Woman's Club Installs New Set Of Officers

New officers were installed at the regular general meeting of the Boone Woman's Club, held in the Adult Assembly Room of the Boone Methodist Church Thursday evening, May 23, at 7:30.

Mrs. Lee Reynolds was installed as president; Mrs. D. L. Wilcox, first vice president; Mrs. Wayne Richardson, treasurer; Mrs. Frank McCracken, recording secretary; and Mrs. Bert Ellis, reporter. Mrs. A. E. South is second vice president, and Mrs. J. V. Caudill corresponding secretary.

Mrs. E. L. Ray, installing officer, substituting for Mrs. W. C. Greer, who was unable to officiate, presented each officer with a Roman chariot which she constructed of purple and gold art paper, with narrow yellow ribbon connecting the chariot to a five-point gold cardboard star, which symbolized the five major goals of the club, namely:

to help promote interest in the school-hospital bond election; to cooperate in the town beautification contest sponsored by the Northwestern North Carolina Development Association; to promote further interest in the senior citizens group; to increase the building fund and get plans and an estimate of the cost of a building; and to cooperate in all civic programs of improvement and progress in the town.

A review of the monthly program made by each program chairman included such topics as town government and services, recreation, arts and crafts, our educational system, our hospital, our cultural and religious opportunities, a minority group panel discussion, industry, Christmas in our community, the club banquet, and the installation of officers.

Mrs. Homer Brown, retiring president, was presented a past president's pin from the club, with Mrs. A. E. South making the presentation.

Beaver Dam Home Club

The Beaver Dam Home Demonstration Club met May 23 at the home of Miss Bessie Johnson. Mrs. Oscar Danner presented the program on "Storage and built-ins" using slides to illustrate different designs. The subject was most helpful to those planning new homes or improving the storage problems in their present homes.

The president led the members in repeating the collect and led in prayer.

An Achievement day discussion resulted in the club selecting "A Quilt Show" as the project for the club. Scouting for objects near 100 years old to be displayed during the Charter Granting Celebration of North Carolina in June revealed several interesting pieces that can be used.

Four ladies reported points won by meetings attended and assistance given. Mrs. Cecil Swift plans to attend the leaders training school on freezing of fresh fruits and give the demonstration in June.

Miss Ann Moore Displays Paintings

Blowing Rock Garden Club

The Blowing Rock Garden Club meeting was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Rumples Presbyterian Church on May 21. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. H. Reineking. Mrs. Ward Courtney gave the club collect as the opening prayer. Mrs. W. M. Shabean called the roll. 19 members and 8 associate members were present. Each member answered the roll call with the name and a short descriptive comment of a wildflower. This was most interesting and informative; especially so with the exhibition of wildflowers indigenous to this area which Misses Nancy and Bertha Beyer exhibited.

The clean-up campaign which the city of Blowing Rock is sponsoring was discussed by the members. It was suggested that any complaints of unsightly spots be made to Mrs. Reineking or Mayor Hardin.

It's interesting to note that one of the club's members, Miss Nancy Beyer, donated the Squire Boone Cabin to the State Historical Association. The cabin now stands in the Daniel Boone Botanical Garden at Boone. The club is donating a plaque to be placed on the log cabin.

A discussion was held on importing bulbs from Holland for sale by members to raise funds for the club. The motion was made and carried and Mrs. T. R. Snyder was instructed to place the order. These bulbs will be available at the proper planting time.

A most interesting program on wildflowers and medicinal plants was given by Nancy and Bertha Beyer. After the meeting boxes of wildflowers were offered for sale. One of the more interesting plants exhibited was the Viennese Flytrap. Proceeds from the sale of plants will go toward the purchase of the plaque.

Mrs. Jack Gordon, Mrs. H. R. Reed and Mary Jane Wilfong were hostesses and served coffee and tea with an assortment of delectable cookies. The hall was decorated with arrangements of flame azaleas.

Bethel Home Club News

Mrs. Howard Lawrence was hostess to the Bethel Home Demonstration Club for the May meeting.

The meeting was opened with the devotional, given by Mrs. Ivan Dikman, and prayer by Mrs. Clyde Perry. Plans were made for certain club members to attend a leadership training school the week of May 27. All plans were made for club achievement day to be held in October.

Mrs. Lillian H. Danner, Home Economics Agent, discussed and showed slides on "Built-In Storage". She said, "The tendency today is not towards closet catch-alls, but towards built-in storage designed especially for the articles that are to be stored." Mrs. Lawrence served a dessert plate during the social hour.

