been talk that Major L. B. McFendon, now of Greensboro, formerly of Durham, may get into that race. Both or either of them would give "Our Bob" a run for his office.

WANTS ECONOMY

John A. McRae, Charlotte, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor and former representative from both Anson and Mecklenburg counties, and Senator from Mecklenburg, issued a statement last week calling for economy in government, halting state and local bond issues and paying off indebtedness as rapidly as possible. Stopping issuing Federal and state tax-exempt bonds would not help, he said. He expresses the desire to see elected to the 1937 Legislature men and women from every section, of sound business judgment, fearless and of good character, not parsimonious to the extent of crippling the essential functions of government, but determined to stand for the interests of the people as a whole and eliminate waste and extravagance.

MANY BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits issued in 21 cities of the state having 10,000 or more population in September numbered 591 calling for expenditure of $1,054,337, an increase of 354 per cent over September, 1934 and 33.5 per cent over August, 1935. The residences will cost $311,097 and provide for 127 families, the non-residence buildings will cost $542,070 and additions, alterations and repairs $201,170, a compilation by the State Department of Labor shows. This department, Commissioner A. L. Fletcher reports, aided 386 World War Veterans, securing $613.50 in increases in monthly com-

NAMED REGIONAL CHIEF

W. Kerr Scott, Haw River farmer-stockman and former master of the N. C. State Grange, has been appointed regional chief of the Resettlement Administration's farm debt adjustment unit, having charge of these activities in Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina, Region Director Homer H. B. Mask announces. A graduate of N. C. State College, Mr. Scott operates a large stock farm in Alamance county. He is a member of the N. C. Rural Electrification Authority. Harry Watkins, located at Raleigh, will be his specialist for this state. This unit will carry on the voluntary farm adjustment program and with the allotment of $2,000,000 will work to bring creditors and debtors together in preventing farm foreclosures where possible.

TO TEACH AGAINST RUM

A two-page mimeograph bulletin on Alcoholism and Narcotism has been sent by State Supt. Clyde A. Erwin to all school superintendents for distribution to all principals calling attention to the law on instruction on the evils of alcoholism and narcotism in the schools as a part of health instruction. Plans are offered until proper books can be provided containing instruction on these points one being to use five consecutive periods of the high school assembly program led by the science teacher, the other for the teacher to devote five or ten alternate consecutive assembly hours in teaching the text to the pupils in her grade or room. Charts, plays or pageants could also be used.

"Topcoats went into temporary discard in many places in the Midwest. Sun bathers went back to their old stands. The snake population emerged for a final snack of grasshoppers and the 'hoppers, in turn, for a double order of alfalfa."
"Poets turned out to court the muse amid what they said was a breathtaking rash of glorious autumnal color. Hikers took to the woodland trails—brewers bustled. Southwestern farmers found conditions ideal for seeding winter wheat. Rains favored fall plowing in some sections of the central states."
"Meteorologists said that, while temperatures were abnormal, the pleasant interlude might be regarded as 1835's 'Indian summer.' They added, of course, it was too good to last."

...but, after all is said and done, it's the cigarette itself that counts
... the question is, does it suit you?

Now, when it comes to a cigarette that will suit you . . . you want to think whether it's mild, you want to think about the taste

That Chesterfields are milder and taste better is no accident . . .

The farmer who grows the tobacco, the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder, every man who knows about leaf tobacco will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobaccos to make a good cigarette.

In making Chesterfields we use mild ripe home-grown and Turkish tobaccos.
