

Morhauser Is Named United Fund Chairman

RICHARD MORHAUSER

Richard Morhauser, manager of the International Resistance Company plant in Boone, was elected president of the Watauga County United Fund at the annual general meeting on Thursday, April 4.

Mr. Morhauser came to Boone with his family several years ago and has been active in various civic groups and enterprises. He is experienced in United Fund work, having served last year as Boone's representative on the board of directors of the state-wide Carolinas United. He will organize and direct the United Fund in Watauga County in its second year of work.

He succeeds R. E. Agle, president for the successful first year of the organization.

Other officers elected at the meeting include: Hugh Hagaman, and Mrs. Lawrence Owsley, vice-presidents; Mrs. Guy Angell, secretary; R. D. Hodges, Jr., treasurer; and Dan Walton, legal advisor.

New directors elected for three-year terms included Mrs. Howard Carlson, Grady Moretz, Jr., Dr. Gene Reese, Tom Winkler, Bynum Greene, Harold Rice, James Marsh, R. D. Hodges, Jr., L. E. Tuckwiler, Ralph Tugman, J. D. Cook, Perry Greene, Mrs. Guy Angell, Phil Vance, Jr., and the presidents of the Ministerial and School Principals associations.

Two proposed amendments to the constitution were discussed, and the legal advisor was requested to draw them up in form for possible adoption. The amendments would provide for changing the election and installation of new officers in January instead of April, and for the placing of the outgoing president on the board of directors automatically.

for the number specified and only in rare cases or by accident can one eavesdrop.

It is all automatic and needs no operator.

In days gone by Mrs. Nannie Swift, the operator, has served her community well. She has called the doctor in many an emergency.

If one's house caught fire all one had to do was call "Miss Nannie," and she attended to calling the fire truck and its fighters.

It fell her painful duty to relay the death message in the bleak war years to the nearest of kin. It became her lot to arrange for the choir when a funeral was in the making. She had a wonderful habit of calling up the shut-ins and talking to them during her leisure hours. It was a twenty-four hour job around the clock.

Though the new system will be much more efficient, it will never fill the void that "Miss Nannie" left, as she told me herself the most wonderful message she ever got was late one Christmas Eve when she heard the piping shrill voice of a little teen age girl on the other end of the line:

"Miss Nannie, has Santa Claus passed Sugar Grove yet?"

folk songs. It is Appalachian's last number in the program series for this season. Students and holders of season tickets will be given priority in seating. Other people interested in attending the program may secure tickets at the door on the evening of the performance. Arrangements are being made to accommodate high school students and their teachers.

committee was made by the chairman, G. C. Greene, Jr.

James Marsh, treasurer for the first year, gave a report of the amount disbursed to date to the various agencies included in the budget. According to the report, $10,627 has been paid in on pledges toward the budget of $14,000.
