

Speaking Of Golf

By JOE MAPLES

Last week proved to be the best week of play so far for the 1961 season at the Boone club and I'm sure the same can be said of Blowing Rock and Linville. Locally, every day was crowded except for Friday when it turned cool and rainy.

Jimmy and H. J. Cottrell left Monday for Fayetteville where they will play in a junior tournament, as guests of a young friend they met while playing in the Carolinas Junior at Greensboro recently. Both boys have been playing some good golf lately, turning in scores in the low 80's and I think H. J. had a 78.

Thursday of this week there is to be a Pro-Amateur tournament at the Gaston Country Club in Gastonia which precedes the annual championship of the Carolina Golf Association. Qualifying for this event will be on Friday with the tournament lasting through Tuesday. Dave and Charlie Smith are co-favored to win this and if Billy Joe Patton decides to enter, he will have to be considered one of the top contenders. He is still not happy with his game, although he played well in the Southern Amateur. His play in the N. C. Amateur at Wilson did not make him too happy. He seems to be running hot and cold and when he's hot, he will be hard to beat.

Roger Thomas won a sixty dollar golf bag in the blind bogey held this past week-end, shooting a net score of 80, which tied him with several others. John Broyhill broke the tie by pulling Roger's name out of the hat.

Bill Greene who has been working as my assistant this summer, has accepted the head professional position at the Spruce Pine golf course and will be leaving us in about a week or ten days. We had hoped to have Bill with us all summer, but he received a very good offer from the people at Spruce Pine, one that he could not afford to turn down and I'm sure everyone wishes him the best of luck in his new job. He will be in charge of the course as well as the golf shop. They are building an additional nine holes which will give them 18 and will be ready for the 1962 season.

Comment On Sports

Washington, D. C. — The big question in the American League today is whether the Detroit Tigers will fold. For months now some of the experts have said the Tigers would come unglued—that they were above their collective heads.

But as July 4th rolled around, the Tigers were still right in there, at grips with the Yankees over first place, and had not yet collapsed. They did not collapse in the face of challenges from the hottest clubs.

When Cleveland was red hot it was Detroit which cooled the Indians off. When Chicago had won twelve straight, it was Detroit that stopped the Sox. When the Yankees first challenged for the lead, in June, Detroit knocked them off two out of three. (That was the series between the two clubs prior to the July 4th double-header in New York.)

So the question naturally is: "Are the Tigers going to fold at all?"

Paul Richards said—at the beginning of the season—that he thought the Tigers were playing over their heads that they really weren't as good as the standings indicated. Richards—a top manager—has paid dearly for those slurs.

The Bengals have been most unkind to the Orioles. Even in the two Baltimore home series, the Tigers have decimated the Orioles, this last time winning the series and stopping a five-game Oriole winning streak at the same time.

It could be a race between the Tigers and Yankees down to the wire. That would bring back shades of 1950, when the Yankees nosed out the Tigers, who at that time had been winning pennants every five years with some regularity (1935, 1940, 1943).

In 1945 the Tigers edged the Yankees and Browns—the old St. Louis Browns. In 1940 they edged the Cleveland Indians, who were then known as the "Cry Babies."

Know The Weather

What are the easiest summer clues to observe in deciding the probability of rain during the day? One of the easy clues used in summer concerns dew. If there is a heavy dew in the morning, the chances are that no rain will occur—unless it is an isolated thunder shower.

Another easily-observed clue is the height of the small, white cumulus clouds in the early morning. If they are very low, you will probably have thundershowers during the day.

Therefore, if there is heavy dew in the morning, coupled with very few white cloud puffs, and those very high, your chances of a dry day are quite good.
