

Workshop Courses Are Slated At College Here

On Monday, August 2, Appalachian State Teachers College will open a new series of workshop courses in its summer session. According to advance enrollment, the workshops will bring representatives from the entire southeast to the ASTC campus.

In addition to several academic courses which are being presented, the workshops will include the following:

Student Teaching Workshop, a course planned for the supervisors of student teaching either in college training schools or in off-campus centers; Music Workshop, an intensive course in modern methods of music education for superintendents, principals, supervisors, music teachers, and classroom teachers. The course is sponsored jointly by Silver Burdett Company, publishers of New Music Horizons, and Appalachian State Teachers College; Elementary Education Workshop, an intensive course in elementary education, materials and methods in the fields of arithmetic, science, music and rhythms.

On August 9, and extending through the 20th, there will be a Choral Workshop, an intensive two-week course in the study of choral literature suitable for grade and high school choral performances.

Among the authorities to be here for these workshops are the following:

Miss Sally Dietrich, director of vocal music at South Side Junior-Senior High School, Rockville Center, New York; Miss Forrester Whitaker, professor of music at Meredith College, Raleigh; Mrs. Edna Doll, director of rhythms and dance, Clifford Scott High School, East Orange, New Jersey; Dr. John G. Navarra, research assistant in the department of natural sciences, Teachers College, Columbia University;

W. J. Castnie, principal of Taylor Elementary School in South Carolina; Dr. John A. Permenter, associate professor of education at Florida State University; Al G. Wright, director of music at Miami Senior High School, Florida; and Charles Greer, music expert with Silver Burdett Company.

The music education workshop, and the choral workshop have been planned so that students may take both. The music education workshop will meet morning hours, and the first week of the choral workshop has been scheduled for afternoon hours so that the same students may enroll in both courses. The second week of the choral workshop will be offered in the mornings.

Paul Said To Mr. Ed:

A BOY
Nobody knows what a boy is worth,
A boy at his work or play,
A boy who whistles about the place
Or laughs in his artless way.

Nobody knows what a boy is worth,
And the world must wait and see,
For every man in his honored place,
Is a boy that used to be.

Nobody knows what a boy is worth
A boy with his small bare feet;
So have a smile and a kindly word
For every boy you meet.

Pasture Care Hints Are Given

Being prepared to supply additional water when it is needed may prove to be good insurance against pasture loss during the hot, dry months of summer and fall.

Howard Ellis, in charge of agricultural engineering for the State College Extension Service, says Tar Heel tobacco farmers are pretty well aware of the importance of irrigation. But the dairy and beef cattle farmer may not be so sure.

Ellis says that during dry summers, such as North Carolina has experienced during the last three or four years, the grazing capacity of pastures can be increased 50 per cent with irrigated water. In tests recently conducted by the Tennessee Dairy Experiment Station, returns from pastures that were irrigated averaged about $100 more per acre than non-irrigated pastures—after cost of irrigation and other costs were deducted.

The tests compared irrigated orchard grass, alfalfa, and Ladino clover pasture with non-irrigated. It was found that the irrigated plots provided 257 cow-days of grazing per acre, compared with 176 days for the non-irrigated plots.

The irrigated plots produced 12,520 pounds of milk with 523 pounds of butterfat, compared with only 8,019 pounds of milk with 354 pounds of butterfat from the non-irrigated plots.

Homemakers in this country continued to purchase more butter and cheese in May than in months prior to the reduction in price supports on dairy products, according to the USDA.

IN TRIESTE

Pfc. Thomas L. Greene of Bristol Road, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doughton L. Greene, is now seeing service in Trieste. This territory is now occupied by U. N. troops pending a final settlement between Italy and Yugoslavia. Pfc. Greene landed in Germany last month after completing a course in leadership school at Fort Jackson. He reports that the duty is fine, and that he has a good group of boys to work with.

Some 585,000 acres of cotton were in cultivation in North Carolina on July 1, the lowest acreage on this date since early in the 1870's.

It's the Hit that's writing New History

TAKE a look, if you please, at the car and the styling that are changing historic sales standings.

Take a look at the beauty and the buy called Buick—the car that is forging ahead to new sales heights in the 1954 market.

Take a look at the new best seller that has moved into the "Big Three" of the nation's top sales leaders—into that very exclusive circle that for two decades has held only the so-called "low-price three."

For today, as national sales figures for the first five months reveal, Buick is outselling all other cars except two of these "low-price three." And each month firms Buick's new position.

It takes solid worth to bring this about—a lot more automobile per dollar in Buick than in other cars.

But it also takes the glamorous new tomorrow styling that is Buick today. It takes the highest V8 horsepower, Series for Series, in all Buick history. It takes the room and comfort and ride and handling that are Buick's proud tradition.

And it takes a range of cars to satisfy a wide range of people—with prices that most people can well afford. So you find the low-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-spacious SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER—the four big reasons for Buick's tremendous sales success.

Come in for a demonstration and you'll see what we mean.

With the years-away styling of this glamor car, you'll be way ahead at resale time. And right now you're money ahead with the big trade-in allowance our volume sales can bring you. Drop in this week.
