

HEREFORD SALE

Finley P. Hodges and Son offer four lots including the herd bull that they are selling because he is so closely related to the cow herd.

Groups of three lots each will come from Diamond S. Ranch, V. C. Shores and W. H. Walker. Diamond S is offering two cows with calves at side, and one open heifer.

Shibley Farm offers two promising heifers, one by H. C. Larry Domino 55, the outstanding herd bull on the farm and the other of WHR breeding and selling with breeding privilege to H. C. Larry Domino 55.

B. C. Donnelly comes up with a bull and a heifer by the Mill Iron bull and Edwin Dougherty offers two very deep and thick heifer calves by Stanway Pride.

Norris Brothers offer a nice heifer by Ardmore Domino 2, and a cow with a calf at side by this bull and bred back to him.

R. C. Rivers sends a heifer rich in popular bloodlines and carries the service of Silver Prince 13th, the W. H. Walker herd bull.

Single lot bulls come from Triple E. Hereford farm, D. L. Bingham and Council Henson.

Production of farm machinery proceeded at an all-time high rate during the first six months of this year.

POSTURE WEEK

Continued from page one: bus can have a marked effect on your health, energy and looks.

"Putting glamor aside, we're a lot of pounds of assorted tissues, muscles and organs draped on a structure of bones. Up on top is a heavy ball that we comb and think with—our head!

"Poor posture, the slump and slouch, takes part of the job away from our bones and hands it to the muscles. Their protest is called 'fatigue' or 'that tired feeling'.

"Good posture or good body mechanics is a matter of thinking about it as you go about your daily duties and relaxation.

"The blood donor program will get underway Monday morning at eleven o'clock and continue until six o'clock in the evening.

REV. MR. SMITH

Continued from page one: ment of her home church and is a frequent teacher of that work in training schools over western North Carolina.

A newcomer to Boone, Miss Ruby Akers of New Albany, Miss., and presently a graduate assistant at ASTC, will direct the course for young people. Miss Akers is an accredited teacher of the Methodist church in that field and before coming to Boone spent a number of years in directing youth work.

The school will close on Thursday night, and credits will be issued to those completing the requirements of the courses.

The pastor of the host church, Rev. Joseph T. Shackford, director of the school, has extended an urgent invitation to church school workers of other denominations to enroll in the school and avail themselves of the help of those experienced teachers.

BLOOD

Mrs. Len D. Hagaman, coordinator; Mrs. Mae Miller, chairman of reception committee; Miss Elizabeth Bridge, canteen chairman. Two graduate nurses from Boone, Mrs. John Martin and Mrs. Dell Richardson, Jr., have volunteered to serve with the medical staff during the day; other volunteers to be assigned duties on that day are Mesdames Coker Triplett, Arnold Van Pelt, W. F. Miller, Jr., A. R. Smith, Wiley Smith, and O. K. Richardson.

The blood donor program will get underway Monday morning at eleven o'clock and continue until six o'clock in the evening.

125 Methodists at Sub-District Meet

More than a hundred and twenty-five young people and adults from four Methodist churches assembled at Mabel Methodist charge on the Henson's Chapel Methodist Church on Sunday night for their sub-district meeting for October.

A highly interesting and meaningful program was given by the Mabel young people on "John Wesley and the Origins of Methodism."

At the business meeting, President Katherine Clay presided. An offering was taken for missions, and the group voted to undertake as a mission special the purchase of school supplies for a missionary in the Belgian Congo.

Plans were completed for participation in the training school for church school workers to be held at the Boone Methodist Church, October 22-25, at which school a special course on the Methodist Youth Fellowship, taught by Miss Ruby Akers, of

New Albany, Miss., and Boone will be included in the courses of the school.

Delicious and abundant refreshments of punch and cookies were served by the ladies of the Mabel church at the close of the business meeting.

FOODHANDLERS

The workers who attended the Foodhandlers' School were given information concerning germs encountered in foodhandling and a demonstration of the common ways of spreading germs, hints for good foodhandling practices and personal hygiene and a demonstration of proper dishwashing and the use of paper cups in safe foodhandling.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our gratitude to our many friends and neighbors for their many deeds of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our dear husband and father, J. R. Greene. We are grateful to those sending food, and the floral offering—The family.