Dear Jane And Rachel

The weather in Boone has been unusual chilly for the past week. We have had our furnace going since last Tuesday night and it is still cold... thermometer standing right on 54 degrees now. I heard we had considerable frost Friday morning, but no great damage was done so far as I can see. Our iris and peonies are in fine condition, but I haven't heard how the vegetables and tobacco fared. Good, I hope.

Your daddy and I went to a dinner party at the Lenoir Country Club last Sunday night and had a mighty good time. We were the guests of the Kelleys, who entertained in honor of Sam Adams of West Palm Beach, Florida. He was here visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor Adams. I do hope you can get there on a Sunday night some time. Their variety of food astounds me and I always get too much of everything. It is delicious... and to be surrounded by good friends at the same time is wonderful.

Rachel, we are delighted that you have decided to slow down some and come home for the summer. In addition to your needing a rest, we need you here on the Democrat. As we told you earlier... we would prefer that you rest, but you assured us you would be going strong in a week. I keep thinking it will take you as long to recuperate from a long siege of hard work as it would me... but young people snap back so much quicker. It will be good to have you!

Eight new houses are under construction between Maymead Block Company and M & R Furniture Co. and four others were recently completed. I haven't had time to go out in the residential areas of Boone to see what is going on, but I hear houses are springing up all over. From our front porch we can see a new one in the gap on Howard's Knob. You never saw a town and county grow like ours.

On Thursday I had a real treat. Went to a bridge-luncheon given by Ruth Coe and Natalie Meeks. I had been anxious to see the Coe home for some time, in fact, ever since they had finished remodeling and decorating. I walked in expecting to see the group in the living room which has been done in soft green and white, but Ruth usered us on into their new den... and it was a lovely sight to see. Most of the guests had arrived before we did and they were sitting around the room in which five tables had been set up for play. I mention this so you can get an idea of the size of this room... and there was room enough for at least two more tables. The room is paneled in walnut and the east and west is enclosed mainly with glass. The carpet is of soft green with matching draw drapes, and a large fireplace is in the end of the room. Looking west (just outside of the den) one sees a beautiful swimming pool, and a lovely view of Rich Mountain. The view to the east reaches almost to the golf course. I'm not going to tell you any more about the Coe home, which will be shown during the "Tour of Homes" in August. If folks in this area enjoy seeing pretty things as much as I do, they won't miss this tour. And, in addition to enjoying the home I met ever so many people I had not met before, and had a delicious luncheon. It was a good day!

Mary Sue and David Horton and their children, who have been in Ft. Benning, Georgia for several months, came Friday night to visit relatives. Dave, who is a captain in the Air Force, will leave soon to attend Mohawk School in Ft. Rucker, Alabama. Mary Sue and their children, Susan Laine, 5, Butch, who is 3, and Mary Hunter, 16 months, will stay the two months with Matt (Mrs. Paul Walsh). I am anxious to see all of them. Matt says that little Mary Hunter "rules the roost."

I had a big surprise yesterday afternoon, when I went over home to visit my daddy and Aunt Hatt. Your uncle Glen and Aunt Clara (Davis of Akron, Ohio) had arrived for a week's visit. Both are looking well, their sons are getting along fine. Bill is still with Goodrich in Akron and Jim is in his senior year at the University of Ohio, where he has made quite a record as a member of the track team.

Jane, you and Art take it easy on your trip to New York, and please give my love to the Kridas. Do hope you can spare enough time to come by here, but if you can't, we will see you in July.

The carpenters were not able to start my remodeling project last Monday morning, but they are here now and already have one partition torn out and are now getting the walls patched and ready for the painters. The living room is going to be quite large and I can't wait to get the floors refinished, new baths in and etc. Got loads to do, so must run and get at it.

Love,
Mom

Music Workshop Will Be Held This Summer

The 12th annual Music Education Workshop will be held on the Appalachian State Teachers College campus July 29-August 9, it was announced recently by Dr. William Spencer, head of the department of music.

This workshop is held in cooperation with the American Institute of Music Education.

Dr. Spencer said that the workshop is conducted for music teachers and supervisors, classroom teachers and administrators. Student participation and a realistic approach to music are keynotes of the program. Music supervisors will gain many helpful ideas on how to conduct in-service training with their own teachers.
