

Clubwomen Give Check To Hospital

Mrs. Richard Barker, president of the Junior Woman's Club, and Mrs. John D. Broyhill, member, are shown (right to left) presenting a check from the club in the amount of $201.19, to Mrs. Jack Groce, Watauga Hospital Administrator. The money will provide two overbed tables and a rocking chair for the hospital. The money was raised from a rummage sale held by the club. Mrs. Barker expressed appreciation on behalf of the Jr. Woman's Club to the townspeople for donations of articles and contributions.

ASTC Has Many In Peace Corps

From Chile to Liberia, Appalachian State Teachers College is well represented in the Peace Corps.

Appalachian teachers have gone into these various countries to teach and work with the people.

Dr. Edward Gibson, Peace Corps liaison officer at ASTC, said that five people from Appalachian are now serving overseas as volunteers.

Clyde Reid Ingle, who was an instructor in the department of social studies at ASTC, is serving in the Philippines. His wife, Eva, is with him. The Ingles are associated with the University of Manila. In a sense their activities are but a continuation of the educational work done by the United States in behalf of the people of the Philippines between the Spanish-American War and the granting of their independence in 1935.

Barbara Bean, an elementary major at ASTC, is serving with a group of volunteers in Liberia. Nina Miller of Hickory, a product of ASTC, is teaching in Chile.

Jimmy K. Wilhelm of East Bend has been assigned to a teaching situation, but the name of the country has not been received by Dr. Gibson.

Dr. Gibson said, "The Peace Corps makes no effort to recruit students who have opportunity to finish their college work; on the contrary, it constantly stresses the need for young people to complete their schooling before volunteering."

"In these dangerous times the Peace Corps is a challenge that we stay-at-homes ought to understand. Our courageous young people do not hesitate to take the risks and they deserve our heartfelt understanding."

TV'S GOOD POINT

Bayside, N. Y.—Television is helpful—sometimes!

It was bedtime for a 4-year-old boy and his mother entered with storybook, cigarette and ashtray. When she sat on the bed, the boy said, "Go on out in the living room and finish that cigarette, Mom. I don't want any fires in here."

The warning of a TV fireman who appears on a local children's program had struck home.

About Your Home

Today bedrooms lead a round-the-clock life. High building costs have moved the dining room into the living room, have combined the kitchen, laundry and breakfast rooms and made the study double as a guest room.

For this same good reason, a lot of smart people are making the bedroom take on twenty-four hour living.

Children's bed rooms, fitted with built-in toy space and a desk and a television will become their favorite room and they will want to stay there.

If one room must do for two children, use an accordion partition, which folds back to convert the room into one big play-room, at night, when the partition is closed, the children have individual sleeping quarters.

The modern master bedroom has a sitting-room look. A writing desk and comfortable chairs make it an inviting spot to relax in during the day.

Bathrooms, with double basins and a screened-off toilet and bathing space, serves as two bathrooms for the family.

These new ideas are working for hundreds of families in the United States. If you are thinking of building, you will be wise to give some thought to this new business of making one room do for two.

FHA Authorized To Make Loans To Develop Recreational Facilities

The Farmers Home Administration, under the provisions of the Consolidated Farmers Home Administration Act of 1961 as amended by the Food and Agricultural Act of 1962, makes loans to groups of farmers and rural residents for shifts in land use. These loans can be used to develop recreational facilities, grazing areas and forest lands. Technical management will be provided with each loan.

serves farmers and rural residents either by direct use or by economic benefits. They have legal capacity to borrow and repay money to pledge security for loans and to operate the facilities or services to be installed with the loan funds. They are financially sound and will be effectively organized and managed.

These loans are for rural residents who live the year round in the open country or a small rural community with population not more than 2500.

Loan funds may be used to finance shifts in land use including: conversion of cropland to grazing areas and forest and the conversion of land to uses that promote better conservation of soil and water resources. Development of recreational areas, including the development of ponds, lakes, picnic areas and parks, sports areas, camping facilities, forest trails, fishing waters, hunting areas, access roads necessary to connect recreational areas to public roads, parking areas in connection with recreational facilities and other purposes.

Loans are scheduled for repayment within the shortest time consistent with the borrower's ability to pay. The maximum term on all loans is 40 years.

All loans to associations will be secured in a manner which adequately protects the interest of the Government. Mortgages will be taken on association facilities when State laws permit. Bonds or notes pledging taxes, assessments or revenues may also be accepted as security if they meet statutory requirements.

More information concerning the above type loans may be secured at the Farmers Home Administration office located in the courthouse in Boone.

BOTTOMS UP.—Dr. J. W. R. Norton of Raleigh and Mary Sink of Lexington are refreshing themselves with a product in which they both have a keen interest—milk. Dr. Norton, state health director, is chairman of June Dairy Month activities in North Carolina this year. Miss Sink, a freshman in the Department of Food Science at North Carolina State College, is the reigning North Carolina Dairy Princess.

7th FLEET ON MOVE

The United States 7th Fleet is moving once again into position as a warning to the Communists threatening a take-over of Laos.

The fleet, under the command of Vice Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, numbers about 125 warships ranging in size from super carriers to landing ships and will remain in a close position should they later get orders for a military position.

Abroad the vessels are 60,000 Navy men and Marines.
