Even an intelligent man makes a fool of himself about some things.

Price fixing is wonderful when it doesn't affect what you have to sell.

Bloodmobile To Visit City

By JOE MCCLUNG

I remember well how each spring it was the custom for grandmother to say that a little sulfur and molasses would make a body feel a heap better all year through. I know that I would always find a reason to make myself scarce whenever I would hear those remarks and manage some way to change the topic of conversation whenever it might pop up again.

Today, there is a way to start your body and cells to work and not only will you feel so much better in one way but in another, that you have given a pint of blood that will aid to cure someone might be ill or even in research. Giving a pint of blood to the Red Cross will come back to you in so many ways. It is almost like a never ending cycle.

So often we hear: Does it hurt to donate blood? Or, Do you feel any pain? Well, the answer is simply that donating a pint of blood is not painful or an uncomfortable experience. Most donors feel no sensation at all during the time a pint of blood is being withdrawn, and really only a very small percentage of them have any sensation afterward.

Donors are selected with care and accepted only if they are able to pass a brief but pertinent physical examination on the day of donation.

Because of the high standard of donor criteria and the careful selection of donors, only normal healthy people are allowed to give blood. In this group there are no harmful effects from donating a pint of blood.

I recall speaking to someone not long ago who had given blood and he received word of thanks from the recipient whom he had never known. But they saw his name on the donor tag and made it a point to thank him for the part he played in the recovery of their loved one.

How wonderful it is to know that when you donate a pint of blood that you are helping in so many ways.

Plan to visit East Hall on the College campus, next Tuesday, between the hours of 11:00 and 5:00 and donate a pint of blood. You will be helping someone else and you to feel so much better.

Give—Give of yourself.

Reading is a good habit, if you have the time and know how to do it.

THE FUTURE ECONOMY

The United States has ample resources to support a $2,000,000,000 economy by the year 2000 and apparently can continue to grow far into the Twenty-first century.

This was the conclusion of a huge and authoritative report published by Resources for the Future Inc. after a five year study.

The report boasts that, after taxes are paid, the middle family will have a spendable income of $11,000 instead of today's $5,000 average.

Blowing Rock High Senior Enters Awards Competition

Albert B. Coffey, Blowing Rock High School, has been nominated for the annual Achievement Awards program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE).

For the sixth year, the Council is conducting the Awards program throughout the nation to grant recognition to outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English. The writing abilities and literary awareness of each nominee will be judged by local and state committees. NCTE will announce the finalists at its annual Thanksgiving convention, and will send their names to every U. S. college and university with the recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance.

Colleges and universities welcome the announcements of these superior students in English each year and honor the recognition extended to them. According to a survey just completed by the Achievement Awards program, 86% of the institutions polled take into consideration the award announcement when inviting, accepting, and recommending program finalists for scholarship aid. Reports of finalists from previous years show that 99% of them attend colleges of their choice and more than 70% of the total students honored receive scholarship aid averaging almost $1,000 per year.

According to James R. Squire, executive secretary of NCTE, the Achievement Awards competition is part of a comprehensive program undertaken by American teachers of English from the primary to the graduate school to develop verbal competence. The Council thru its periodicals, books, and committee reports, seeks to contribute to a national educational program for improved instruction in English.

Founded in 1911, the NCTE is a professional, non-profit organization of teachers of English at all levels. Currently, the Council's membership is over 78,000.

A RECORD

Jamestown, Pa.—In the competitive field of spots, every school tries to set some kind of a record. The high school team at Jamestown completed its basketball season with an unbroken—but not perfect—record of 19 losses and no victories.

But this is not the end of the story. Following the last game which resulted in a 75-30 defeat, the unlucky school concluded its 63rd consecutive loss!
