

App Schedule Begins Saturday

tion. A surplus of fine guards and backs exists, with the end, center and tackle positions wide open, and the object of much head bashing among the freshmen.

Big strapping Joe Wheeler, freshman tackle, is sure to see much defensive service this year. Harold Lakey, freshman end, is also being counted on for heavy duty.

The team Appalachian will field Saturday night in Winston-Salem against Guilford is a far cry from the teams of the last three years. Only one man on the 60 man roster weighs over the 200 pound mark. The backs are, however, ideally suited to the wide open tactics of the split T. They are small, fast, and shifty. If sufficient linemen with the ability to shake a few of these scat backs into the open can be uncovered between now and next Saturday night, this Appalachian team cannot be discounted too soon.

Millionth Traffic Victim Is in Sight

Chicago.—Who will be the one millionth person to die in a traffic accident? Where will it happen? Exactly when?

The National Safety Council said today the answers to those questions will never be known.

If the present rate of traffic deaths continues, some time next December a child will dart into the street, a homeward-bound salesman will try to pass a truck on a hill, a young couple will hurtle off a curve on the way to a dance, an old woman will become confused crossing a street—and the millionth traffic victim will pass unheralded into a dusty police file.

But even though the actual identity of the millionth victim will remain a mystery, the council has made plans which will enable it to name the fateful day as a climax to an intensive safe driving campaign in which all safety organizations are cooperating.

The council announced it is setting up the machinery to supplement its regular monthly reports with special weekly summaries from the states. On November 15, the council will begin issuing weekly bulletins on the grand total of traffic deaths since the advent of the automobile. These bulletins also will forecast the probable date of the millionth fatality.

"Our only purpose in trying to identify such a grim date in history is to dramatize the horror of such a huge traffic toll," said Ned H. Dearborn, Council president. "Perhaps 1,000,000 dead—almost twice the number of Americans who have died in combat in all our wars—will crack the apathy of a nation which can see 35,000 persons killed by autos in a year without much concern.

"It has taken a little more than 50 years to kill the first million. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, it will take only 30 years to kill the second million. We can only hope that this terrible day of seven-figure reckoning will become a safety milestone—not just another gravestone—on the road to more responsible use of the automobile."

GOOD INVESTMENT

The Farm Credit Administration recently sent a check for $1,000,000 to the U. S. Treasury, thus boosting to $100,000,000 the total dividends from the $200,000,000 loaned to farmers during the depression days of the 1930's.
