Seniors Win Awards
Five members of the senior class received special awards from the faculty of Appalachian High School on Saturday, May 31 during the Honor Day program.

Wilma Moretz and Bill Cook were presented copies of the book "I Dare You" and their names will be placed on the Danforth Foundation honor roll. The Danforth Foundation award is given each year to two seniors who are most outstandingly four-square in their personal development and who have demonstrated distinct qualities of leadership.

Tommy Owsley received the scholarship award for having demonstrated outstanding scholastic achievement for four years of high school. His name will be engraved on the school's scholarship plaque.

The highest award of the faculty goes each year to the two best citizens of the senior class, a boy and girl who have demonstrated every characteristic of good citizenship. Winners of this year's citizenship award are Pat Proffitt and Tommy Owsley. Their names will be engraved on the citizenship plaque which was started in 1950.

Linda Wey Business Girl Of Year
Miss Linda Wey was selected Business Girl of the Year by the Student Council of Appalachian

High School. Mrs. Lawrence Owsley, retiring president of the Boone Business and Professional Woman's Club presented the Business Girl Trophy to her during Honor Day ceremonies at the high school Saturday.

Linda was selected from the group of seven girls who had been chosen Business Girl of the Month during the year and had been guests of the local club. Other girls sharing honors with Linda were Pat Proffitt, Pat Trivett, Pat Brown, Wilma Moretz, Judy Gragg and Alma Tester. Each of the girls received a key chain with the Business and Professional Woman's Club insignia attached.

In order to be selected Business Girl of the Month, senior girls must have a scholarship average of B or above, have a good citizenship record, participate actively in school affairs, and have definite plans to enter a business or profession after graduation. Three of the girls will enter business colleges, and one will go directly into secretarial work.

Citizen of The Year Recognized

Pat Cook Norris was selected Citizen of the Year by the Student Council. She was recognized at Honor Day Assembly on May 31 and was presented a bracelet engraved with her name and honorary title.

Linda Wey, vice-president of the Student Council, made the presentation. She described Pat as the one person in the high school who has done more than any other student to set a good example of citizenship through her friendliness, her pleasant smile, and her courage. She was selected from a group of twenty-eight students who had been recognized previously as citizens of the Week throughout the year.

Pat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cook of Boone. She was married recently to Earl Norris, Jr., also of Boone.

Rotary Boy Of Year Chosen

Jerry West, who was selected Rotary Boy of the Year by the Appalachian High School Student Council, received a trophy from the local Rotary Club during Honor Day program on Saturday. W. W. Chester on behalf of the club, recognized the three Appalachian boys who had been honored as Rotary Boys of the Month during the National Guard Unit Trains At Ft. Bragg

Forty-five National Guardsmen of Battery 112th Field Artillery Battalion will leave their army in Boone Sunday morning, June 8, at 6 o'clock for Fort Bragg where they will join over 9,600 members of North Carolina's famed 30th Infantry Division for 15 days of active duty field training.

This will be the fourth encampment at Ft. Bragg for the Old Hickory Division since it was organized in October, 1954, as an all-North Carolina unit.

year and presented the trophy to Jerry.

Other boys who were guests of the Rotary Club this year are Tommy Owsley and Jack Hayes.

In order to be honored as Rotary Boy of the Month each boy was required to be outstanding in scholarship with a "B" average, as well as outstanding in citizenship, character and service to the school. From the group of boys who had been selected, the Student Council elected the Rotary Boy of the Year.

the colorful 30th Infantry Division Review Saturday morning, June 14, when the Tar Heel Guardsmen march past for Governor Luther Hodges, their Commander-in-Chief.

Following a day and a half of rest, the guardsmen move to the vast west ranges of the Ft. Bragg reservation for four days of maneuvers.

The guardsmen will return to the R. T. C. cantonment area Friday, June 20, to clean and pack arms and equipment.

Pay call sounds Friday afternoon, and after resting through Saturday, the guardsmen will return home Sunday, June 22.

ARMY FORMS NEW UNIT

The Army has formally announced the organization of a force of more than 15,000 paratroopers and infantrymen to deal with limited war situations "anywhere in the world."

The announcement was specially timed against the background of the recent United States military movements in the Caribbean, the Mediterranean and Europe.
