

Student Teachers Are Given Grade Positions

The following students from Appalachian State Teachers College have been given student teaching assignments in our school for the fall quarter: Mrs. Lucy Priest, first grade, with Mrs. Cottrell; Miss Buelah Odom, second grade with Mrs. Davis; Mrs. Mary Ellen Goforth, third grade, with Mrs. Broome; Miss Betty Woodruff, third grade, with Mrs. Robinson; Mrs. Doris Gates, third and fourth grade, with Mrs. Crawford; and Mrs. Ennis Littlewood, sixth grade, with Mr. Scott.

Supervisor Visits
Mrs. Dessa Mae Edmisten, county elementary supervisor, visited our school last Monday. She spoke to our teachers at faculty meeting Monday afternoon, explaining the functions of the county film library which has been set up this year. Lists and suggested uses of the available films were given to teachers.

Assembly
Rev. Edwin Troutman, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church in Boone, spoke to the children in grades one through four Friday at their assembly.

Eighth Grade News
The students in Mrs. Hamby's eighth grade homeroom have elected Madelyn Castle as their citizen of the week.

Autumn Gay Time For Travel From Mountains To The Sea

By MIRIAM RABB

Autumn's brilliance touches every section of North Carolina vacationlands during October.

Across the Great Smokies and Blue Ridge Mountains—where the highest peaks in Eastern America tower up to well above mile-high elevations—every highway gives you a front row, center, seat at one of the greatest autumn foliage shows in America. As you drive from one altitude to another there is endless variety in the combinations of crimson, gold and bronze which mingle with the dark evergreens. The smoky blue which characterizes the region hangs like a filmy curtain between the nearby hills and those in the distance.

Down on the North Carolina coast, where Wilbur and Orville Wright chose autumn as the time to build the world's first powered aircraft, autumn fishing is something special. By mid-September and well through early November, the big bronze-backed channel bass come into the surf from Kitty Hawk to Cape Hatteras, and south to the beaches near Wilmington and Southport.

Wild ducks and Canada wheel in the skies over the marshlands around Currituck Sound and Lake Mattamuskeet, and by the opening of the waterfowl season on November 7 lure hunters from many states.

In the Sandhills, where Southern Pines and Pinehurst are famed winter resorts for golf and riding, all accommodations, golf courses, shops and stables are open by early October. The two resorts have seven 18-hole golf courses within a radius of five miles, and there is foxhunting, pleasure riding, and a round of informal horse shows and gymkhanas.

October is the month of North Carolina's big State Fair at Raleigh, to be held October 15-19 this year. Heart of the fairgrounds on U. S. 1 near the Capital City is the State Fair Arena, one of America's most striking contemporary buildings.

A dozen other fairs invite October visitors, and at Chapel Hill, Morehead Planetarium's October 22-November 25 show is appropriately titled "Harvest of the Skies."

October 15 marks the opening of the big game season, with bear and deer hunting enjoyed in coastal and mountain forests. Bow and arrow hunters can begin hunting on October 8. Wild boar are hunted in the Western North Carolina mountains near Robbinsville.

Across Eastern North Carolina and the Piedmont you can stop in at dozens of tobacco warehouses to hear the chant of the auctioneer as he offers the golden weed to buyers from the world's largest tobacco companies. At Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Reidsville and Durham you can take a free guided tour of the factories where those companies manufacture cigarettes.

Recreational areas for camping, picnicking and hiking remain open in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, along the Blue Ridge Parkway, in the Cape Hatteras National Seashore and in the National Forests through the autumn color season. So do special attractions like the Parkway Craft Center and Minerals Museum on the Parkway, and the Pioneer Museum and Homestead at the North Carolina entrance to the Great Smokies Park.

Privately operated scenic attractions, as well as inns, motor courts, and guest homes, are open for autumn visitors. This year, travelers have a wider choice of accommodations than ever before. New attractions include Tweetsie, the narrow-gauge scenic railroad near Blowing Rock; the Brinegar Cabin pioneer home on the Blue Ridge Parkway, and new bridges and ferries to the Outer Banks.

As the season begins in the Sandhills, Pinehurst will be host to the 6th annual North and South Invitation Seniors Golf Championship October 21-25. Southern Pines' annual Golf Carrousel is November 21-24. Formal foxhunts offer Thanksgiving Day fun for participants and spectators at Tryon, Sedgefield and Southern Pines—they're a field day for photographers.

SAFES SAFE
Baltimore, Md.—Despite a fire which completely destroyed the Essex branch of the Fidelity-Baltimore National Bank recently, an estimated $250,000 contained in two safes was undamaged. The safes, removed from the ruins of the building, were opened and the money was not even scorched.

Miss Hardin Enters UNC Pharmacy School
Chapel Hill—Jo Anne Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hardin of Route 2, Boone, is enrolled in the University of North Carolina School of Pharmacy at Chapel Hill.

Miss Hardin attended high school at Appalachian High in Boone.

The four-year course at the UNC School of Pharmacy leads to a degree of bachelor of science in pharmacy.

Miss Hardin is now in her first year of the course. She is scheduled to graduate in June, 1961.

Telephone Talk

by
H. M. INABINET
Your Telephone Manager

HOW BIG IS A BARGAIN? A local homemaker studied the value of her telephone service. She found that telephone rates, in terms of what her dollars will buy, have actually gone down and the service is better than when she was a bride 15 years back. And the real cost of telephone service is down compared to other goods and services you buy. Food costs, for example, have gone up nearly twice as much as phone service. And it's a smaller item in the family budget. Before World War II, over 2 per cent of family income was spent for local phone service; today, less than 1 per cent. To put it another way, the cost of a day's service is less than the price of a loaf of bread, a pack of cigarettes or a quart of milk. Pretty big bargain, wouldn't you say?

MAN-MADE MOON—Sometime next spring, a powerful three-stage rocket will zoom into the stratosphere. About 300 miles up and at a speed of 18,000 m.p.h., the rocket will release a small, shiny sphere: the world's first man-made moon. Inside the satellite will be a product of Bell System research and manufacture—a special kind of transistor. Pioneered and developed by Bell Laboratories and Western Electric engineers, the tiny transistor will enable the artificial moon to send data by radio back to earth. So you might say that telephone research is really "out of this world."

I WAS WATCHING a construction crew building a new highway the other day. Seems like more and more roads are being built or improved around the state to keep up with growing traffic, and that's fine. Well, it's the same way with the telephone company. When traffic gets heavy on lines between cities, we build new voice highways to take care of your calls. You may be interested to know that these super-highways for phone calls have over four times the capacity of ten years ago. That means your Long Distance calls go through fast, especially when you call station-to-station and give the operator the out-of-town number you want. Try it!
