

Three Persons Killed In Traffic Accidents Here During Old Year

Three persons were killed in traffic accidents in Watauga county during 1960, according to statistics kept by the patrolmen stationed in the county. Sixty persons received personal injuries during that period.

The two patrolmen doing duty in the county are George E. Baker and William B. Teem. Their records show that a total of 190 accidents were investigated by them.

Ninety-eight of these were on U. S. numbered highways; 39 on N. C. highways; 20 on rural paved roads; and 33 on rural unpaved roads.

The patrol records also show that 987 persons were arrested for traffic violations in the county during the past year. Not all these were jailed, but in most cases, the arrested were cited to appear in court for the violations.

Speeding was the biggest cause of traffic violation arrests, with 208 persons being cited for this alone.

The long list of other violations included arrests for driving under influence, reckless driving, following too closely, passing on a curve, passing stopped school buses, passing on hill crest, stop sign violations;

Improper equipment such as brakes, lights, mufflers, etc., driving on wrong side of road, no operator's license, expired license, driving after license suspended or revoked, hit and run, transporting liquor;

Automobile larceny, drunk on the highway, and various other motor vehicle law violations.

Farmers Have Better Chance In ASC Program

Tar Heel farmers have an opportunity in 1961 for making better use of their Agricultural Conservation Program than ever before, says Vaughn Tugman, Chairman of the ASC County Committee.

With a continued need to shift production of some acreage of soil depleting crops, farmers have unequalled opportunity to use the Agricultural Conservation Program in the seeding of grasses and legumes. In doing this, cooperating farmers will not only be helping to bring production in balance but they will be building reserves in the soil to meet future needs.

The seeding of grasses and legumes is only a part of the job of most effective conservation. The 1961 Agricultural Conservation Program also contains practices providing for the application of liming materials on farmland, forest tree planting, forest tree improvement, open ditch and tile drainage and several others.

To help farmers use the program to the best advantage, elected farmer-committee are available in every farming community. Tugman urges all farmers to use these men in analyzing the conservation needs on their farm. "Conservation can be the salvation of farmers in their time of need," he said. "They should all go by their local ASC office, discuss their conservation needs with the personnel there and, if their needs can be met through the program, they should sign the necessary papers on that visit."

The 1961 sign-up period is now in progress. Many farmers have already filed requests for ACP cost-sharing. The sign-up period closes January 27, 1961.

NEWLAND FIRE

man Lovett, at the rear of his shop, and R. F. Vannoy, Jr., manager of the Smithy store, at the rear of the building.

Except for a fireman who was out of the fighting awhile because of smoke, no one was reported injured. Even the fireman returned to fighting the blaze before it was brought under control.

The blaze was first discovered by Avery County Sheriff Fred Banner and Bryan Foster, shortly after midnight Tuesday. The fire originated in the block that was entirely destroyed, and spread across the street to Smithy's and Lovett's repair shop when paint cans apparently exploded in the hardware store.

The local and visiting firemen fought the blaze for more than four hours before bringing it under control.

Power was off in most of Newland because of the fire, and powermen were up in the day Wednesday restoring the electricity. Many homes were without heat. Telephone service was also disrupted.

He barked and licked the cheeks of Lucile Ramirez, 12, and her sister, Connie, 15, and awakened them to flames leaping outside the bedroom window.

They in turn awakened their mother and brother and the family fled.
