

Comment On Sports

By PETE FRITCHE
 Washington, D. C. — The collapse of the Chicago White Sox is one of the strange events of baseball's 1961 season. Manager Al Lopez, who has never finished worse than third, where he landed last year, and who had never finished lower than second up to then, is puzzled.

The charge around the league is that Al is going with too many old timers but he says the old timers are playing good ball. Lopez says it's a question of poor pitching when the hitting's good and weak hitting when the pitching's good, breaks, etc.

But something else is involved, too. There was a hint that the White Sox were on the trading block recently but this has been denied. Nevertheless, when a team is reported up for sale it has a disquieting effect on all.

Probably the answer to the White Sox problem is to be found elsewhere. It's not so much that the White Sox have fizzled, but it's a case of the other teams improving. Detroit, which knocked off the Sox six straight to start the season, is vastly improved.

New York is strong. Cleveland is strong. Baltimore is vastly improved over two years ago—when the Sox won the pennant. Minnesota, though not playing like it, is a better team than two years ago in Washington.

Kansas City is no puzzle and Washington is surprisingly tough this year. The competition is just tougher. The Sox won two years ago not by beating New York but by beating Cleveland in the crucial last games of the season. That was Al Lopez paying his respects to his former team.

But the Sox must beat the Yankees, if they are to win—as must everyone else. They didn't do it last year and they are having a hard time beating anyone this year. Senior Lopez is in a pickle. He is headed for his worst finish. It will be something new for the venerable skipper, unless he can manage one of those late come-ons—as he tried so hard to do last year.

BARS TRAINING OF CUBANS

President Kennedy apparently has put an end to United States invasion training of anti-Castro Cubans and his reservations on the idea of a total United States economic embargo against Cuba.

Instead, he is reaching out for joint action with the other American republics to try to block Communist inroads in the hemisphere.

This driver slowed just a little as he contemplated sharp turn ahead in Sports Car Hill Climb Sunday.

Home Hints

By RUTH CURRENT
CHEMISTRY AND THE HOME sends the following hints to us—Fashions for men:
 British-inspired patterns in fabrics stand out in spring lines—Polais, Paisley prints, and stripes.
 Light weight blends of "Dacron" polyester fiber and wool show a strong preference.

Sport coats in a new fabric of "Dacron" and flax offer the texture of linen without its sensitivity to wrinkling.
 The demand is for brighter patterns with white and off-white backgrounds.

The ever-popular olive tones appear in lighter shades—there are new names like pewter, heather, or just plain earth.

There is a wide choice of knit shirts and sweaters. So-called ventilated knits are designed to give men the greatest sweater comfort.

 Casual knits can be teamed with casual slacks. Keep an eye on all new materials and read carefully the consumer label for the right information and care of garments and materials.

GRAIN PROGRAM PROCEEDING
 Administration farm officials are waxing enthusiastic about the reception they say the emergency food grain program is receiving from farmers.

Reports from corn and sorghum gain areas indicate farmers are standing in line to sign an agreement to retire at least 20 per cent of their corn and sorghum acreage. Aim of the program is to reduce surpluses.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE-MEN ... That's a pretty good description of our National Guard, and I'd like to salute the 475,000 men who stand ready to defend our country like the Minute Men of 1776. Yes, the Army and Air National Guard are poised and equipped for any test, not only in National Defense but on the local scene as well. In times of emergencies—and you never know when one will strike—over 5,000 National Guard units are prepared to lend a hand. Let's all support our National Guard who defends us against aggression and disaster.
