Stanley Named To State MSU

Charles Stanley, a junior from Hillsboro, was recently elected vice-president of the North Carolina State Methodist Student Union. The election for the 1960 officers took place at the annual state conference January 23-31, at Bennett College in Greensboro.

Charles, who is the Wesley Foundation representative on the Religious Council, attended the Southeast Regional Leadership Conference at Lake Junaluska last summer. He also attended the fall planning retreat at Camp Chestnut Ridge, Chapel Hill.

Approximately twenty colleges sent representatives to the conference. The twenty-five delegates from Boone this year made up the largest delegation Boone has ever had.

There were 9,065 acres of hybrid corn grown for seed certification in North Carolina in 1959.

Church Supper To Be Held

An "African supper" Friday night will climax a mission study for Primary and Junior departments of Boone Methodist Church. The study has been conducted by Mrs. John G. Barden and Mrs. Grace Buckland.

Mrs. Barden has served on the mission fields of Africa as a teacher, and her husband, Dr. Barden, who teaches at Appalachian State Teachers College, trained native teachers in the Belgian Congo.

The study, under the sponsorship of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, has been in progress since the first of the year. Besides regular Sunday School lessons on Africa and missions, the children have been in extended study during the regular church hour, and have heard of many experiences the Bardens had in the Congo. They also learned some of the things that are being done to spread Christianity on that continent.

All Methodist churches have been engaged in a simultaneous study of Africa.

The supper is scheduled for 6:00 o'clock, and parents, families and friends of the Primary and Junior children are invited to attend and bring a covered dish supper that might be representative of an African meal. Most any food, except possibly beef, would be appropriate, Mrs. Barden said. Chicken, corn cooked anyway, and vegetables and fruits are on the menus of African natives.

Those attending are asked to carry the food to Fellowship Hall, and be ready to eat promptly at 6:00 o'clock.

Valentine Party Menus Suggested

Valentine—a word of charm and a season of the year—a warmth of color and imagination. Shaded lights, whispered nothings, that mean just what Dan Cupid intends them to mean when told under the soft glow of a flickering candle.

None of us forget valentine parties. The compelling dominance of red on the purity of whiteness leaves an indelible tracing in our minds.

No longer need the thrifty housewife hesitate to give a party because of expense. The use of suggestions and recipes for dishes that are simple, inexpensive and easy to prepare has prepared the hostess to entertain inexpensively.

Mrs. Rachel Ferguson, food and nutrition specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, suggests a menu for a valentine luncheon or party which will fit any budget.

For the salad, serve rose tomatoes stuffed with chicken salad. Refrigerator tea rolls and coffee will prove delightful to the guest. For a colorful dessert, serve valentine cake and raspberry marlow.

Raspberry Marlow
1/2 pint whipping cream, heavy
Few grains salt
24 marshmallows
1 cup raspberry juice, heated
Drain juice from can of raspberries, saving fruits for another salad, and heat until it steams. Remove from fire, add marshmallows and stir until melted. Add salt. Chill. When thoroughly chilled and slightly thickened, fold in stiffly whipped cream. For valentine luncheon, pour into heart molds and set in refrigerator tray to harden. Unmold on white, heart-shaped lace doilies. Use pastry tube with rose point to make base of whipped cream.

Vote in the April 2 egg referendum.

Cove Creek High School
The Student Council met Friday, January 29, and elected citizens-of-the-month.

Lois Dancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dancy, and Robert Houck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Houck, were chosen.

Lois, who is now a senior, has been an outstanding student at Cove Creek. She is secretary of the Student Council, member of the National Honor Society, president of the Library Science and Monogram Clubs, and co-captain of the girls' basketball team.

Robert is also an outstanding student. He was chosen by his class as "Most Likely to Succeed." The senior class has chosen him to be a marshal at the commencement exercises this year.

The Council also elected Rotary Boy for March.

Richard Anderson, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, was chosen. During his four years of high school, Richard has held many positions of leadership. This year he is vice-president of the senior class, a senior supervisor, and co-captain of the basketball team. He was also chosen as homecoming king for 1959-60.
