Farm Writers, Broadcasters
To Meet In Raleigh Feb. 12

Farm writers and broadcasters will take a look into the future when they assemble in Raleigh Friday (Feb. 12) for their annual Farm Press, Radio and TV Institute for the farm news folks.

This year the farm newsmen will take a look at agriculture in the 1960's. They will also relate any changes they see on the agricultural scene to their own business of writing and reporting.

Dr. Sherman Johnson, chief economist for the Agricultural Research Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, will address the group on the changes he sees in American Agriculture in the '60's.

K. J. Shaw, senior vice-president of the Southern National Bank, Laurinburg, will be reporting on the changes he foresees for North Carolina agriculture in the decade ahead.

TTTS will be the eighth annual TRICK
London — You can't believe everything you see on television, Leonard Mason, 12, now admits.
A TV performer broke up eight razor blades, put them in his mouth, and chewed them with apparent relish. Leonard decided to try to do the trick. He ended up in a hospital with a severely cut mouth.
