

"Craftsmen's Hands Across The Sea" Is Theme Of Southern Highlands Fair

Asheville — "Craftsmen's Hands Across the Sea" will be the theme of an outstanding guest exhibit at the Craftsman's Fair of the Southern Highlands which opens here July 18th. Crafts from India will be featured in an exotic setting. Young people from that country, in colorful saris, will be in attendance, to answer questions about the crafts of their native land, and chat with visitors.

The display, which is exceptionally large and varied, was assembled in New Delhi by Allen Eaton, especially for the Fair. Eaton, internationally recognized authority on handicrafts is a long-time honorary member of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild which presents the Fair.

The guest exhibit is being offered as a sort of good will exchange. Last winter over 300 examples of Guild handicrafts were on display at the World Agriculture Fair in New Delhi. They formed part of the American Crafts exhibit in the United States Pavilion. Thousands of visitors from all parts of India, and other Asiatic countries gave them a warm reception.

Mrs. C. G. Hodges and Mrs. D. W. Cook, of Boone, Route 2, are expected to be among the exhibitors at the fair.

Eaton had been responsible for assembling the American crafts, at the request of the Department of Commerce, and was on duty in the Pavilion for the duration of the New Delhi Fair. Thus he was able to choose personally the best and most representative of Indian Crafts for the Craftsman's Fair in Asheville.

Eaton will give daily talks in connection with the "Craftsman's Hands Across the Sea" exhibit. Those who have heard him on previous occasions already know his deep conviction that handicrafts can be a valuable means of communication between the peoples of the world. He can be expected to stress this point in recounting his experiences in India.

Wool being spun at the high wheel just as in pioneer days. The spinning lady always draws a big crowd at the Craftsman's Fair in Asheville. Other old-time handicrafts which fascinate visitors are vegetable dyeing, weaving, pottery, basketry, whittling, mountain chair making, shuckery, metalwork, and quilting. —Photo by Fred Maroon.

He is an accomplished speaker, of wit and charm. A former newspaper man, he observes keenly, misses nothing, and catches the significance of what he sees. His account of what went on in New Delhi will make good telling.

The Fair, 13th in a series presented by the Guild, will continue through July 22nd. At least 100 southern mountain craftsmen will take part. Demonstrations and displays of more than 40 native crafts, both traditional and contemporary, will be offered, along with other entertainment in the form of folk dancing and singing, with audience participation. The five-day annual event will be held in the City Auditorium. Doors will be open from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m.

U. N. Observer To Lecture On American Foreign Policy

Dr. Richard I. Miller, United Nations observer for the National Education Association, will give a lecture on "Dilemmas in American Foreign Policy" in the auditorium of the Fine Arts Building on Thursday night, July 14, at 8:00 o'clock.

Dr. Miller has traveled extensively throughout the world, spending a year on the instructional staff of the American Community School in Beirut, Lebanon. He also spent six additional months in Beirut as a grantee under the U. S. Smith-Munda program, working with a branch of the Lebanese government. He is the author of several books and articles. His latest is "International Organizations and the United Nations."

Dr. Miller is visiting Appalachian College as a consultant in the International Relations Workshop.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Miller. There is no charge for admission.

W. R. Winkler Farm Home Week Attracts In Area Post Several Watauga People

Raleigh—W. R. Winkler of Winkler Motor Co., Inc., Boone, has been appointed an Area Chairman of the North Carolina Automobile Dealers Association.

Winkler will be the liaison officer between new car and truck dealers in Watauga County and the state organization and the National Automobile Dealers Association, said C. W. Wickham, Tarboro, president of NCADA.

In announcing the appointment, President Wickham said that Winkler will advise the two associations on local happenings and will keep the dealers in his area informed on state and national affairs affecting the retail automotive industry. Winkler will also conduct a joint membership drive in October of both organizations.

"We in NCADA and NADA feel extremely fortunate to have Mr. Winkler's active help," Wickham added, "for his is a vital position in our organization."

Soybean futures lead advance in grains.

Luxury car production close to 1959 level.

Home Demonstration Club women in North Carolina are attending Farm Home Week on the N. C. State College campus in Raleigh.

The highlights of the week's program include:

A reception honoring State College's new Chancellor and Mrs. John T. Caldwell.

Tours to the home of Chancellor and Mrs. John T. Caldwell, to the State Museum of Art, and to John Harris' Garden.

Music furnished by Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Hoffman.

The annual meeting—on Friday, the 35th annual meeting of the North Carolina Home Demonstration Clubs in the Coliseum. Mrs. Gilbert R. English, State president, will preside.

And many interesting classes. The formal opening of the meeting included the devotions given by the Rev. J. Boyce Brooks, pastor of First Baptist Church, Boone.

Attending from Watauga County in addition to Rev. Brooks is Mrs. J. Boyce Brooks, Mrs. T. R. Snyder, Mrs. Howard Carlson, Mrs. Asa Reese, County Council president, and Miss Jean Childers, Home Economics agent.

Smith-Corona enters the photocopy field.

Letter To Editor

Dear Rob:

I appreciate the nice things you said about me in your King Street Column last week, and of the Drug Store I started forty years ago. Back then the hours were long and the work hard, but I enjoyed every minute of it, due to no small part to the fine friends and customers I had to deal with and the loyal employees who worked with me in the store. I shall always remember the friendly talks I used to have with your father, who was one of the kindest and most generous men I have ever known. I have read your paper for the past forty years and always look forward to every issue.

Sincerely,
G. K. MOOSE

Paul Says:

Call or see us for the new dividend-paying Homeowners Package policies. We will be glad to figure with you without obligation.

E. A. Gaultney
J. Paul Winkler
and Ralph Gwaltney
Agents

—Paul

Watauga Insurance Agency

E. A. Gaultney — Paul Winkler — Ralph Gwaltney
Agents
BOX 267 — BOONE, N. C. 2223 WEST KING STREET

What kind of goods? Lots of room for a family of six, plus a vacation's-worth of luggage. Four-door wagons with loads of hauling space (72 cu. ft.). A rattle-proofed, rust-proofed and fully unitized body. Bump-shrugging Torsion-Aire suspension. A nickel-nursing inclined engine that makes every trip an economy run. An alternator electrical system that makes your battery last lots longer. Looks that make the low price tag even more surprising. The kind of goods you'd expect in any car from Chrysler Corporation—compact or otherwise.

Valiant
WE ARE THE MEN WHO SELL 'EM

Highlander Motor Company, Inc.
U. S. Highway 421 — Boone, North Carolina
Dealer License No. 1628

DAVID N. SPAINHOUR

An accident takes you from work.

Does your accident insurance help you meet your living expenses while you're laid up?

For the answer to this, or any other insurance question

SEE

Boone Insurance Agency
INCORPORATED

DIAL AN 4-8732

BOONE, N. C.

