ITEMS FROM THE DEMOCRAT OF JUNE 13, 1907

The boarders are coming in rather slowly, due to the cold weather. Miss Alice Boyden, who spent the winter and spring in Hickory, returned to her home here last Monday.

Harley Brendall, of the D. & D. School in Morganton, is spending his vacation with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Brendall of Boone.

Rev. W. A. Deaton, field missionary for the Lutheran Church of North Carolina, will preach at Mt. Zion on Friday, Saturday and Sunday next, at 2:30 each day. He will also preach at Mt. Pleasant on Sunday at 11 a. m.

Mr. Jesse Ray, the aged father of J. C. Ray, is suffering intensely from an aggravated cancer of the face, and to make his agony more intense he has been laboring with a severe attack of asthma for several days. He is now some better.

In naming the homecoming of our Watauga boys and girls from college we failed to note the arrival of I. G. Greer from his second year at the University. But Ike is home all the same and says he expects to work on the farm during vacation.

With 30 cents tax on the $100 valuation of property, 90 cents on the poll, and 10 days work for each hand subject to road duty within the corporate limits of the town of Boone, will evidently soon put our streets and sidewalks in good condition. The new board of aldermen, much to their credit, have given us just this, boys.

The school continues to grow as the days go by, and a splendid looking student body it is. We are told that the enrollment has far passed the 100 mark, with many others already here who have not yet registered.

At the University commencement Governor Glenn and Governor Aycock were each given the degree of L.L.D.

State College Hints For Home-makers

Enough of the right tools for the job makes for efficiency in the kitchen, as in any other workshop. But too many utensils, like too many cooks, have the opposite effect. Duplicates and unnecessary extras that tend to collect in kitchen drawers and cupboards take up space, slow down work, and waste time and energy.

Occasional weeding out of all kitchen equipment that does not do enough work for its keep is recommended by home management specialists. Get rid of the unnecessary pans and kettles, the broken knife or wobbly egg beater, and the fancy gadgets that have proven unsuccessful.

One of a kind is enough for many items of equipment — one knife sharpener, for example, and one bottle opener instead of a handful as in many kitchen drawers.

Sometimes doubles make for efficiency, however. Two measuring cups, one for dry and one for liquid ingredients, are needed for rapid work. Twin sets of salt and pepper, one at the stove and one at the mixing center—save steps.

The truly convenient kitchen has what is needed where and when it is needed — and nothing more.

Homamkers will find it pays to set aside 15 minutes each day to organize work plans for the day—the meals, the cleaning activities, some time to guide the children's play, a period for relaxation.

FRANK M. PAYNE

Local Insurance Man Honored at Meeting Of Security Life

Frank M. Payne has just returned from Asheville, N. C. where special honors were accorded him in recognition of his having won membership in the Security Leaders Club, high honor group in the agency organization of Security Life and Trust Company of Winston-Salem.

Attained this position of merit because of his outstanding performance during the past twelve months both in the production of new business and service to his policy owners.

The three-day session was held at Grove Park Inn.

The theme of the Company's first postwar convention dealt with "Life Insurance in the Postwar World." It was brought out at the meeting that the purchase of life insurance in this country is more than 52% greater than 1945. Security officials state that the company's new life insurance is running more than 100% greater than last year, indicating increasing recognition by the public of the value of life insurance to the individual and national economy.

In reporting what life insurance did in general in the past year, Tully D. Blair, Vice-President and Agency Manager of the company said, "Life insurance payments helped countless members of United States' families in their time of greatest need. They paid off mortgages on homes and farms from one coast to the other. They started boys and girls on their college careers. They helped thousands of policy owners to set up a business of their own, and provided many others the means for comfortable retirement when they reach old age."

Dear Pop:

Once a year we get a chance to thank you for all you've done... helping with the home-work and getting us out of jams. (Which reminds us, Mr. Berkly, our neighbor, wants to see you tomorrow.) No kidding, Pop, we think you're a solid sender so we put our heads and green-backs together and picked out some things we hope you like. The tie is from Jimmy. (Don't worry, mom didn't pick it out.) The jacket is from Steve. Hope he's home by next Father's Day. Sue gave you a belt that's adjustable after dinner. The slippers are from little Babs, or weren't you hinting? The shirt and sweater are from me. It's not bad having so many kids after all, is it, pop?

From all of us...

with love to dad...

P. S.—To make this the best father's Day you ever had we bought the gifts from the store you like the best...
