

News Of The Week At Blowing Rock School

From Mrs. D. J. Whitener's first grade comes the news of new experiences, new friends and the beginning of an exciting journey into the realm of education. Some of the daily experiences for these thirteen girls and ten boys include the following: At ten o'clock they take time out from their mental nourishment to refresh their physical growth with ice cold milk. Each day most of the girls and boys eat a well balanced lunch in the school cafeteria, and those who do not eat in the cafeteria bring their lunch from home. And one of the highlights of a nice sunny day is their play period in the park.

Wendy Robbins, David Colley and Margaret Taylor were absent some last week, and the class is very anxious for them to return. Steven Greene, Jr. was happy to have his daddy, mother and little brother join him for lunch in the cafeteria last week, and to later join them for a trip to the fair. Several of the parents have visited this class and the children are always glad to have them. Also, Richard Robbins has a new baby sister.

Fourth And Fifth Grade News
From Mr. McDaniels forth and fifth grade combination comes the rejoicing of no more Saturday classes. This class has elected the following officers for the year: Buddy Townsend, president; Terry Davis, secretary; Dean Knight, treasurer.

Mrs. Winkler's Sixth Grade News
In Mrs. B. Winkler's sixth grade class there are forty students this year. Special duties have been assigned to every pupil in the room for the year on the following committees: librarian, athletic, and devotional. Each child is pleased to have a share in these responsibilities. This year these students are having a lot of fun with science. Already they have made several interesting exhibits on the study of the ocean. Social studies also took on a new light for this class when they began their tour of romantic and picturesque Greece. A filmstrip library has been started, and as this class continues their imaginary tour of each country we know that they will have an exciting time.

Mrs. Greene's Seventh Grade
The school year of 1957-58 invites Mrs. Greene's seventh grade class to their classroom which was modernized and redecorated during the summer vacation. The lockers are the one thing that they appreciate most. And to show their appreciation for these improvements the class has assumed the responsibility of keeping their room neat and in order. They express their appreciation and thanks to the County Board of Education for these improvements.

Class officers for the first three months are: Judy Coffey, president; Pat Fortune, vice president; Linda Luttrell, secretary; Rhea Holder, treasurer; Sally Ford, Edith Story and Ina Luttrell, song leaders; James Klutz, reporter.

Freshman Class News
The freshmen class took a hay ride to the foot of Grandfather Mountain Friday night. After a weiner roast about half of the party made an attempt to climb the mountain in the dark. But about half-way up the mountain they decided that it wasn't such a bright ideal after all. The sponsors for the party were Miss Elliott, class sponsor, and Mr. Daniel Klutz, who furnished the truck and the hay. The class is very grateful to Mr. Klutz for a very successful party.
