

Adams Stresses Value Good Farm-City Feeling

Alfred Adams of Boone, Watauga county chairman for Farm-City Week, has again stressed the importance of cooperation and understanding between rural and urban groups. Farm-City Week is being observed nationally during the period of November 22-28.

Adams states that it is appropriate that this program should close with Thanksgiving Day, thereby giving recognition to the American farmers for their part in making the people of the U. S. the best fed and clothed in the world.

He stated that a smaller and smaller part of the population has been required to feed and clothe our nation. One hundred years ago, it was necessary for two-thirds of the nation's population to till the farms to produce adequately for themselves and the one-third who were not farmers. By 1956 farm people made up only 13% of the population.

This efficiency of American agriculture has made it possible for a large share of the population to work in industry and in providing the many services which we have in this country.

Adams pointed out that although the United States occupies only 7 per cent of the world's land area and contains 6 per cent of the world's population, we produce 40 per cent of the world's milk, 65 per cent of the corn, have three-fourths of the automobiles and talk over 60 per cent of the telephones.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Triplett

Mrs. Eliza Caroline Hampton Triplett, 91, resident of the Triplett neighborhood, died last Thursday at Watauga Hospital.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Mount Vernon Baptist Church by Rev. R. C. Eggers and Rev. Roscoe Greene and burial was in the Hampton cemetery.

An adopted son, W. H. Benson, survives and one sister, Mrs. Mary Brown, Conesville, Ohio.

Farmers' costs for production items and for family living are expected to rise 2 to 4 per cent next year.

U. S. farm population is now 13 per cent of the total.

Those interested in attending should confer immediately with Virgil Settle, Master Wilkes Pomona Grange, Elkin, route 2, or J. Stowe Thomason, Master Yadkin Pomona Grange, Elkin.

The chief speaker for the occasion will be Roy Battles, of Washington, D. C., assistant to the Master of the National Grange, who is a very fluent speaker and humorist.

In addition to Mr. Battles, Harry B. Caldwell, Master N. C. State Grange, and Mrs. Caldwell of Greensboro, who have just returned from the National Grange Convention at Colorado Springs, Col., will be present and will report on the national meeting.

Asian Influenza Vaccine

State, County, and Town employees, who reside in Watauga County, may obtain their Asian influenza vaccine at the Health Center in Boone during regular clinics held each Monday morning from 8:30 until 11:30. There will be a charge to cover the cost of the vaccine. Persons who had the vaccine early in the fall might wish to get a booster before the Christmas holidays since the vaccine is now quite generally available. It is felt that there may be an increase in cases early in 1958. Physicians may wish to recommend a second injection, as well, for other patients under their care. Vaccinations, the Public Health Service says, should continue to be carried out in communities where influenza has been prevalent for those who have not had the illness.

Falling Farm Income Topic Senator Scott

Willard—Sen. W. Kerr Scott last week urged North Carolina farmers to "rise up and launch a daring campaign to fight falling farm income."

Speaking at the Cape Fear District Meeting of the Ruritan Club, Scott said cash farm income in the state will be off "at least 150 million dollars" this year, and outlined a three-point program to offset the downward trend.

He said the following things would "materially increase" farm income:

- "1. Wider and wiser uses of water resources, mainly increased irrigation of row crops.
 - "2. Organizing co-operatives and other groups to process our native farm products.
 - "3. Improving and expanding organized marketing."
- The Senator, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said irrigation of row crops has tripled in the past few years in the state. He said experiments show that "cotton, corn, peanuts and other crops as well as tobacco" can be irrigated with profit.

Scott said there are "immediate and critical problems to solve in the general field of processing and marketing of our farm products." He said "a great deal of progress" has been made in processing and marketing of the state's farm products in recent years, but called for stepped up programs in both fields to keep farmers from being dependent on "one- or two-crop operations."
