

Blowing Rock School

The Blowing Rock PTA met in the school auditorium on Monday night, April 8. Mrs. Charles DeWitt presided in the absence of Mrs. Jack Rainey, president.

Dan Klutz gave the treasurer's report. After taking the count of parents present by home rooms, he announced that Mrs. Harwell's fifth grade had won the $25 prize for membership attendance.

Dr. Keyes expressed the appreciation of the local school committee for the fine work done by the PTA. He commended Mrs. Grace Beach for the excellent job she has done this year as school treasurer. After announcing that the Rotary Club had voted to furnish blinds for the new school building, Dr. Keyes asked for donations for the Rotary's first auction sale.

Mrs. B. Winkler, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers for next year. Mrs. Norman Pitts is the incoming president; Stokes Miller, vice-president; Mrs. Bill Foster, secretary, and Mrs. Hardin Coffey, treasurer. Mr. Storie, principal, thanked the PTA and the local school committee for their cooperation and excellent support of the school this year. He announced the resignation of two faculty members, Mrs. Harwell and Mr. McCurry. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, new teachers for next year, were introduced.

Two new subjects, shorthand and bookkeeping, will be added to the high school curriculum next year, according to Mr. Storie. These additions will be possible because of the extra teacher the high school will gain, based on attendance.

Mrs. Jackie Sells' first year home economics girls modeled skirts and blouses made in class. Ann Buxton introduced the display; Mrs. Sells acted as commentator, and Mrs. Polly Martin played the piano.

Work of the second year class was reviewed by Becky Hampton after which skirts, pajamas, a housecoat, and a jumper were modeled by Becky Hampton, Rachel Moody, Cora Broyhill, Gail Miller, Mary Lentz, and Marie Ford who had made them in class.

Ham Spells Spring Hospitality

It's heavenly to be a hostess when ham helps you have a holiday right along with your guests. Ham is so festive and substantial, it makes a meal. A trip to the oven, and it's ready to serve. Glaze ham, if you will, but it isn't necessary. The flavor of the meat will be just as delicious without it. Modern directions for baking different types of ham are included. Serve with scalloped potatoes and a fresh fruit salad.

HOW TO COOK HAM

Times given are for hams taken chilled from refrigerator.

Cooked-Ready-To-Eat whole hams (10-12 pounds) require 10-12 minutes per pound heating time. Cooked-Ready-To-Eat half hams require 14 minutes per pound heating time.

Boned rolled hams (usually uncooked) require approximately 30 minutes per pound; skinless, shankless hams 18-22 minutes per pound.

Country-style hams usually are soaked in water several hours or overnight and then simmered in water until tender; remove rind, score and glaze.

Boneless smoked shoulder butts are simmered in water 45 minutes per pound.

Small canned hams (approximately 6 pounds) 20 minutes per pound; 8-13 pound canned hams, 15 minutes per pound.

Mrs. Whitener's First Grade
Susan White spent last week in Florida.

Ruth Klutz told about the new baby lambs at her house. She said that the pony would not do anything for her brother and sisters unless she gave him candy. His name is Trigger.

Michael Walker went to Lenoir recently.

John Rainey brought pictures of things he enjoyed at Cherokee.

Julia Storie had four new puppies at her house.

Arnold Townsend visited his grandmother Sunday.

Patricia Ann Rawls, who came from Whaleyville, Va., this month, is a new class member.

Mrs. Whitener bought some guppies and a new aquarium for the science table.

March employment rose to 63,863,000, new record. Unemployment for the month fell to 2,882,000.

Library News

The library assistants under the supervision of the librarian, Mrs. L. H. Owsley and Miss Linda Townsend, student teacher, painted a bookshelf, the magazine rack, and a post with a sparkling shade of red. This makes the library a very cheerful and much brighter place to read and to study.

Library Conference

The N. C. State Library Conference held on the A. S. T. C. campus Thursday through Saturday was attended by 100 librarians and library supervisors from all over the state. Dr. Gramley, president of Salem College in Winston-Salem, spoke on "These Years of Our Life" Thursday night at the opening session. This was followed by a reception in the elementary school library for which Mrs. Jessie Pease, elementary school librarian, Mrs. Pauline Carter, student teacher and Mrs. L. H. Owsley, high school librarian and Miss Linda Townsend, student teacher were hostesses. Mrs. Owsley and Miss Townsend also attended some of the conference meetings and clinics, gave book reviews at the Saturday breakfast, and conducted tours of the high school library for the visiting librarians.

MALARIA AID

The U. S. Government has presented the Pan American Sanitary Bureau, regional office of the World Health Organization, $1,500,000 to be used to support a program to wipe out malaria. The program has been adopted by all the republics of the Western Hemisphere who have agreed to convert their control efforts to those of full-scale eradication.

Walter P. Reuther of the United Automobile Workers, has completed the selection of six leading citizens for a board that will serve as a "public watchdog" over the union.

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

Retail trade of the nation is holding just about level with last year—department store sales, for example, are a slim 1 per cent above 1956. Personal incomes stay high, with higher pay for some cancelling out shorter work weeks for others. Employment gains in some segments of the economy have topped layoffs in an increasing number of factories, consumer spending thus stays high overall, even if it has disappointed some merchants by not continuing to rise.

COTTON TRADE

Indications now are that efforts to recover the "historical share" of the world market for American cotton growers are meeting with success. Cotton exports in the twelve months ending July may well exceed 7,000,000 bales. This would be the highest for any season since 1933-34, when they amounted to 7,552,000 bales. Since Aug. 1, 1956 cotton exports have been five times as great as the year before, and the export demand shows no signs of diminishing.

A BULLET IS WAITING: Starring Jean Simmons, Rory Calhoun, Stephen McNally, Brian Aherne.

Stephen McNally, a sheriff, is flying his prisoner, Rory Calhoun, to Utah when the plane crashes. Calhoun escapes and meets Jean Simmons while trespassing on her ranch. McNally follows them and the three are forced to take refuge in a cabin because of torrential rains. Calhoun reveals to Jean that he had shot McNally's brother in self-defense, and that the sheriff has been tracking him ever since. McNally realizes that it is Jean's love for Calhoun that keeps the latter from escaping. Then Jean's father, Brian Aherne, pledges that he will deliver Calhoun to Utah for trial.
